

REO

A Business Getter

A REO "SPEED WAGON" is more than a mere adjunct to your business.

IT DOES MORE than merely supplant the old-time, slow, expensive, uncertain horse equipment.

IT DOES MORE than merely hold the trade you have.

IT IS A SALESMAN in its own way, for in these days when "time is the essence" of every contract, and the one big consideration in every transaction between men, the speedy service performed by this Reo brings the trade to you.

IT DOESN'T MATTER whether you are a farmer, or a truck-gardener dealing in perishable articles; or a merchant—either wholesale or retail—competing for trade with alert rivals;—

HOURS COUNT—yes and minutes!—and the difference between profit and loss frequently depends upon your delivery system.

HE WHO HAS the best delivery service—the quickest and the most dependable—has the call.

NOT SPEED ALONE — though its speed possibilities have proven its greatest advantage, hence the name;—

BUT RELIABILITY—that reliability that is Reo;—

THESE QUALITIES have so thoroughly demonstrated themselves that our one problem is to obtain enough "Speed Wagons" to supply all those who want Reos.

FOR REMEMBER this: You can't always get a Reo on the minute. Demand is tremendous—always has been for Reos.

SO ONLY WAY is to place your order at once—then we can give you a definite delivery date.

WILL NOT SUBMIT TO BEING SHORN OF MUSTACHES

PARIS, Oct. 9. (By Mail.)—Walters in seven or eight of the largest cafes on the Paris boulevards have been stirred to angry protest by orders to shave their mustaches or quit.

One of the bitterest grievances the waiters had when they went on strike last April was the edict of the employers to the effect that waiters must sacrifice their mustaches. The waiters triumphed and the employers agreed they should be permitted to adorn their visages as they pleased. Now an attempt to revive the ban on mustaches has roused their indignation.

"The waiters are sufficiently humiliated to have to earn their living by extending their hands to receive what often proves to be a ridiculous tip, without being forced to forego one of the privileges of manhood," said the Secretary of the Union. "Really the ferocious employers know little about psychology. Should they maintain this iniquitous measure destined solely to give their staff a servile appearance toward the customer, they are picking out a poor time for it. Whether through snobbishness in the hope of appearing original, customers choose to make their faces as glabrous and depilated as that of the Americans or aim to copy the two comas on the upper lip of a well-known moving picture picture actor; that is their business. We must insist that the conventions entered into at the time of the strike be respected, that the mustache has always been in vogue in France and to suppress it is an indignity and diminishes the morale, value and patriotism of the personnel of the cafes."

READING THE BIBLE ALOUD

Much Truth in Charge That Beautiful Text is Too Often Interpreted in Unintelligent Manner.

It is strange that the reading of the Bible aloud in an acceptable manner should present—apparently—almost insuperable difficulties, remarks a writer in the London Spectator. It is written in the finest English of the finest period. It concerns subjects of universal and undying interest. It is endeared to every listener by tradition and recollection. But the evidence proves it is hard to read well. Men especially interested in philosophy and religion, especially trained in Hebrew and Greek literature, specially anxious to bring the truths of Scripture home to their audience, read it for the most part in abominable fashion.

We cannot insult them by supposing their weekly task an easy one. We cannot, on the other hand, deny that the Old and New Testaments offer great scope for fine reading. The task of the curate at lectern is like the task of the executant before the piano. The one has great literature before him; the other great music. The audience waits for his interpretation. As a rule, with many and marked exceptions, the curate runs through his work in such a mechanical and uninterested manner as would empty a concert hall if imitated by his brother artists. He reads heroic passages as though they were dull parish notices, arguments as cut-and-dried snippets of dogmatism, and shrewd proverbs as sacred poetry.

BEAR USED DIRECT METHODS

How Pet Grizzly Satisfied Curiosity and Appetite in Eminent Satisfactory Manner.

Mr. Enos A. Mills tells us a story of a bear, whom he calls Miss Grizzly. She was a pet bear, in a sawmill in the Medicine Bow mountains, was never tamed by the men and, therefore, had a uniformly good disposition. They did not try to teach her tricks, but she seemed to pick them up, one of her favorites being "cart-wheeling." This meant that she would curl her nose behind her toes, have one of the men start her with a little push down the slope near the mill, and then over and over she would roll. This she appeared to enjoy greatly. But the funny incident was this: One day a teamster brought her a bottle of catsup, "standing erect," writes Mr. Mills, "she took it deftly in her fore paws. She was greatly interested in it—probably in the color. In turning it about, she caught sight of a floating air-bubble. Inverting the bottle from end to end, she tried to make this out; she held it between her eyes and the light, she shook it back and forth close to her ear. Then going directly to a nearby log, she brought the bottle down upon it and catsup splashed in all directions. Her curiosity satisfied, she seemed to enjoy holding up the catsup."—Christian Science Monitor.

MUST THROW OFF POISONS

All Living Things Suffer if They Do Not Obey Inexorable Law of Nature.

Living things are constantly throwing off materials which, unless removed, will act as poisons. Crops must be rotated, because the soil conditions produced by any one crop prevent the development of the same kind in immediate succession.

The same thing is true of the human body. It is constantly throwing off, through the skin and lungs, materials which must be removed in order that the body may maintain its vigor and health. The quality of air we breathe and that envelops our bodies determines in large measure our physical, intellectual and emotional conditions and activities. The best air for the body is that which is cool, dry and kept constantly in motion.

When sleeping the air should be kept in circulation as much as possible, although one should not sleep in a draft. Fatigue is a poison which is thrown off by sleep and the sleep, to do what is required of it, should be quiet and restful.
