DEER PLENTIFUL

MILES CITY, Mont., Dec. 15.—Deer are so plentiful in the Custer National forest that he has at times seen from 50 to 60 from his cabin door, says Forest Ranger G. L. Dodge of the Poker Jim station. Under protection the game has multiplied rapidly and now the deer travel in large herds. The forest is dense and little visited and most of the game there, it is said, probably never has heard a rifle fired.

PERPETUAL MOTION

BOZEMAN, Mont., Dec. 15.—The problem of cheap power has been met in a novel manner by the Montana state college here. Oak Forbes DeKo Beats, a bull owned by the college, runs a tread mill that furnishes power for a cow milker at the college dairy barn.

SHIPYARD STRIKERS OWN $7,200,000 U. S. SECURITIES

Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps Help Support Idle Workers

One of the reasons the striking shipyard workers in seven plants around San Francisco bay have been able to hold out for their demand of eight cents an hour increase is that collectively they own more than $7,000,000 worth of Liberty Bonds and about $200,000 in War Savings Stamps. "The Liberty Bond and War Savings Stamps holdings of our men have certainly stood us in good stead," said Frank Miller, secretary of the San Francisco Iron Trades Council. "When we win our demand I am going to recommend that the men save that eight cent an hour increase and invest it weekly with the Government in War Savings Stamps. They provide an ideal way for the workman to save."

C. A. Farnsworth, associate director of the War Loan Organization for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, said: "Secretary Miller's figures on the Liberty Bond holdings and their investment in War Savings are conservative and there is no doubt that they have aided greatly in enabling the men to support themselves while on strike. The men can borrow the face value of their Liberty Bonds without sacrificing the bonds and they can cash in their War Savings Stamps."

The Government's War Savings Stamp is the working man's weapon against a hand-to-mouth existence. It helps him get ahead.

NOTICE

Annual Election Enterprise Irrigation District

Notice is hereby given that the regular Annual Election will be held on Tuesday, the 13th day of January, A. D. 1920, within the Enterprise Irrigation District of Klamath County, Oregon, for the purpose of electing one member of the Board of Directors of said District, and to determine whether a certain contract is to be made by the Enterprise Irrigation District with the United States of America for a water right for the lands of said Enterprise Irrigation District, wherein the maximum amount to be paid for said water right is to be sixteen dollars per acre for each and every acre irrigable within the boundaries of said district, and the proportionate part of the annual operation and maintenance cost of the project works used in conveying the water to said district.

The polls to be opened at 8 o'clock on the morning of the election and to be kept open until 5 o'clock in the afternoon of said day.

The Board of Directors have specified the following polling places in said district for said election: The residence on the Old Varner Ranch, known as the John Smart place, situated in Section 2, Township 33 South, Range 9 East of the Willamette Meridian. Given by order of the Board of Directors of the Enterprise Irrigation District, this second day of December, A. D. 1919.

INCREASES YIELD OF WHEAT

Experiment of Treating Seed Electrically Meets With Success in England.

An interesting experiment as to the effect of electrically treating seed wheat before sowing has been carried out at Bodsham Green, Elmstead, Kent, during this season, by W. F. Pledge of the Victoria flour mills, Ashford, the London Times states. The variety of wheat chosen for the experiment was "red standard" and two adjoining plots were sown on November 13 and 14 last at the rate of three bushels to the acre, the seed on one plot being electrically treated and that on the other not. The land was treated exactly alike all through the year.

Recently the growing crops were inspected by a party, including R. L. Robb, lecturer on agriculture at the Southwestern Agricultural college, Wye, Kent.

A marked difference between the two plots was noticeable, the wheat on the treated portion being much the more vigorous in growth and habit, and promising, so far as the experts present were able to judge, a yield at least 20 per cent higher than that of the untreated plot. There were evident signs of rust, too, in the untreated crop, and it was significant fact that the other plot was, at any rate at the present stage, entirely free from this disease. It was the general opinion of those present that electricity is likely to become a very important factor in the cultivation of agricultural crops and that great developments along that line may be confidently anticipated in the near future.

HEART OF THE DOUGHBOY

Experiences of War Taught Him to Tackle Every Problem From Rock-Bottom Up.

Most of our soldiers went to the other side young boys. They came back men hardened by fire and experience. They will tell you that they have "figured out a new bunch of dope," or that they have "learned a rule or two about the little game of life." What they mean is that they have gone down to fundamentals and tackled every problem from rock-bottom up.

It was with the understanding that the doughboy is a new man and a problem in himself that Col. Arthur Woods, assistant to the secretary of war, laid out his plan of campaign for the war department's gigantic effort to get jobs for returned service men. "This," he told his assistants, "is not merely an employment idea. It is a new experiment in psychology. We must understand the soldier, the sailor, the marine, right down to the ground, learn their problem minutely and take initiative pains to restore them to civilian life with as little friction and as much celerity as possible."

New Photo Dark "Room."

The dark room, necessary evil, has always been the one rigid obstacle to the perfect flexibility of the photographic art. Now, however, the operator can carry a complete dark chamber along with him, and develop his exposures when and where he pleases. The "room" described and illustrated in Popular Mechanics magazine packs in a case less than two feet long, about a foot wide, and four inches thick. It opens to a height, in the larger size, of 18 inches in front and 13 inches in back, with walls of light-proof fabric. Elastic cuffs at the side admit the operator's hands, while he looks through a hood in front, equipped with two shutters that are opened by pressure on the hood, and instantly closes on release. Trays and plates are inserted through a ruby-glassed door in the top.

Laborer Builds Organ.

That workmen who are earning big wages possess a grand piano or even two pianos is evidence that a love of music is one of the first pleasures indulged in when a man begins to have more money than he wants for necessities.

I could tell you of a workman in a Midland town, who, being of a musical and mechanical bent, has built himself a small organ in his living room. The instrument possesses a reed stop and several pedal notes, and is a marvelous piece of ingenuity.

Why Not?

Clymer Jeffries, Jr., of Williams, Ariz., four and one-half years of age, recently acquired a small dog and a few days later the following conversation occurred between him and his next-door neighbor: "Mrs. M., I want you to keep your chickens out of our yard." "Why, Clymer, what do you mean by that?" "Well, I have a dog over here, and if your chickens come over here I am afraid that he will get the chicken pox." An epidemic of chicken pox was on at the time.
