"Back to God's Country"

There never was a film like this.

Sixteen kinds of wild animals play natural parts in this picture.

The scenes were taken in the Arctic ice fields, north of 56 degrees.

The intense cold reached sixty degrees below zero.

It is a picture of the open spaces, of the land of everlasting snow, where the gaunt wolf stalks its prey, where men settle their feudal battles with knife and gun.

Matinee 2:30.
Prices 15 and 35 Cents

WARNING.—Owing to the limited seating capacity, patrons are earnestly requested to take advantage of the matinee performance and avoid the standing at the evening shows.

ATOMIC FORCE IS UNBOUNDED

LONDON, Jan. 3. (By Mail)—Sir Oliver Lodge told the Royal Society of Arts recently that if men were capable of harnessing all the atomic energy in a small piece of chalk, or any other matter of a similar size, they would have enough power to raise 100,000 tons to a height of 3,000 feet.

Up to the present, he said, they had not succeeded in making use of that power but they were on the verge of doing it. In the wireless telephone was the first step in that direction. There the particles given off by a wire electrically heated to whiteness were employed to break the circuit. So sensitive and prompt were the particles to respond to the electrical stimulus that one could send words at the rate of 300 a minute by the Morse Code. By no ordinary mechanical means could this be accomplished.

Among other possible sources of energy, said Sir Oliver, was the ether and he warned his auditors not to disregard it because it was as real a thing as anything. With regard to the energy emanating from the sun the best thing we could do with it was to utilize it through agriculture. Plants had found out how to use it without first turning it into heat and we could not better their methods.

Other possible sources of energy were the tides and the waves. With the former nothing could yet be done on account of the vast areas required to form reservoirs. The land so covered would be of much more value if reclaimed and used for agriculture. He preferred to consider the possibility of utilizing the waves if anything were going to be done in that direction.

UNIFORM RULES FOR AVIATORS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The air service of the United States army has formulated uniform rules of flying for the guidance of its pilots, which no doubt will be the basis of all regulations adopted in the future when flying becomes as common as automobilizing.

Some of the precautions prescribed now probably will seem humorous in that time to come, as the speculations and fears concerning motor cars twenty years ago seem to the present generation.

The uniform rules, which supersede carrying rules made by different commanders during the war, are one step toward standardization of all flying fields. They are divided into four parts, applicable to hangars, the ground and the air. Some of the more interesting follow:

"Instructors and students in flying will not wear a long coat or loose clothing that might become entangled in the controls, nor will loose articles such as waste or rags that might jam the controls be left in the machine.

"Ambulances to be on flying field during all flying hours, with a surgeon and necessary medical detail in attendance.

"Do not taxi closer than 100 feet to another ship unless mechanic has hold of wings.

"It is advisable to carry a good pair of cutting pliers in a position where both passengers and pilot can reach them in case of an accident.

"A fire extinguisher will be carried on each machine.

"Riding on steps, wings or tails of a machine is forbidden.

"In case engine fails on take-off, land straight ahead, regardless of obstacles.

"Rules about right-of-way are for guidance only. Collisions are always avoidable. There is no right-of-way. Every pilot must be awake at all times and prevent his machine from getting dangerously near another machine.

"Machines approaching head-on pass to the right at an interval of at least 200 yards.

"If you see another machine, get out of its way. Do not depend upon the other pilot having seen you.

"No vertical banks, steep climbing or zooming will be done under 300 feet.

"All acrobacy, such as loops, wing-over, eights, rolls, half-rolls and spins must be completed at not less than 1,500 feet.

"No pilot will fly over a city or town without sufficient altitude to reach a landing place."

MOUNTAINEERS' STILLS WORKING

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 30.—The manufacture and sale of moonshine whiskey in the mountains of Southern West Virginia is claiming the close attention of W. S. Hallanan, prohibition commissioner, who with a large force of deputies continues to raid and arrest almost weekly.

There have been times in the last few weeks when the officers have met determined resistance, and already two men, Preston Mullens, an alleged moonshiner, and John D. Kennedy, a deputy sheriff, have lost their lives in the campaign.

This fight, the most serious in recent years, occurred in the Panther Creek section of McDowell county, on the Virginia border. Panther Creek, the prohibition authorities say, is one of the most active moonshining districts in the state. There, according to Mr. Hallanan, have been gathered some of the most famous manufacturers of moonshine from Buchanan county, Virginia. They know all that is to be known about the industry, and some of them are famed for the qualities of their "corn liquor." Usually their stills are extremely difficult to locate, but gradually the prohibition officers are hunting them out and destroying them.

There is another kind of moonshiner in that section who is giving the officers much trouble. He makes his moonshine as quickly as possible, markets it with the least delay, and then moves his still to some other place.

The country is mountainous and rough with many fertile valleys. These valleys, the commissioner has discovered, were this year used to a large extent for the growing of sugar cane, the high price of sugar having driven some of the old time moonshiners to producing what they needed for domestic and moonshining purposes.

CHINA SHOULD STAND ALONE SAYS BRITAIN

SHANGHAI, Jan. 30.—Abolition of spheres of influence in China was recommended in a resolution adopted at a recent meeting here of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce in China and Hongkong. This Association includes representatives of most important British commercial interests in the Far East.

Its action is regarded here as significant because it has long been claimed that Great Britain has been able to obtain a dominant position in trade in China chiefly by reason of the vast extent of British spheres of influence, which is said to overshadow those of all other countries. The conference resolved that the time had come to reaffirm the abolition of the "open door" as an essential commercial principle and that abolition of spheres of influence should be accomplished by international agreement.

The British government was asked by the Association to remit a portion of the Boxer indemnity and devote it to the education of Chinese along British lines.

The Association expressed its sympathy with the desire of the Chinese to abolish the plan of extra-territoriality. But declared a stable government first be established, a satisfactory code of laws enacted and that the Chinese judicial system should be reformed.

It asked also that the British government should put into immediate effect the measures adopted by the International Opium Convention in 1912 restricting traffic with Chinese in narcotic drugs. It demanded that piracy on Chinese rivers should be suppressed.

SENATE FAVORS PARK AREA INCREASE BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Senator McNary was authorized by the senate public lands committee today to report favorably a bill doubling the size of Crater Lake national park to take in Diamond lake and much other scenic area.

A camel enjoys his master's cigarette in Egypt, quietly squatting down behind him, the better to sniff the fragrant smoke as it rises slowly in the heavy air. This the animal does with unctious, closing his nostrils and eyes rapturously after each inhalation.

The Government Took Over

The Possession and Management

of certain QUASI-public concerns, and, with the assistance of a large part of the previously formed organizations, realized some success in operation, but as a total result the experiment was a failure. Every day that passes furnishes evidence to justify this assertion. The property and businesses taken over have been or will be returned to the owners for the real reason, if not admitted, that the undertakings were too big and complicated for new and inexperienced chiefs to manage. What the results of this experiment will be as to the future value of the properties no one can, with accuracy, predict. It cannot be entirely satisfactory to the owners or, for some years at least, to the general public. There was clearly demonstrated during the war the value and practical benefit of private management as compared with public management. If it be said that government (or municipal) conduct of business has sometimes been successful, the answer is that the same business in the hands of private, responsible individuals, with capital and success at stake, would have resulted more favorably.

MORE WATER USED

GLoucester, N. J., Jan. 31.—Consumption of water here has nearly doubled since July 1 when the wartime prohibition act became effective. The municipality has just drilled two artesian wells to augment the water supply in anticipation of an increased demand under constitutional prohibition.

The Pacific Coast league seems to have it on the other big minors when it comes to bagging major league players who drop out of the speed circuits.

WANTS SETTLERS.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 30.—The Brazilian government is endeavoring to facilitate the coming of immigration from Europe to Brazil. It has directed that government-owned vessels in European service shall bring on their return voyages such immigrants as have been vouchered for by Brazilian consuls. Immigration has recently been checked because of high rates for third-class passage from Europe.

With the exception of the British parliament, the Swedish riksdag is the oldest legislative body in the world.
