CAR SHORTAGE STILL HAMPERS

Mills in Western Oregon and Western Washington are getting less than thirty per cent of their required number of cars and railroad officials offer no hope of relief for the next sixty day, according to the current report of the current report of the West Coast Lumberman's association. As a result the industry will continue under a severe handicap, being forced to restrict its acceptances of new business offered. The mills generally are booked up with orders for many weeks, and some of them for many months ahead, but their deliveries depend entirely upon future car supply.

Buyers continue to crowd the manufacturers with orders, but the manufacturers are able to accept only a small percentage of all the business offered. Acceptances for the week ended January 24th, at 128 mills reporting to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, were $6,063,414 feet.

The industry is not producing at its normal capacity, as some mills are forced to remain closed owing to their inability to ship. At the same time 128 mills last week, the production was 75,663,443 feet, which was 14-317,157 feet, or 15.91 per cent below normal.

The same group of mills now have an aggregate of 12,652 cars of unfilled rail orders on their books.

Cargo business, both domestic and export, is moving in fair volume, domestic shipments for the week aggregating 8,156,766 feet; and cargo shipments 5,896,381 feet.

AT THE THEATERS

A glacial slide had demolished their boat and they had started across mountains and rivers on foot, with their heavy packs on their backs. Their supply of provisions runs low, they become weak and exhausted, and at length the young chap falls a victim to the scurvy. They have no idea there is a hum- an being within miles of them—starvation and then an agonized death they believe stare them in the face. The girl in desperation falls on her knees and prays for help. Slowly, before her astonished eyes, a thin column of almost transparent smoke winds its way through the tops of the tall fir trees. Little does the girl imagine that the man who lives in the rough cabin from which the smoke is ascending is her own father, but such is the case. There are many surprises of this sort all the way through the thrilling new picture, with a unique setting of fascinating natural beauty, "The Girl Alaska," which will be shown at the Liberty Theatre tonight.

be with us tomorrow when he will appear at the Liberty Theatre in his latest production, "Putting One Over," a comedy-drama said to be full of mystery and thrills and crafty crooks.

While George Walsh is known for his extraordinary athletic prowess and his dare-devil nerve in taking chances before the camera, he is also a superb comedy-actor, who knows how to convulse an audience with wholesome hearty laughter.

In "Putting One Over" he portrays the role of Jack Trevor, an unconscious tool of criminals who are out to get possession of an estate of immense value. When he discovers the conspiracy things begin to get terribly unpleasant for the crooks. The story is said to be decidedly original.

ARGENTINE HAS LABOR TROUBLE

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 2. (By Mail)—Argentina has been the scene of numerous strikes in the past few months. In general these are attributed to the high cost of living, particularly prohibitive rents for poor families. One economist declares that wages here are 66 per cent higher than in England while the cost of living is 83 per cent greater.

Twelve thousand employes in various trades including shipyard workers and harbor workers have been on strike in Buenos Aires. There have been predictions of a general strike in this city and the police have made preparations to deal with violence. It is reported that 25 motorcars fitted for machine guns have been ordered from the United States.

Some of the strikes have been attended by violence. Two workmen shipyard workers were murdered. General strikes have taken place in Mendoza and Cordova. In Mendoza, a city of 60,000 inhabitants, business was paralyzed for a week by a strike which grew out of the discharge of several school teachers alleged to be anarchistic in their teachings. It has been charged that the police transported some of the agitators into an arid and uninhabited section of the province and left them there without food or shelter.

This caused a fierce debate in congress resulting in the appointment of a congressional committee to investigate in Mendoza situation. President Irigoyen was criticized by Socialists and opponents of the administration for refusal to remove officials alleged to have given ground to the strike. A general strike in Cordoba, a city of 135,000 was caused by a wage dispute between a tramway company and its employes. There was some shooting and rioting. The garbage collectors went on strike and the refuse littered the streets making the city a fearsome place. The strike ended when the tramway company made concessions.

BRITISH MINERS WANT STATE CONTROL

LONDON, Jan. 9. (By Mail).—British coal miners are entering upon a nation-wide campaign to "educate" the public in the school of nationalization. They are backed by the entire trade union movement. An attempt will be made to show that state ownership and co-operative management of mines would benefit the miner, the consumer and the public treasury.

This propaganda is to be developed with such intensity as to force the government to give a definite "yes" or "no" answer to the question. Then it will depend upon the tenacity with which the two sides stand by their guns as to whether a general election will be fought out with nationalization as the issue.

Aside from the dispute between railway men and the government over wages, prospects of industrial peace in Great Britain are regarded by the government and the trade unionists as brighter than at any time since the conclusion of the war.

Government and labor leaders forecast a period of serenity and increased production for which they have long pleaded as the first essential in re-establishing the country on a firm economic basis.

Several thousand moulders have been on strike for 13 weeks but it is declared a large number of them have entered other employment.

LAST HOPE KNOCKED OUT BY SCIENTIST.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 3.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, president of the United States Pharmacopoeial convention and formerly chief of the bureau of chemistry, department of agriculture while in St. Louis to attend a meeting of the board of trustees of the pharmacopoeial association, said that whiskey and brandy have been eliminated as medicines.

Dr. Wiley asserted that whiskey instead of being an effective remedy or preventive for influenza, was a positive poison in such cases.

"In only one instance would I use whiskey for an influenza case," said he; "that would be a case where I wished to hasten the departure to heaven of a patient."

Upon the graves of the dead in the Turkish cemeteries little vessels of water are placed for the benefit of the birds, and some of the marble tombs have basins chiselled out for the same purpose, the superstition being that birds carry messages about the living in the dead.

WILL NOT OBEY NEW RULING

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 3.—University of Washington students are wondering if the Pacific Coast conference will survive a storm that broke when Washington recently decided not to obey a new conference ruling that all football gate receipts should be divided equally between the opposing teams.

In the past the home schools have paid guaranteed amounts to the visiting teams. Faculty members of the conference schools, meeting here recently, passed the new "fifty-fifty" rule, as it is called, over the opposition of Washington and other institutions located in or near large cities.

Washington's graduate manager, Darwin Meineset, announced at the meeting that his school would not obey the rule, for by following it, he said, the big institutions would lose money to the institutions in the smaller cities.

Arthur Priest, dean of men at the University of Washington, who attended the meeting, objected to the rule on the ground that faculty members attending the conference meeting had no right to dictate in financial matters between member schools. Schedules, eligibility rules and standards of play alone can be decided by the faculty members, he claimed.

As a result of the break, Washington will not meet its old-time rival, Washington State college, at football here next Thanksgiving day, although the two teams are on the conference schedule for the game. Washington offered W. S. C. $4,000 to come here and play and promised to play on the W. S. C. stadium in 1921 for only $1,500.

W. S. C. held to the "fifty-fifty" rule, turned down Washington's offer, looked across the Rockies, for competition and scheduled a game against the University of Nebraska at Lincoln for Thanksgiving day.

Washington now is looking for an eastern Thanksgiving day opponent.

George Varnell, Spokane newspaper man and official conference referee, has promised a solution of the problem, according to word received here. Varnell contends that a college should profit by a fortunate geographical location and take the major part of the receipts. If the visiting eleven is of sufficient calibre to swell the crowd above the average limits, then an even split should be made of the profits. This scheme, it is said, is used in the east.

ONE AD SELLS PUREBRED PIGS

Peter Ulam, Sr., of Riddle, Ore., sold his six purebred pigs through his community newspaper, the Riddle Enterprise, before they were ready for delivery. He put the following notice in the want ads to run till pigs were sold—which proved to be just once: "Six thorough-bred Duroc-Jersey pigs will be for sale about January 1. Inquire of Peter Ulam, Sr." This is the best known way to market surplus high-class farm livestock, as well as many other kinds of farm produce that ought to be sold in the grower's community, says the O. A. C. Press Bulletin. The college is conducting a campaign in favor of wider use of community newspaper for marketing, to cut down cost of sales and delivery.

BEAVERS FILL GROVE.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Feb. 3.—All but a few of the shade trees at Giant springs, near here, in the Missouri river have been felled by a colony of beavers, and have a dam nearby. Giant springs is a favorite haunt of picnickers and tourists.
