ACCURACY

AT THE THEATERS

Louis Bennison, who smiles as he fights and fights as he smiles, has a real surprise in store for his admirers in his third Goldwyn release, "Speedy Meade," written and directed by Ira M. Lowry and produced by the Betwood Film company. Bennison's success in his first two productions, "Oh, Johnny!" has marked him as the screen's most natural and impressive portrayal of Western cowboy roles. "Speedy Meade" is made to measure for the smiling cowboy. It is chuck full of the wild and woolly spirit of the great West and there's a new kind of plot that holds the interest from beginning to end. As "Speedy Meade" Bennison shatters all records for action. That is the reason he is called "Speedy" in the play. When the heroine of the story is in grave danger and needs a real man to protect her from the wicked rascals of the plains it's "Speedy" Meade who saves the girl from her plight. When the time comes for a thrilling chase over the mountains of the West, it's "Speedy" who leaps upon his pony, summons a big posse of strong-armed men and dashes away in pursuit of the villains and the girl. And in the end, when certain complications necessitate the speedy conclusion of courtship, it's "Speedy" Meade who pops the question in a flash and then speeds away to an everlasting honeymoon.

The girl in the play is beautiful Katherine MacDonald, popular among the fans for her splendid acting and rare personal charm. Miss MacDonald played opposite W. S. Hart in "Shark Monroe" and has been seen as leading woman for Douglas Fairbanks and others. "Speedy Meade" will be seen at the Liberty Theatre tonight.

"Checkers" a big special Fox production taken from the racing melodrama that was a tremendous success on the legitimate stage for many years, will be the attraction at the Liberty Theatre, beginning Thursday. The picture was directed by William Fox by Richard Stanton, who staged "The Land of the Free," "The Spy," and "Why I Would Not Marry."

The story is a sensational one, having to do with race horse plots. It ends with one of the most thrilling race track scenes ever witnessed on the screen. The picture is presented with an all-star cast.
