MEXICAN STOCK IMPORTS DROP

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 28.—Imports of livestock from Mexico into the El Paso and Arizona districts have decreased from 345,121 animals in 1914, to 81,068, in 1919, according to the records in the El Paso office of the United States bureau of animal industry. This year's figure, however, is considerably greater than that for 1918, which showed a total of 59,878 animals.

Decline in livestock imports during the last few years is attributed to the fact that cattle and horse raising in the northern part of Mexico has been increasingly handicapped by the revolution.

Because political and industrial conditions in Sonora are better than in Chihuahua, the livestock imports through Nogales, Ariz., have been considerably larger than those that have come in by way of El Paso. The report for December, 1919, show that a total of 9,942 animals came in through Nogales and only 337 through El Paso.

RUSS MONEY WORTHLESS.

HONOLULU, T. H., Dec. 25, (By Mail).—An American dollar will buy from 150 to 180 Russian roubles, Kolchak currency, in Siberia today, according to a party of twenty-five Russian business men who recently passed through here on their way to settle in Salina Cruz, Mexico.

It is not difficult to make plenty of money in Siberia, said the Russians, but the money is next to worthless. They declared they had been forced out of business in Siberia by the conditions there, and had chosen Mexico as a promising field in which to rebuild their fortunes.

Thrift and Little Things

Who are the men and women that become masters over great things? They are those who first of all become masters over little things.

Dollar bills and silver dimes are only little things, so little that they often trickle away in every direction—and yet they have formed the solid foundation for many a comfortable income through the following slogan:

"DON'T WASTE! SAVE!"

ENGLISH ARSENAL IS MAKING CHURNS NOW

LONDON, Jan. 2. (By Mail).—Even the great Woolwich arsenal has turned to the manufacture of war material to the peaceful pursuits of trade. Ten thousand butter churns have been manufactured in the great building which during the war sent out vast quantities of munitions for use against the Germans.

The nickel purchased to manufacture bullets is being used in the arsenal to make five-cent pieces for British Honduras currency. There is a world shortage of locomotives and railway cars. To meet this it has been decided to manufacture these articles in the arsenal and work already is underway there on orders for 2,500 cars, 100 locomotives and for repair work on 700 cars.

This serves a double purpose. Thirty-thousand persons now are employed in the arsenal where 110,000 were at work in wartime. Thousands of these men are skilled munition workers. By keeping these busy making locomotives and other peaceful products, the government not only gives them work but retains their services. In event of another war they could return immediately to the munition works in which they are skilled.

One of the side-line products of the arsenal since the armistice has been the striking of 6,000,000 war medals.
