DANGERS WILL ARRIVE TONIGHT

All those who are fortunate enough to have secured seats in the Opera House for the performance tomorrow evening of the Ruth St. Denis Concert Dancers will witness one of the most enjoyable sights of their lives...

The young lady dancers are a representative type of young American womanhood, intellectual College trained, with serious purpose to elevate the artistic ideals of their country.

The company, consisting of thirteen persons, will arrive on tonight's train from San Francisco, Klamath Falls being the first stop in Oregon.

It is an interesting evidence of the high character of the performers and the entertainment to be given tomorrow night, that June Hamilton Rhodes was for five years the head of the department of physical education in a Western college.

Ellis Rhodes the Dramatic Tenor, who appears on the programme, is not only a singer of wide reputation in the East but is also a man of intellectual attainments having been at the beginning of the war Dean of Fine Arts in Simpson College.

In addition the company carries an expert electrician and not the least of the beauties of this most beautiful of entertainments will be the effect of the lighting upon the draperies and posing dancers.

As the crowd at the Opera House tomorrow night will be very large the invariable rule at all performances presented by the Musical Study Club will be strictly enforced.

PETITION FOR FORMATION OF IRRIGATION DISTRICT.

J. G. Patterson, J. Frank Adams and other residents in the Merrill district have petitioned the county court for the formation of a new irrigation district to be known as the Patterson Irrigation district.

DOG LICENSE DEMAND GROWS

The decision of the circuit court of Multnomah county that the state dog licensing act is valid has caused a brisk demand for licenses at the local county clerk's office.

No provision is made in the law for impounding the dog. The law says it is to be shot and makes no provision for reprieve or redemption.

While it is said to have been the intention of the lawmakers to protect stock from sheep-killing dogs in the grazing districts, the statute is of general application.

County clerks everywhere are inclined to be indignant at the saddling of the extra work involved in issuing the license upon them and many refused to issue the tags until the court decided the validity of the statute.

WORKERS RENEW DEMANDS FOR ARBITRATION

Mounting living costs, which the workers claim have absorbed the 50 cent daily wage increase granted by all local box factories about two months ago, has caused the local millmen's union, through its executive committee, to reiterate its request that the state conciliation board take steps to conduct an investigation of the local situation with the object of securing arbitration between mill workers and employers.

The following telegram was sent yesterday to the secretary of the board at Portland:

"Please advise at once the status of the appeal of the Millmen's union of Klamath Falls for assistance from your honorable board. This appeal was filed three months ago and considerable correspondence in connection has passed since.

Several weeks after the original petition for arbitration was filed three months ago a general 50 cent rise was put into effect, making the minimum rate about $4.25 a day.

Practically every county office must be filed this year, a majority of state officers are to be elected and the importance of national issues to be decided in the Presidential campaign make it essential that every voter should register.

A. J. SLOAN WEDDED TO MISS MADGE CLOPTON

Word was received here today of the marriage in Berkeley, California, last Sunday, of Allen J. Sloan of this city and Miss Madge Clopton. This announcement will come as a complete surprise to the host of friends of this well known and popular couple.

The wedding is the culmination of a romance that had its beginning when Mr. Sloan first came to Klamath Falls. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clopton, who operated the American Hotel in the early days of this city.

SHIPPINGTON NOTES

A very enjoyable evening, yes, a very, very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Farbell last Saturday evening when a crowd of about 60 or 70 people, between the ages of one month to 85 years gathered and spent the evening and night in a good old fashioned country dance which they continued until the wee small hours of the morning.

U. S. BUYS DIAMONDS.

Berlin, Jan. 10. (By Mail).—Americans have purchased so many diamonds in the past few years that they now possess about half of the diamonds in the world, says the New Berlin Gazette. Americans bought diamonds valued at $100,000,000 in the last alone the paper adds.

JUDGE CALKINS CONCLUDES STAY

A jury in the case of C. E. Jay against P. N. Grisez, on trial before Judge F. M. Calkins yesterday, last evening returned a verdict of $50 in favor of plaintiff, with costs. The costs will amount to about $125.

The jury consisted of Ross Sutton, foreman; J. C. Taylor, J. J. Steiger, C. D. Ross, John F. Collier, Frank Stewart, Joe Wright, William Wood, G. H. Van Meter, F. R. Wilson, L. G. Griffith and J. T. Nickerson.

Following the verdict the court excused the jury panel until next Monday, when other cases are set for trial before Judge Calkins.

The Jay-Grisez trial concluded Judge Calkins stay here and he returned to Medford this morning. During his stay a demurrer in the courthouse litigation was argued and he has the matter under advisement.

PERKINS CONTROLS RETAIL MILK TRADE

By a deal completed yesterday W. E. Perkins takes over the retail milk business of W. P. Johnson, who bought out E. L. French recently, and practically obtains control of the retail milk trade of the city.

Mr. Perkins has been in the retail milk business here for several years and has made steady progress despite setbacks. Two years ago he was burned out and about a month ago another fire destroyed his residence and bottling plant.

STATE BOARD WILL COMPEL VACCINATION

Circular letters have been sent out by the state board of health and local health officers, calling attention to the state law compelling vaccination of all children attending schools in any community where smallpox exists and declaring that the law will be enforced by closing of schools in any community where it is not obeyed.

Dr. A. A. Soule, city health officer, states that in his opinion there is no need of compulsory vaccination here. An arrival from Portland a couple of months ago had a light case of smallpox, but was promptly quarantined.

In Portland, however, and nearby cities, the situation is serious, according to the state health board report, and the vaccination law will be enforced wherever it is deemed necessary.

WEATHER REPORT

OREGON—Fair except probably rain in the northwest portion; moderate southerly winds.
