Electric Circular Saw.
Among recent electric tool novelties is a portable circular saw, provided with the handle of an ordinary hand saw. The tool weighs only 12 pounds with its one-quarter horsepower motor, uses a 3-inch crosscut or rip saw, has a suitable depth gage and is provided with an aluminum base grooved to slide on a guide track when necessary. The blade is covered with a safety guard.

Italy's Lumber Requirements.
Destruction of the invaded district of Italy, although bad enough, has not been so great as anticipated. Unless there is a tremendous industrial development as a consequence of the war, it seems likely that even with favorable freight rates Italy's requirements in the lines of rough and sawn lumber for ordinary commercial use will not exceed 2,000,000,000 to 2,500,000,000 board feet a year.

HAPPENINGS OF 100 YEARS AGO

- The year 1920 will be the centennial of:
 - The discovery of quinine.
 - The death of Daniel Boone.
 - The invention of percussion caps.
 - The incorporation of Jersey City.
 - The invention of friction matches.
 - The admission of Maine to the Union.
 - The invention of the daguerrotype.
 - The Spanish revolution under Riego.
 - The accession of George IV. of England.
 - The celebrated trial of Queen Caroline.
 - The passage of the Missouri Compromise bill.
 - The election of James Monroe to the presidency.
 - The first appearance in America of Edmund Kean.
 - The introduction of India rubber shoes in America.
 - The first manufacture of carpenters' steel squares.
 - The beginning of navigation on Lake Michigan.
 - The dedication of the first Protestant church in Detroit.
 - The organization of the General Synod of the Lutheran church.
 - The first appearance of anthracite coal as an article of commerce.

- The establishment of the Roman Catholic diocese of Charleston, S. C.
- The organization of the first congressional committee on agriculture.
- The completion of the great national road from Cumberland, Md., to Wheeling.
- The fourth United States census, which showed a total population of 9,633,322.
- The establishment of the first steamship line between New York and New Orleans.
- For Better Education.
The honors for literacy must, alas, go to Germany, where the illiteracy percentage is far less than one! England follows close behind. But in the United States nearly 6 per cent of the people can neither read nor write our language. This sounds bad, but it really isn't when you consider our heavy immigration.
Educational bureaus throughout the country are constantly bettering conditions, for greater literacy means greater labor production. In many counties traveling libraries are sent out—wagons fitted up with book shelves.
But careful education of the children is the most important branch of all, and so many cities provide conveyances for crippled children to go to school in.
When we consider that India and Egypt are over 92 per cent illiterate, our fast decreasing six looks very small.—Popular Science Monthly.

The Uplift.
A senator, apropos of the huge quantity of army ment which it was proposed should be sold to the packers for less than half the price paid them by the government, said:
"Why sell this meat to the packers? Would it not be better to sell it to consumers direct and thus aid in reducing the cost of living?"
The senator added bitterly:
"The high cost of living! We heard a lot about the uplift movement to be expected as the result of the war, but we didn't expect the uplift to be concentrated on prices."
