MEXICAN CROPS REPORTED SMALL

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 23. (By Mail.)—Exceedingly pessimistic reports of crop and harvest conditions in Mexico have been received by the Department of Agriculture. The unusually heavy and persistent rains have destroyed at least forty percent of corn and bean crops, the two national staples, and unless immediate measures are taken both as to conservation and replanting the department says there will be a real shortage of those foods. Prior to the long season of wet weather crop reports indicated the biggest harvest in many years.

VENDORS SELL VARIED WARES

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 13. (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Conditions in the republic which have crowded a million persons in Mexico City, or more than 300,000 above its normal population, have greatly increased the number of itinerant merchants who set up shop where their whim wills. It is impossible to find a street in the city where some vender has not set up a stall. A person desiring to outfit a house can buy almost everything needed without placing foot within a regular shop. Let a prospective buyer merely hint that he is in the market for something and he is immediately besieged by a crowd of energetic salesmen who dilate in machine-gun Spanish on the worth of their wares.

Sunday is the busiest day for these merchants. They foregather principally in the plazas, spread their goods about them and patiently wait for customers. Their numbers are augmented by men and women, boys and girls all of them selling candies, fruits, shoestrings, pottery, tobacco, drinks, bright colored ribbons, shoes, hats, dogs, cats, gophers and the dozens of varieties of food of which chili is the most important component. The plazas present an animated appearance. Bands are playing, whistles are blowing, newsboys call their editions, a man with a wheel of chance beseeches the credulous to try their luck, a boy with a huge basket balanced atop his head offers sweetmeats at five centavos each and following him comes a seller of ice cream with his frozen dainties tucked away in a container which he juggles perilously on his head never loses a spoonful, and above all shines a glorious sun which gives no hint of brooding problems of existence.

It is a happy life the native leads on Sunday when with a few centavos he may fill his stomach with sweets, bask in the warm sunshine and listen to music furnished by a Mexican band, than which there is no better in any land.

A man from the United States, who, on a recent Sunday morning took a seat in a plaza, within a few minutes had his shoes shined, his nails manicured, his breakfast served, his morning newspapers delivered, his measure taken for a suit of clothes and was offered an assortment of diamonds and opals at a bargain. He concluded that there may be more modern methods of conducting business but there certainly is none more picturesque than that employed by the outdoor merchant.

"Babe" Ruth, the home run king, has been pastiming in the California Winter League, and incidentally exhibiting to the native sons some of the real thing in hitting.

Johnny Dundee was going at a terrific pace this fall until he went up against Mel Coogan. No matter how often the pair meet Mel seems always to have it on the "Scotch Wop."

Fred Fulton, the Minnesota heavyweight, is out of luck. His latest setback is the cancellation of his bout with Joe Jeanette at Paris.
