HISTORIC SPOTS TO BE CHANGED

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Boston is preparing to alter some of its most cherished historic features to meet the demands of modern conditions. Small strips are to be sliced from Boston Common, training ground for troops in Revolutionary days, and arcaiding of the tower of the Old South Meeting house, where the famous "tea party" was hatched, is contemplated. Traffic problems, acute in this city of narrow "cow-lane" streets, in each case are responsible.

The paring of the Common on two sides of its 43-acre area has been sanctioned only after the overcoming of long-standing opposition by those who held that no considerations of modern development should disturb this revolutionary landmark and present day breathing space in the city's center. Several years ago the voters turned down a proposal to shrink the common in order to swell the streets. But in the recent city election the voters in all but two wards declared in favor of widening the streets from Common lands. The two wards which opposed the plan are in Charlestown, east of another historic shrine, Bunker Hill Monument.

Under the plan, which is a compromise arranged between the street commissioners and the Boston Common Society, Tremont and Boylston streets, which bound the Common on two of its sides, will be widened to a maximum of 43 feet instead of 50 to 60 feet as first proposed. This will be accomplished without sacrifice of greensward or trees, as the cuts will be made from the broad malls or the Common. The compromise plan carried with it an agreement that no further invasion of the Common would be made.

Boston Common was bought in 1634 by Governor Winthrop and others as a common cow pasture and training ground, and was one of several such tracts of communal lands and planting grounds. Today it is the sole remainder of these ancient commons, other holdings having passed into private hands.

It was on Boston Common that revolutionary soldiers drilled; from its limits at Park Square, then the back Bay in fact as well as in name and now "made land," the British started for Lexington on April 19, 1775. On the Common the British mustered their forces to attack Bunker Hill and British artillerymen set their guns on Flagstaff Hill during the siege of Boston. Colonial expeditions set out against Louisbourg and Quebec from the old Common, and Massachusetts regiments assembled their prior to going to the front in the Civil war.

The proposal to cut into the Old South Meeting House which was built in 1729 to obtain partial relief from traffic congestion on Washington streets, is still under consideration. Mayor Peters approved the idea; the Old South Association, guardians of the edifice, fell in with the plans under certain conditions and the street commissioners reported in favor of the change. The conditions named by the association, however, including a demand for payment for the property, which is in the section of highest valuation, have delayed acceptance.

Under the plan the main part of the church, in which the colonists worked out plans for the "tea party," and which was later used by the British as a riding school during the siege of Boston, would not be disturbed. The tower which juts out some twenty feet from the front of the edifice, would be arcaided to provide a passage for foot traffic, the street line would be extended to run flush with the tower front and the sidewalk moved back to lead directly to the arcade. An additional 20 feet of street space at this point would ease considerably the crush of traffic in the bottle-mouth of Newspaper Row.

TEXAS OIL LINE IS READY TO OPERATE.

GALVESTON, Tex., Jan. 24.—Since completion of a new oil dock at Texas City a regular line of vessels is to be routed to that port to carry crude oil to north Atlantic and foreign ports; it is announced. Three or four vessels probably will comprise the fleet.

The new dock is 600 feet long and has a capacity for loading vessels of nearly 20,000 barrels of oil an hour. The oil is transported to the new dock through pipe lines leading directly from the oil fields.

T. R.'S BIRTHPLACE TO BE MEMORIAL

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The birthplace of Theodore Roosevelt at 28 East Twentieth street, New York, is to be restored as nearly as possible to its condition in 1858, according to the officials of the Women's Roosevelt Memorial association following a recent conference here with Theodore Pape (Mrs. John W. Riddle) the architect having the plans in charge.

An adjoining house at No. 26 has also been purchased and both structures will be remodeled to conform to the architecture of the time of the former President's birth. They will have brownstone fronts and mansard roofs and the interior of No. 28 will be made to resemble the bohood home of the great American. Old mantels, chandeliers and furniture will be put back in place and childhood friends of the Colonel will supervise the decorations.

A Rooseveltian library consisting of his books of rugged outdoor life and Americanism and other writings and published speeches will be placed in the house at No. 26. Many other volumes the Colonel liked to read and dealing with many phases of human knowledge will be placed on the shelves.

According to the architect's plans the top floor of both houses will be utilized for an assembly hall, suitable for gathering of Boy Scouts, Camp Fire-Girls or similar patriotic organizations. When completed the memorial is intended to serve as an institution for the development of sturdy, old-fashioned Americanism. Members of the committee having the project in charge include Mrs. Frederick Nathan, Mrs. James Russell Parsons, Mrs. Henry L. Stimson, Mrs. A. Barton Hepburn, Mrs. Henry A. Wise Wood, Mrs. William Curtis Demarest, and Mrs. John Henry Hammond.

MONTANA DEMOCRATS ARE FOR JAS. GERARD.

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 23.—Mention of Governor Sam V. Stewart of Montana, for the democratic vice-presidential nomination, has received impetus from the boom begun in this state for James W. Gerard for president. Mrs. Gerard is a daughter of the late Marcus Daly of this state and the Gerards frequently visit the Duffy ranch in the Bitter Root.

Governor Stewart has not said he will be a candidate for vice-president but thus far, he has not asked his supporter to drop the use of his name. His second term ends January 1, 1921. He has said that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Offering a substantial lunch for 20 cents, a cafeteria here in an advertisement contends its plan of organization and operation solves both the high cost of eating problem and the labor problem.

Ninety five percent of the stock is owned by the employees who may purchase it at par value. Twenty per cent of the profits are distributed each month among the employees.

CONTROL MEXICAN COAL
 MEXICO CITY, Jan. 8 (By Mail)—The soft coal shortage in Mexico is being blamed on American corporations. According to Excelsior two American firms have secured control of the principal mines in Coahuila and, during the coal famine in the states, exported a great part of their output, thus causing a scarcity in Mexico.
