

300,000 Maxwells Precede This Post-War Car

FOR five years the talent of great engineers was devoted to the Maxwell chassis, and as that is now a work of rare mechanical excellence through magnificent Post-War improvements, the Maxwell has been improved wonderfully in appearance.

But you did not know, unless you sat behind the wheel, how easy it drives, what a comfortable casting effect there is in the front axle, how snugly it clings to the road with its heavy rear axle, how decisive and sure is the emergency brake, now located on the transmission shaft!

Perhaps you have seen this Post-War Maxwell and, like so many others, have stopped short in your hurry and given it a good looking over. Its simply beauty, its delightful grace, its clean cut, sincere appearance, its daring simplicity you noted, and your respect for Maxwell became more definite.

Unless you have sat behind the wheel of the Post-War Maxwell you know but little, for there is a new lure about this car that, once experienced, impresses you beyond words.

There are 300,000 Maxwells before this—all able cars. This is greater in many ways except in price—only $985 f. o. b. Detroit.

PRIVATE OWNERSHIP

Superiority Demonstrated in World War

E. N. Hurley, who served throughout the war as chairman of the United States Shipping Board, was asked what in his job had impressed him most. He answered:

"The efficiency of private ownership and operation as compared with public ownership and operation—ALL PRODUCTION CENTERS ON THE COST—you can't get away from that. Shift responsibility for the cost, for the best possible result under a given set of circumstances and you shift the responsibility for efficiency. On the Shipping Board, we shifted this responsibility from private shipbuilding concerns to the Government.

"With the shifting of responsibility of cost to the Government, that keen interest in results which follows private initiative was gone. THERE YOU HAVE THE WHOLE PROBLEM AS BETWEEN PUBLIC OWNERSHIP AND PRIVATE OWNERSHIP STATED.

"I don't know of a government-owned plant that produces more than two-thirds efficiency. In the years to come some way may be found to keep incentive to best endeavor in men under government ownership, but until that is discovered that system may be classed as a failure."
