

TWO NOTORIOUS ANARCHISTS IN BAND DEPORTED

Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman Among 250 "Reds" Comprising First Shipment Sent From the Country—Another Batch Going

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The Soviet ark, Buford, sailed for an unnamed Russian port yesterday with 249 radical deportees, among others Alexander Berkman and Emma Goldman, aboard. She will be followed before she has opportunity to land on the other side by a second band of "reds", according to the best information obtainable today.

It was said the second batch of deportees will probably be embarked this week. The department of justice has 60,000 radicals listed. How many will be deported is unknown.

Led by a woman who declared her husband had been deported yesterday on the Buford, a mob of 150 "reds" today attacked the entrance of the Ellis Island ferry in an effort to reach fellow radicals still awaiting deportation. A riot call was necessary before the police restored order.

The deportation of Emma Goldman and her devoted companion, Alexander Berkman, ends a joint career of 30 years in the United States during which they preached the overthrow of government by violence. He spent 16 years and she three years in jail, but they were never punished for the part their teachings played in attacks by others on life and property.

Berkman served fourteen years for shooting Henry Clay Frick and two years for urging young men to abstain from registering for the draft early in the war. Miss Goldman was in prison two years for opposing conscription and one year for inciting to riot. Berkman was never brought to trial on an indictment for murder in connection with the Preparedness Day bomb outrage in San Francisco; Miss Goldman was acquitted of illegal distribution of birth control literature.

Their joint activities as publishers of the anarchist magazines, "Mother Earth" and "The Blast", suppressed during the war combined with their addresses at anarchists' meetings, helped cause the assassination of President McKinley, the government charged in its deportation proceedings. The confession of Czolgosz described the influence which Miss Goldman's writings had on him.

Their influence was traced in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times, Matthew Schmidt and David Caplan, now in jail with others for that crime, were "of the Goldman clan," Attorney General Palmer has said.

They were suspected of receiving German money to oppose preparedness by the United States before the United States entered the war.

They co-operated with German spies in endeavoring to promote a revolution in India during the war.

They were the pioneer radicals in the United States. Now there are 60,000 Reds here and 472 disloyal foreign language newspapers, according to Attorney General Palmer.

COURT ADJOURNED; NO BEER DECISION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The supreme court of the United States today declared a recess until January 5, without having handed down an opinion on the constitutionality of the sections of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act affecting the alcoholic content of beer. The court ordered the government to show cause on January 5 why original proceedings should not be instituted by the States of Rhode Island and New Jersey to have the constitutionality of the national prohibition amendment determined.

FISH AND GAME BOARD EXPLAINS FINLEY MATTER

(Statement of F. M. Brown, secretary to the Fish and Game commission, given under direction of the commission.)

At the regular, public meeting of the Fish and Game commission held December 11th, adjourned from the 10th, Commissioner Jack brought up the subject of State Biologist Finley continuing in service—a matter which had been under consideration for some time. It was unanimously voted that owing to the inability of Mr. Finley to harmoniously coordinate his ideas and work with the ideas and policy of the Board that the office be declared vacant on January 1, 1920.

Messrs. Fleischner and Jack were designated a committee to consider the advisability of filling the office. It was also voted that Commissioner Stone and Governor Olcott be advised of the action and that they be requested to express their sentiments for record. This was done. The action taken was approved by them, the board being in full accord in the matter.

When Mr. Finley was notified of the attitude of the board he requested that he be given an opportunity to resign. All the members agreed to this course except Mr. Jack, who had not been heard from Wednesday. This agreement of the commissioners was to be officially transmitted to Mr. Finley Wednesday noon, Dec. 17, but before this could be done the fact of the vacancy in the office was published in the early editions of the afternoon newspapers by Mr. Finley.

The board appreciates Mr. Finley's talents and ability and greatly regrets the lack of harmony which necessitated this action for the good of the service.

Census enumerators are needed in a number of Klamath county precincts, says W. A. Terrall, district census supervisor of Wasco, Oregon, in a request to Capt. J. P. Lee, county assessor, for information that will aid in filling the vacancies.

When the examinations for enumerators were held by Postmaster Delzell last month only three applicants were on hand. The postmaster followed the prescribed rules for examination and forwarded the results to Supervisor Terrall. There is no local information as to whether the applicants passed or not.

Applicants, says the supervisor, may get blanks on which to file their applications at their nearest post-office. There is not time to be lost as the census-taking starts on January 2.

FIREMAN DRAGGED UNDER TENDER; IS NOT BADLY HURT

S. T. Kestersen, fireman on the Strahorn railroad, had a narrow escape from death this afternoon when a Southern Pacific freight train backed into his train in the local switch yards. Kestersen was under the tender, according to report, when the cars bumped, and the impact started the Strahorn train moving, dragging the fireman along the track for about 20 feet. He received a gash on the arm and lacerations and bruises on different parts of the body but according to Dr. A. A. Soule, who was called to attend him, there were no broken bones or other serious injuries.

NEW YORK TEARING DOWN WAR ARCH

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—The war is over for New York. Workmen are now pulling down the great white "Victory Arch" at Fifth avenue and 23rd street, erected that America's victorious legions returning from France might march beneath it in triumph. The "Welcome to Our Returning Soldiers" signs are being removed from the municipal buildings. Orders have been given for the removal from the parks of the many "Welfare Huts" and other temporary edifices erected by soldier welfare organizations.

The big wooden battleship still "floats" in the center of Union Square, her Quaker guns dominating the reaches of Broadway and Fifteenth street, but is being used solely for peace-time recruiting for the navy. There is no indication when she will be scrapped as obsolete.

SAYS PRIVATE RECLAMATION NOT FEASIBLE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22.—Although the secretary of the Interior believes that it will be a wise and beneficent thing to reclaim the swamp lands of Klamath Lake and that region, he does not see how the reclamation service can undertake that work without legislative authority being specifically given and until funds for such a project are in hand.

This expression of opinion was obtained from Secretary Lane by Senator McNary and was forwarded by him to J. H. Carnahan, president of Klamath Post No. 8 of the American Legion. Carnahan has been urging that the swamp lands should be opened up for settlement to the soldiers and sailors of the late war, irrespective of whether they are reclaimed or not, contending that the settlers can themselves unite and drain the land for agricultural development.

To this A. P. Davis, director of the United States reclamation service, replied that the plan is not feasible as it takes years and a good deal of capital to dike the lands and it is not likely that soldier and sailor settlers would be in a financial position to undertake that work. At present he says the lands are suitable only for grazing and for that purpose large undivided tracts are necessary.

MAIN LINE CLEARED.

Main line train movement, blocked Saturday by the derailment of No. 54, passenger, near Redding and a cave-in in Tunnel No. 10, in the same vicinity, was moving again unimpeded today, said the local Southern Pacific office this morning.

STATE C. O. C. OUTLINES 1920 WORK PROGRAM

Land Settlement Is Vital Feature of Next Year's Development Campaign, Says Secretary in His First Annual Report to Directors

Land settlement is the major activity to which the Oregon state chamber of commerce should devote its energies during the coming year, says George Quayle, general secretary in his first annual report, which will be presented to the organization at their meeting in Portland, December 29, 30, 31.

This, he says, was the main problem on which the directors centered their work during the last year, but while the idea has been kept in the foreground and greatest activities have been along the lines of securing settlers for farm lands, many other large questions of importance have come before the organization. A definite program for 1920 is suggested in the report along the following general lines:

Roosevelt Highway—Naval Base—Right now—more than at any time in the past—immediate action of the citizens of Oregon is urged in securing appropriation from Congress toward construction of the Roosevelt Highway to protect our coast line, and the early establishment of the naval base at the mouth of the Columbia River. Even though the present attitude of Mexico may not bring about serious trouble immediately, forces are at work that will ultimately require this highway and base to insure our safety.

National Forest Roads—Secure co-operation of effort from the Western states in an appeal to Congress for an appropriation of say, one hundred million dollars for building roads through National Forests, the amount to extend over a term of ten years. Reclamation Fund—Persistent effort should be made to secure from the Federal Government at least as much money as has been paid into the Federal Government by the State of Oregon under the Reclamation Act and has been diverted from this state to other states. The total of this fund now being $6,500,000. Advocate that we get solidly back of the movement for a substantial recommendation for reclamation and urge all possible effort in behalf of the Soldier's Land Settlement bill before Congress.

Railroads—Special effort should be put forth in an endeavor to have the Natron cut-off completed, which will connect the country of Klamath and Lake Counties with Willamette Valley. Give such assistance as is possible toward the early construction of the Strahorn System of railroads thru Central and Eastern Oregon.

The construction of the Natron cut-off and the Strahorn roads will be the means of connecting Eastern and Western Oregon; undertakings well worthy of the best efforts of the State Chamber.

State Guarantee—Suggest a bill be presented to the Legislature in which the State of Oregon will guarantee principal and interest for a given time on bonds issued under proper restriction for irrigation and drainage projects and reclamation of cut-over or logged-off land in the State.

State Bonding Measure—Recommend State Chamber go on record as favoring legislation authorizing the State to issue bonds for roads in an amount not to exceed 4 percent instead of 2 percent limitation under the present law. Advertising—Suggest an extensive advertising campaign for establishment of settlers on land in Oregon. An appeal to the tourists should be made through a personal representative to be sent through the Eastern and Middle Western states in order to get in personal touch with the tourists coming West—providing funds are obtainable.
