TAX PROBLEM FACES GERMANY

BERLIN, Oct. 15. (Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The moot question of emigration forms a puzzling problem in Germany, all the more so because of the huge taxation that is planned.

The empire is divided into two unequal camps—those who favor the emigration of between fifteen and twenty million Germans because they feel that Germany can only recuperate if it has a smaller population to nourish and support, and the vastly larger group that feels emigration must not be allowed because the farms are needed here to take part in rebuilding and in paying taxes.

Financial experts estimate that a man represents to Germany a capital of 20 times his annual earnings. As the average German workman now earns 240 marks, he would be 4,800 marks. If 20 million emigrate each year as has been suggested, then the Fatherland would be millions poorer each year, says the expert, and that much industrial capital is permanently lost. As the workman is the industrial property Germany still possesses, emigration is a life and death question for Germany.

Judge Hamberger of Aachen, one of the many who have been discussing the emigration problem recently, declares that the new emigration bureau of the government must restrain each would-be emigrant at least six months, not only so that his case may be investigated, but that he may have a chance to change his mind.

DECORUM MUST BE OBSERVED SAYS FACULTY

CREELEY, Colo., Nov. 13.—Publication of the rules of the Colorado Teachers' college restricting "funning" and other recreation of the 400 girl students, has caused a wall of dismay to go up from the student body. The rules were recently drawn up by Dean Helen G. Brown of the women's department.

Among other things, the rules provide that in no instance shall men and women students be allowed to reside in the same building. The period between 8 and 10 p. m. must be observed as study hour, and all students must be in their rooms by 10 o'clock at night, except Friday and Saturday nights. In order to attend parties and functions which are likely to continue beyond 10 o'clock on Friday and Saturday nights, the girl students must obtain the consent of the dean.

Calls from young men will be restricted to Friday and Saturday nights. Automobile riding in the evening is forbidden except by consent of the dean. All persons who take students into their homes for board and lodging must report periodically as to the "habits of study, sleep and recreation if these are in any way likely to injure the health, reputation or character of the student, to interfere with her work or to bring discredit upon the State Teachers' college."
