

"DUCKS" WIN FIRST GAME

"The Ducks," captained by G. H. Jester, drew first blood in the Elks' bowling tournament, which opened last night, when they defeated "The Rookies," two games out of three. C. A. Hayden, captain of "The Ducks," was absent, and Captain Jester chose Keith Ambrose to take his place. Ambrose rolled a consistent score, 179 in the first and third and 187 in the second game, the latter being high score on his team.

The highest individual score was 194 by Browns, of the Ducks, but he had some close runners-up on both sides. The Rookies came back strong in the third game, while their opponents weakened.

Tonight the contest is between Henston's "Duffs" and Van Bellen's "Never-Slips." Last night's score:

RUMOR STARTS INQUIRIES FOR KLAMATH LAND

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Inquiries are coming into Congressman Sinnott's office concerning reported plans for opening Umatilla and Klamath Indian reservation lands to settlement. Nothing is known here of any such "opening" or as to how the reports originated.

All the Umatilla lands have been allotted, the Indian office states, so there could be no opening there. It is surmised that there may be misunderstanding as to the scope of the Raker land bill proposed to enter certain lands of the national bird reserve in Klamath county, one proviso being that ex-service men shall have a preference right. This bill has passed the Senate.

Representative Sinnott has also introduced a bill for restoration of marshlands surrounding Upper Klamath lake, which were ceded by the state to form a part of the Klamath project, but were not included in it. These are lands which the interior department proposed to lease to Deak & Brown for 50 years on condition that they be diked and reclaimed.

Secretary Land was asked by Mr. Sinnott, as chairman of the public lands committee, for a statement of his views on the bill. The secretary has replied that he believes he should defer a report on the bill until after a hearing on protests of the American Legion Post of Klamath and the county court against the lease, which is set for January 12.

Personal Mention

Jack McAuliffe who owns a large cattle ranch in Fort Klamath has just purchased 450 head of beef cattle from C. W. Warren of Bly and is driving them through to Merrill to feed.

Miss Alice McCourt, who has been spending the holidays in San Francisco returned Monday night, accompanied by Geraldine, Tom and Roland Watt.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Doolittle and daughter, Dale, were in the city yesterday from their Langell Valley ranch. Next week they expect to leave for California points, where they will spend the winter months and then proceed to Ohio, where they will remain for a time, expecting to return when the Langell Valley irrigation project is well under way. Mr. Doolittle is associated with H. E. Tichnor.

KLAMATH OIL CO. TO ISSUE STOCK

The Klamath Oil Company, which is boring an experimental well on the Jay Manning ranch in the valley, has secured permission from the state commissioner of corporations to issue $20,000 worth of stock in the enterprise.

The promoters of the company have so far spent $24,000 for labor and materials in drilling the well to a 300-foot depth, and are contemplating to feel the financial drain. Stock will be offered for sale shortly. At present the drilling is halted while casing is being installed.

PRINTED EDITION ON WALLPAPER

PASADENA, Jan. 7.—A copy of the now famous wallpaper edition of the Daily Citizen, of Yickburg, Miss., issued July 4, 1865, is in the possession of Miss Fernis Scofield, of this city, a sister to George Scofield, a federal soldier, who was responsible for it.

On July 2, of that year, J. M. Sword, editor of the Citizen, had hardly "set" the type for his publication before the Union soldiers captured the city. In the invading party was George Scofield, of the Fourth Minnesota regiment.

Scofield was a printer. So he naturally drifted to the office of the Citizen. Quite as naturally, he took up a "stick" and began to set type. He added an article telling of the capture of Yickburg by the union forces, but all he could find upon which to print an edition was wallpaper.

CANNERIES CONTRACT FOR 1920 ASPARAGUS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 7.—Canneries are contracting for next year's asparagus crop in the Sacramento river delta section at from six to eight cents a pound. Last season the price ranged from three to six cents. The asparagus-growing acreage has increased in a phenomenal manner during the past few years in this section, and now totals over 12,000 acres.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—To provide a place for the segregation of radical aliens taken in recent raids, the department of labor today took steps to reopen Ellis island to its full capacity.

RESTAURANT DINER FINDS $300 PEARL

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 7.—Frank Babler, eating oysters in D. Davis' restaurant in Redding, Cal., bit into a hard substance. "Take 'em away," said Babler. "I ordered oysters," not rocks." Davis "took 'em away," investigated, and a few minutes later informed Babler that the "rock" he had struck was a pearl. Babler demanded the return of the pearl. Davis refused. Now Babler has filed suit for $300, the estimated value of the pearl.

ATTORNEY'S FEE ISSUE IN ACTION BEFORE COURT.

The foreclosure suit of M. K. Reynolds against Harry K. Barton, involving a $700 chattel mortgage, was tried before Judge Kaykendall yesterday. Plaintiff started suit before the mortgage was due in order, he asserts, to protect his interest in the mortgaged property, upon which another person had levied attachment. The defendant tendered the amount due on the mortgage, but no provision was made for paying attorney's fees, so the issue is practically upon the proper amount, if any, due for attorney's services.

PRIZE HEN DEAD

DANIELSON, Conn., Jan. 7.—The death of Eusettia Pallidani, aged 22, a Spanish black hen, said to have been the oldest hen in the United States, is announced by the owner, James Blanchard, of Dayville.

In her youth Eusettia was a prize-winning, pedigreed beauty. When 18 years old her black plumage became white. She mothered a brood last spring and laid eggs in the fall.

Putting Baseball On Ice Is Promising Winter Sport

Baseball on ice is more and more coming into favor as a winter sport. And big leagues of the game during summer months are often rank bushers—once the steel blades are strapped on—unless they also happen to be good skaters. This has been proved at Cleveland, O., in the last two seasons where the national pastime has been "put on ice." Literally, during the cold months. Last season a team made up of good skaters—but only fair ball players—decisively trimmed a team made up of good ball players—many major league—but only fair skaters. These pictures were taken at a game recently in Cleveland.
