BRITAIN STILL LIVING UNDER WAR TIME CURB

LONDON, Dec. 24. (By the Associated Press)—The end of one year of peace finds the United Kingdom still working under many of the war-time restrictions affecting ordinary living conditions, although large numbers of the orders have been rescinded and others have been modified.

So far as food is concerned, only sugar and butter are now rationed. The regulations regarding the amount of meat which might be purchased were removed only a few days ago, about one year after the close of the war. The consumption of liquor, however, is being held down rigidly under the old rules. Necessities still rationed, which vitally concern the home, include coal, gas and electricity. The shortage of fuel has been causing considerable hardship both to the individual and to industry.

The Ministry of Food has found it advisable to continue the maximum prices, both wholesale and retail, which it fixed for a considerable number of necessities.

Apart from the matter of food and fuel, the Board of Trade is maintaining control of the exportation and importation of a long list of articles. The ban has been removed from some goods but this has been mainly in the case of things importation of which had been forbidden and which the country found itself short of.

Removal of restrictions on most of the food necessities has not solved the living problem of the masses, however. There is still a great shortage of many things, and moreover, prices, which went down last summer, have now mounted to about where they were at the signing of the armistice.

The increase is attributed partly to the world scarcity of necessities, partly to the augmented demand from the recently belligerent countries, and partly to inflated currency and adverse foreign exchanges. The late named have had a pronounced influence on prices and it is the belief of economic experts that food cannot become much cheaper until these are adjusted, even though there is an increase in production.

Butter Ration Small.

The butter ration is placed at one and one-half ounces for each person per week. This refers to the imported product only, there being no restriction on the use of home-made butter. As a matter of fact, virtually no butter is being made in the United Kingdom these days, so that the consumer has to depend upon margarine and foreign butter.

The reason there is so little home produced butter on the market is that the retail price, approximately 60 cents a pound, bears no relation to the actual cost of butter to the farmer. This month farmers can sell milk at 64 cents a gallon, and it takes 2 1/2 gallons of milk to produce a pound of butter. If English butter were selling at its true economic value it would be about $1.24 per pound.

Until recently the sugar ration was twelve ounces for each person per week, but owing to the shortage this allowance has been decreased to eight ounces, and is expected to remain at that mark for many months. The amount allowed to the confectionary and sweets trades has been reduced by 25 percent and a further reduction is expected with the new year.

Meat Control Off

Butchers' meat was rationed until a few days ago, each person being allowed forty cents' worth per week. In consequence of the receipt recently of a large supply of mutton and lamb from Australia and New Zealand it was found possible to remove all rationing restrictions, and the Food Ministry has expressed the hope that people will relieve the food situation by eating more meat, which is welcome advice for England.

Despite the small ration, only about 80 percent of the meat allowance was being demanded by ticket holders each week. This was due either to a change of habits since the beginning of the war or to the high cost. Whenever a butcher had a balance of meat left over at the week-end he was permitted to sell it to anyone of his customers, irrespective of whether they had already had their ration or not. In this way some people were able to exceed the amount provided for by their permits. The sale of beer and spirits is

BE PRETTY, TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

TRY GRANDMOTHER'S OLD FAVORITE RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, gray or streaked. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Jan. 9.—College debaters are working overtime for the first varsity debate of the year, Friday evening, when teams of O. A. C. will clash with Reed College and the University of Oregon on the question of immigration exclusion. Three debates will be held simultaneously.

The affirmative team which will meet Reed on the local campus is composed of W. P. Black of Corvallis and Harold Readon of Ontario, and the negative team, which will go to Eugene, is made up of Paul Emmett of Corvallis and "Ted" Landes of Moonsrock, Wash.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is sign you have been eating too much meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and laggard. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have a backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

BRIDE DISCOVERS "FRISCO" IS WRONG

SA FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Misuse of the designation "Frisco," a word that San Franciscans taboo, almost prevented a Christmas marriage this year. Miss Edith Tubbs, of London, coming to California to marry L. R. Canan, of Lindsay, near Fresno, Cal., bought by mistake a ticket to "Frisko" instead of Fresno. Finding no fiance here to greet her when she arrived, she applied to a Travelers' Aid Society, officers of which dried her tears and directed her to Fresno.
