JUST ARRIVED

This New Reo Six Enjoys a Tremendous Vogue

No other model ever turned out by the Reo shops has met with such an enthusiastic reception as this new Six.

And the approval seems to be bestowed about evenly among the four models.

Sedans rival Touring Cars in popularity, while the 4-passenger Coupe vies with the 3-passenger Roadster for favor among buyers.

This new Six is accepted by the Reo clientele as if 'twere made to measure for each buyer.

It is, in fact, the kind of car you asked us to build—a Six of Reo dependability and low upkeep.

Its beauty of outline and excellence of finish; that wonderful oiling system and the general mechanical quality of this product, has made it first choice of discriminating buyers.

As a result, our one problem is to obtain enough of any model to supply the local demand.

Our quota is proving almost hopelessly insufficient. The factory must allot the output impartially among its many distributors—so we must be satisfied.

So only the alert—those who order early—can hope to be of the elect who will possess Reos.

Tardy buyers must be denied.

If your order is in our hands at once, we can promise you a definite and a reasonably early date of delivery.

But don't delay—today won't be a minute too soon.

RULES FOR FIREPROOFING COMMUNITY

While Klamath Falls has had its Fire Prevention Day, the danger of fires has not passed. Unceasing vigilance is the price of freedom from fires with consequent loss of property and, too often, of life, declares Fire Chief F. C. Miller, who submits the following rules for minimizing the annual fire loss, as prepared by the state fire marshal.

Have the rubbish taken out of the basement. Open up the window or door of the barn and ventilate the green hay.

Wrap our frozen water pipes with hot cloths instead of thawing them with fire.

Take time to look at the old chimney.

Or see that the floor joists do not rest on the chimney brick, or allow wood furring near the chimney breast.

Make the attic as clean as the kitchen.

And be sure that the matches are where children can't reach them.

Keep away from gas leaks with a lighted candle.

Every oily rag is liable to spontaneous combustion. See that they are placed in metal receptacles.

Old moss-covered roofs are a menace to property.

Report every defect in the electric wiring to the company at once.

Every elevator shaft should be protected from draft.

Gasoline is always safe to let alone.

Oil of every kind should be kept in safety cans.

No moving picture house is safe without a properly constructed operating room.

Furnish yourself with a metal waste can.

Inspections of every kind should be invited.

Rust on the stovepipe is the sign of perforation.

Every one should know where the nearest fire alarm box is.

Pay attention to the rubbish in the closets.

Remove all waste paper from frame structures.

Openings to flues should be protected by metal fire stops.

On every occasion warn children against the danger of fire.

Follow these few rules and you will have done your bit to show how to make Oregon fireproof.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

WHEN MIXED WITH SULPHUR TO BRINGS BACK ITS BEAUTIFUL LUSTRE AT ONCE

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Among the non-Burmese tribes that live in Burma women are not thought much of. The Banyak, or Banyuags, for instance, will not marry unless they are ordered to do so, and the prospective bridegroom often has to be dragged to the bride's house.

Medical authorities declare that butter is the most nutritious article of diet, and then bacon comes next.

WOULD REDUCE NUMBER OF GAY NAVY UNIFORMS

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The example set by the United States government in discontinuing several varieties of navy uniforms and dress is being cited as worthy of imitation by agitators who favor economy in state dress. Numerous requests made recently by court officials for increased salaries are attributed by these agitators to greatly heightened costs of the ceremonial attire with which they must outfit themselves before accepting office.

The cost of a court dress for any one attending one of the King's levees can scarcely be less than $625. A lord lieutenant's ceremonial dress, with its royal red swallow-tail coat, silver buttons and lace embroidery brings a tailor's bill of at least $650. The robe of the Lord Chancellor is valued at $1,000.—It is a gorgeous affair of ermine and silk. The most expensive of all is the official garb of the Earl Marshal. It contains 1,700 yards of gold embroidery and is worth approximately $1,150.

Red Sails.

Violet seas under deep skies and dotted on the horizon from Quiberon to Belle Isle the red sails of the Brittany fishing boats. Along this stretch of the Atlantic coast red sails have been known immemorially. They existed in Caesar's time. In the "Commentaries" occurs the remark that the people of the coast made their sails of tanned skins sewn together. Either they had no flax or did not understand its use, but the more likely reason in Caesar's opinion was that they knew no ordinary sail would stand against the ocean winds, owing to the great weight of their boats. In time the Breton fisherman exchanged his heavy boat for a lighter one and then he hoisted the canvas sail. Different in texture to when Caesar conquered Gaul, the sails of the Finistere seas are of the same tawny hue. The Breton is the most conservative being in the world. The color of the sails of his forefathers must be the color of his sails, and of those of his son. On this point nobody will be found to disagree with him.

Primitive Ferries.

There are rivers in India which are subject to sudden and heavy floods, and over these it is necessary to maintain a ferryboat service. In some cases the method of conveying a person across the river has remained the same for several centuries, as in the following case. A cord having been fastened to a large, elongated gourd, and a smaller gourd being also tied to it, the native gets astride, and, laying his breast upon the larger gourd, paddles himself across with his hands and feet. Women, too, avail themselves of this singular contrivance, under the escort of a ferryman, who, similarly mounted, takes his charge in tow, carries her basket, with perhaps a child in it, on his head, and conveys them safely across.
