WHEN RHEUMATIC PAINS HIT HARD

Have Sloan's Liniment ready for those sudden rheumatic twinges

DON'T let that rheumatic pain or ache find you without Sloan's Liniment again. Keep it handy in the medicine cabinet for immediate action when needed. If you are out of it now, get another bottle today, so you won't suffer any longer than necessary when a pain or ache attacks you. Apply it without rubbing—let it penetrate—giving prompt relief of sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia, lameness, soreness, sprains, strains, bruises. Be prepared—keep it handy.
All druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

ANCIENT TOMB YIELDS JEWELS

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Crown jewels of the Princess Sat-Hathor, daughter of Senusert, who died Egypt 4,000 years before the time of Christ, and which are on exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, apparently have set a new fashion in necklaces, brooches and rings for those who patronize Fifth Avenue shops.

The collection now on display was found in the tomb of the ancient royalty which was unearthed by Professor W. M. Flinders Petrie in 1914. Although only one blue bead remained on the sarcophagus as a reminder of the Egyptian king's daughter, yet the jewel encasement and contents inside were found intact. It was recently purchased by the museum for a large sum.

Among the costly baubles of the Princess are shining pectorals of the deepest lapis lazuli and dainty amulets of dark carnelian popular in the days now lost in a misty past. Her favorite smoky quartz necklaces as well as smaller jewel cases and unguent jars are marvels of artistry and skillful workmanship.

One cartouche containing the name of Sat-Hathor-Junut's father, and apparently a gift from the King to his daughter, might have been worn as a brooch. It consists of symbolical figures of two birds standing on a hieroglyphic base. Over the birds' heads are cobra de capellos, or hooded serpents whose coils form a frame for a scarab or sacred beetle. Below them is the figure of a man kneeling as if in worship.

New York jewelry shop windows at present display ornaments of platinum and diamonds patterned after the designs of some of the Princess Sat-Hathor-Junut's trinkets. The craftsmanship of the Twelfth dynasty, under the Pharaoh Senusert, however, have not been outdone in skillful workmanship by the jewelry makers of today, say connoisseurs.

FIVE CENT MEALS.

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H. Dec. 27.—(By Mail)—pupils of the High School and Union Schools here have hit the high cost of living a hard blow with meals which they are serving at 5 cents a plate, according to F. A. Clowes, Industrial Supervisor. Stews, cheese, macaroni, salmon, poi (the native dish made from taro root), egg cakes, gingerbread, tea cream and chocolate are some of the items which appear on the 5-cent menus.

Cleanliness is the motto of the school kitchen, said Mr. Clowes.
