SERBIA FAST RECOVERING

BELGRADE, Oct 17. (By Mail)—Serbia is on its feet again. The people have recovered from the immediate effects of the war. The crops this year are exceptionally good. There is now plenty of food in the country. There is, however, a shortage of clothing, shoes and fabrics of all kinds. Farming implements and machinery of every variety also are much needed.

doctors and certain essential medicines, but this need gradually is being met by the American Red Cross physicians, who have established free dispensaries and clinics at many points. Reports frequently go out from Serbia that the country still is in dire need. The writer, who has traversed the whole country and investigated conditions among the population, is in a position to say these statements are groundless. There is poverty in the country, to be sure, but it is a poverty that is chronic to Serbia, as it is to most other Balkan countries. There will always be a small percentage of people who, either because of disability or indifference, do not work and who become charges on the public. The flour sent in by the United States Food Administration, the remoter districts there is lack of by the American Red Cross, the generous contributions of the Serbian Relief Fund, and the unending aid of the British relief societies, has put the people in a condition of health and comfort scarcely known before. It is probable Serbia will be able this year to export a part of its fine cereal crops. The rich Banat region which was wrested from Austria has produced one of the greatest crops of corn and wheat in its history. Some of the enormous yield will be sent to other countries in trade for coal, oil and other needed articles.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Estelle Carrier celebrated her birthday, by inviting a number of specially selected friends to join her in a chicken dinner at the White Pelican hotel on Tuesday, Armistice Day. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. McReynolds, Miss Marie McMillan, and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith.

WAR DEPARTMENT HALTS DELIVERY OF HAND BOMBS

Delivery of 15,000,000 hand grenades to the Treasury Department to be converted into savings banks for the stimulation of thrift and sales of War Savings Stamps has been held up by the War Department and contracts which the War Department had with the Treasury Department for supplying the grenades were cancelled, according to a telegram received from Washington by C. A. Farnsworth, associate director of the War Loan Organization in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. No reason was given for cancellation of contract beyond the fact that the War Department has "determined that the distribution of hand grenades as souvenirs should be discontinued."

The grenades in question, known as Mills bombs No. 11, were ready for shipment to the American forces in France when the armistice was signed. At the request of the Treasury Department the War Department agreed to turn these bombs over to the Treasury Department for conversion into savings banks, and immediately upon announcement that they would be distributed to the purchasers of War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates, millions of orders flooded in. In the Twelfth Federal Reserve District alone banks and trust companies through which the grenades were to be awarded had ordered nearly 100,000 of the souvenirs. These and all other orders throughout the nation will have to be cancelled. In its telegram to Farnsworth the Treasury Department stated that Certificates of Achievement signed by Secretary Glass will be awarded instead of the grenades to all school children who worked during the vacation to obtain a bank and who bought enough War Savings Stamps to entitle them to grenades.

Among the people of the south side of Aran, off the coast of Ireland, there is an odd belief that ill luck is sure to follow if a mother sews the first garments for her offspring. The garments for the little one must come from a distance, and are the coarsest makeshift possible. The oldest rags are considered to be the safest as a preventative against any sort of evil.

Among actors there is a general superstition that whistling on the stage during rehearsals is sure to mean a "frost" on the first night of a production. In operatic circles the presence of a yellow clarinet in the orchestra is enough to give the leading vocalists fits, for its failure is certain.

According to tradition, the whole bed of the sea between Cuba and Porto Rico is strewn with ships laden with gold, silver and gems. Ever since the 18th century, in fact, a whole Spanish fleet, with cargoes of silver has been embedded there.

Thanks to the efforts of the various Bible societies, there is scarcely a nation or tribe on the earth today which cannot read the Scriptures in a language known to it.

Canada is equal in size to the United States and Mexico, but has a population less than that in the three cities of New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

Roland Watt celebrated his birthday in a fitting manner on Armistice Day, by giving a dinner to a select company of friends invited for that occasion. Those present were Miss Alice McCourt, Miss Twyla Head, W. J. Moore, Geraldine Watt, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Watt. All had a delightful time.

In Uganda the average cost of a wife is four bulls, a box of cartridges and six sewing needles.

Are You "Down and Out?"

Did you know that when it comes to figuring out the right Christmas present for each member of the family most men mope around in a dark-brown study and then finish in disgust by buying the wrong thing? Well! This is generally the case, but there are presents that are equally as good for all the members from baby up to grandmother. Take a good Victrola or Player-piano for instance—why, they bring pleasure and educate in music at the same time. When in doubt remember, buy music for Christmas. Convenient terms if necessary.

ONE DISMISSED, TWO HELD FOR ASSAULT

After hearing of the evidence in the action of the People against John Floden, Tom Millett and Alec Pardeau, charged with a statutory offense against Mrs. Anna Worth, Justice Chapman dismissed the charge against all defendants and ordered their re-arrest on a charge of assault and battery against the complaining witness. On motion of H. M. Manning, attorney for the defendants, the assault charge against Millett was then dismissed, freeing him entirely. Hearing of Floden and Pardeau on the assault charge began this afternoon at 2 o'clock. It was stipulated that testimony taken in the first hearing would be admitted in the assault case. This testimony included a statement by Mrs. Worth that Pardeau struck her and that Floden encouraged the attack.
