STANFORD WANTS A BIGGER SPHERE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Nov. 25.—"This institution must chose before long whether it will continue its present system of education or devote itself to higher education only," said David Starr Jordan, chancellor emeritus of Stanford University, speaking of Stanford before a meeting of the Cosmopolitan Club here recently.

Dr. Jordan said it is his wish to see Stanford specialize in higher education. By this plan, the first two years of preliminary work, may be taken elsewhere, preferably at a junior college.

PAYS TO STAY IN SCHOOL

Fact Shown in Dollars and Cents by Figures Compiled by Bureau of Education.

The value of staying at school is stated in dollars and cents in figures recently compiled by the bureau of education and distributed to boys and girls throughout the country by the children's bureau.

From a study of a large number of actual cases it has been found that at twenty-five years of age the boy who remained in school until he was eighteen had received $2,000 more salary than the boy who left school at fourteen, and that the better-educated youth was then receiving more than $900 a year more in pay.

"This is equivalent to an investment of $18,000 at 5 per cent," the statement said. "Can a boy increase his capital as fast in any other way?"

"From this time on the salary of the better-educated boy will rise still more rapidly, while the earnings of the boy who left school at fourteen will increase but little."

The Green Sawyer.

Gen. Marlborough Churchill was talking in Washington about the work of the intelligence department, of which he is the head.

"It is delicate work," Gen. Marlborough Churchill said, "work that requires experience. The inexperienced intelligence officer—and we had a lot of him during the war—is apt to be about as useful as the young college man in the lumber camp."

"This college man was set to work on a cross-saw with an old-stager. He sawed pretty well for an hour or so, and then his strength gave out. Still he kept on, or tried to keep on, but all of a sudden the old-stager stopped."

"'Son,' he said, 'I don't mind yer ridin' on the saw, but if it's jest the same to you, I'll ast ye to keep your feet off the ground.'"

Unfounded Report.

The following advertisement appeared in the Birmingham press in April, 1896: Thirty guineas reward. Whereas a malicious and unfounded report having been industrially propagated (tending to injure the characters of James, John and Thomas Collings), stating that each have at times appeared in disguised Habit (representing the devil) with an intent to extort money from the fearful, whoever can discover the author of this report shall receive the above named by applying to James Collings, Cottage lane, near the sand pits, Birmingham, April 14, 1896.

Marvelous Memories.

It is claimed for Mr. Timmins, the Shakespearean scholar who has just died, that at the age of twenty-one he recited the whole of "Hamlet" from memory. Among the professional reciters such a feat would not be regarded as very remarkable.

The late Samuel Brandram knew by heart practically the whole of Shakespeare, and Shakespeare was only one of his many favorites.

In his "Nights With the Poets and Eminentists" Brandram drew from all sources, read nothing and was never known to forget a line.—London Chronicle.

An Endless Chain.

"We're very unsettled in our flat," said the worried-looking man at the club.

"What's the trouble?" asked his friend.

"Well, our children keep the next-door neighbors awake, so they pass the time by playing the piano; that makes the pet dog next door to them bark, and that keeps the children next door awake, and there's so much noise through the building that there's no chance at all of our children going to sleep."

Babe Ruth Drops Bat for Cigar Business

and Is Learning It From the Bottom Up

It's all right to break home-run records and draw down a five-figure salary during the baseball season, but Babe Ruth, champion slugger of them all, has to occupy his time in the winter—and add to the bank account. He has gone in for cigar manufacturing in Boston. So that he may know all about what his money is doing, Babe is learning the business from the bottom. He is shown here rolling a cigar.

Very Much Convalescent. Helen had the whooping cough, and so was not invited to her little friend Margaret's birthday party, though the list included all the other children in the neighborhood. On the morning of the affair the telephone girl might have overheard the following conversation:

"Hello."

"Hello, is this Margaret Hillfield's house?"

"Yes."

"Is this you Margaret?"

"Yes, Who is this?"

"This is Helen Marten. You are going to have a birthday party today, aren't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, say, Margaret. I'm all over the whooping cough now."

Origin of "Tenderloin." The name "tenderloin" was originally applied in New York city to the nineteenth police precinct. The credit of naming it is attributed to Capt. Alexander Williams, who was placed in command of the precinct September 30, 1876. When he took charge he was asked how he liked the change. "Great," was the response. "I've come from a rump district (an east side district) to the tenderloin," and tenderloin it has remained ever since. The newspapers of other cities soon followed the example of the New York journals in so designating similar districts of their own cities.

WOULD MERGE TWO HOLIDAYS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 25.—A resolution urging the national day of Thanksgiving be changed from the last Thursday in November to November 11, Armistice Day, was adopted recently by the Utah Manufacturers' Association.

The association in its resolution said it believed that no greater occasion has arisen since the signing of the Declaration of Independence for the giving of thanks nor that there could be a greater reason for the giving of thanks than the signing of the declaration of the peace of the world.

Other state industrial organizations have been asked by the association to approve their action.

The coming year will mark the semi-centennial of the founding of the foremost public art galleries in America—the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston and the Corcoran Gallery of Art in Washington.

Our Profit from all Sources

The American Public does not believe all it reads. It insists on being shown.

When Swift & Company says its profits are only a fraction of a cent per pound, many believe we are not telling the whole story—that there are hidden profits.

Here Are The Facts:

Our net profit on our entire business for the year 1918 amounted to only 1.76 cents per dollar of sales, or less than one-half cent per pound, and

1. Included profits from hides and all other by-products.
2. Included profits from all sundry side-lines.
3. Included profits on all subsidiary corporations.
4. To sum up—it included the entire profit from every source of revenue in which Swift & Company has any interest. There are no other profits.

Furthermore our accounts have been checked and certified annually by leading public accounting firms.

Swift & Company is sincerely trying to get the facts before the public. If you have any questions regarding our business—write us—and we will do our best to answer them. In discussing the packing business be sure you have the facts and that you are not unintentionally spreading misinformation.

If you get the facts we have no doubt as to the verdict.
