TEACHERS' SALARIES.

The result of the election Saturday tells where the people of this district stand on the question of adequate compensation for one of the most important, if not the most important class of employees paid by the public—the school teachers. The Herald is glad to see such almost unanimous sentiment and hopes that it will be a message to the School Boards—both public and high—to place the teachers on a twelve months' pay basis.

The boards should adopt the modern method of employment and retention of teachers. Teachers should know when they enter the services of the school districts that as long as they are efficient they are sure of their places: that each year their salary will be increased ten per cent until at the end of five years they will be drawing a minimum salary of $150 a month; that this will be paid for twelve months and not for nine and ten, as is now the case.

But in return the boards should demand from the teachers the best service possible. They should be obliged to attend summer schools each year and it should be made an inextinguishable rule that under no circumstances must they engage in any compensatory employment during the vacation time. It should be entirely devoted to rest and recreation, outside of the time necessary for the summer school.

Such a policy would insure competent teachers and assure their return at the beginning of each school year mentally and physically fit.

AT THE THEATERS

"The picture that has everything" is a fitting method of describing William Farnum's newest example of his art, "Rough and Ready," a de luxe production in which the noted William Fox star does his strikingly effective pantomimic work.

As the title of the film indicates, Mr. Farnum has a part of the virile, vigorous kind in which he makes such an inspiring presence. The audience at the Liberty Theatre, where "Rough and Ready," was exhibited yesterday for the first time, showed that its affection for Mr. Farnum in the role he filled in the drama, has not diminished a jot although this is the only "Western" in which he has been seen for some time.

The play has an excellent supporting cast, commendable direction by Richard Stanton, beautiful natural settings out-of-doors as well as fine interior views, and photography of sterling quality. "Rough and Ready," will continue at the Liberty Theatre tonight.

She was sweet and young and pure and pretty!

She had been kidnapped by one of the toughest characters in all the Canadian northwest territory.

This ruffian had made her dress in the clothes worn by the hardened dancers in a tough dance hall.

And then he had dragged her to the top of a table where he offered her at auction to the highest bidder among the gang of wild, tough men gathered in the place!

What happened next?
Was the girl sold like this?
Or was she rescued?

You'll see when you see the new World Picture, "The Devil's Trail," starring Betty Compson and George Larkin, which is scheduled for showing on Tuesday at the Liberty theatre.

Miss Compson is one of the most piquantly pretty actresses now appearing on the silver screen. Mr. Larkin is young, handsome and stalwart. Together they make a delightful team and they are seen to particularly good advantage in the rendition of this strikingly interesting and exceedingly entertaining story of the northwest country and of the doings of the Canadian Royal Mounted Police.

"The Devil's Trail" is jammed and packed with thrills, excitement, romance and everything else that goes to make a photoplay of superior enjoyment.

HAD SUFFERED
EIGHTEEN YEARS

MRS CURTIS GAINS TEN POUNDS AND ENDS TROUBLES BY TAKING TANLAC

"Since I began taking Tanlac I feel better than I have at any time in the past eighteen years," said Mrs. Ella G. Curtis, who owns and lives at an apartment house opposite Idora Park on Telegraph Ave., Oakland, Cal. Continuing, she said:

"I suffered with indigestion for eighteen years. I would go for two or three days at a time without eating a bite and when I did manage to force down a little something I would be in the most intense misery afterward. Gas would form and I would bloat so badly I could hardly get my breath and I would have the worst sort of pains over my liver—just a steady, dull pain for two or three days at a time. I used to have the headache every other day regularly and would have such dizzy spells I would have to either sit down or lie down to keep from falling, and I was so weak and run down it was all I could do to do my house work.

"Tanlac was recommended to me by my sister who lives in Oklahoma, who had been greatly benefited by taking it, and I decided to try it. I had taken every sort of medicine I could hear of without any good results, but when I started on Tanlac I knew I had at last found the medicine I needed, for after I had finished the second bottle I had a good appetite, I could sleep better, would wake up greatly refreshed, and was improved in every way. I am never bothered with gas and I haven't had the headache for over two months and never have those dizzy spells any more. I have gained ten pounds in weight and feel stronger than I have in years, and can do all my housework with the greatest ease. My friends all ask me what I have been doing to look so much better and it is always a pleasure for me to tell them I have been taking Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Klamath Falls by the Star Drug Co., and in Lorella by the James Merc. Co.—Adv.

The rarest of all precious woods is said to be the calamander, a tree which grows in Ceylon, where it is held in reverent awe. The wood is beautifully mottled in veining when polished, but its almost priceless value is due a good deal to its rarity. At one time the trees were quite plentiful in Ceylon, but only a comparatively few specimens remain, and all these are numbered and jealously guarded by the government.

One hundred years ago, in 1820, football game which will be played visitors assembled in Mrs. Willard's New Years day at Pasadena. The reports will come in every two or three minutes from the time the gates are swung wide to admit the greatest thing that ever attended a game on the Coast, for already nearly thirty thousand tickets have been sold. Every play will be covered and an interesting afternoon is assured to the patrons of the Liberty. A very interesting picture will be shown of course, the football reports being merely for the entertainment of the fans of the city. 29-11
