Where "Loot" Originated.

The word "loot" came into the English language by way of India, and is supposed to be derived from the Sanscrit "lota," signifying booty. Originally all booty taken from the enemy in war pertained to the crown of the victorious nation, the title thereto being regarded as indisputable. The crown was supposed to dispose of these spoils of war according to its pleasure, bearing in mind the services of the captors of the matter. This was, indeed, the basis of prize law at sea. But at every international congress at which the laws of war and of mutual relations came under discussion it was agreed to exempt from seizure private property on land and to restrict confiscation to the national property of the foe.

Art for Many.

"I do not want art for a few," said William Morris, "any more than education for a few, or freedom for a few"—and civic art is essentially public art. It has been likened to "a fire built upon the market place, where every one may light his torch; while private art is a fire built upon a hearthstone which will blaze and die out with the rise and fall of fortunes.

"Beauty in art is truth bathed in the impression, the emotion that is received from nature. Seek truth and exaltitude, but with the envelope of sentiment which you felt at first, if you have been sincere in your emotion you will be able to pass it on to others."—Industrial Arts Magazine.

Consistency.

A foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds, adored by little statesmen and philosophers and divines. With consistency a great soul has simply nothing to do. He may as well concern himself with his shadow on the wall. Speak what you think today, in words as hard as cannon balls, and tomorrow speak what tomorrow thinks, in hard words again, though it contradict everything you said today. Ah, then, exclaim the aged ladies, you will be sure to be misunderstood. To be great is to be misunderstood.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

The Higher Learning.

The schoolmaster was calling on an indignant mother.

"For my part," babbled the good woman, "I can't deceive what on earth eddification is comin' to! When I was young, if a gal only understood the elements of distraction, provision, replenishing, an' the common dominator, an' knew all about the rivers an' their obitaries, the currants, an' the dormitories, the provinces an' empires, they had eddification enough!"—Success.

"Helpful Hints" MAKING DEPOSITS BY MAIL

THIS is quite simple. First decide whether you wish a Checking Account for the handling of business funds, or one for the Savings which will bring you a good rate of interest. Then you may send in your money safely by cash by registering it with your local mail carrier, or, by check, draft or money order. In the latter cases it is better to endorse these "payable to the First National Bank" so that they could not be cashed by other parties.

We have by-mail accounts from many places in Klamath county.

In England a tendency to overlook the old pre-war barriers to so-called humble positions is manifesting itself among girls of education. For example, a girl with a university degree is serving as head waitress in the tea-room of a large London department store, while a physician's daughter, who by way of war work acted as a coachman and drove a carriage, recently advertised for similar employment.

Probably the foremost woman of the American turf is Mrs. Payne Whitney of New York. She has been a devoted follower of racing for nearly a decade, and in her time she has developed some first-class horses, mostly steeplechasers.

An Arab laughs at the idea of walking in the street with his wife.

Women in Quebec are preparing to renew their demands before the next legislature for the right of municipal and provincial suffrage.

The process of refining sugar was probably an invention of the Arabs. A Venetian merchant learned the secret from the Saracens of Sicily, and sold the secret for 100,000 crowns.

Russia leather is the skin of the horse or calf tanned with the bark of the birch, which gives it that particular smell which is so grateful to the senses, and seems to preserve it from the attacks of insects.

On the evening before an Armenian wedding, presents are exchanged between bride and bridegroom.

The United States produces more petroleum than all other countries combined.

Possessing a Christian name that is probably without a duplicate in all the world is the rather unique distinction enjoyed by Mrs. Allan Mackenzie, a well-known woman in English society. Mrs. Mackenzie, whose husband was killed in France, is a daughter of Lord and Lady Knollys who have long been on terms of intimacy with the British royal family. Her Christian name, Louvina, is happily compounded of the Christian names of Queen Alexandra's three daughters—the Princess Royal (Princess Louise), Princess Victoria, and Princess Maud, now Queen of Norway.
