FACTS NO. 499

THE WINTER'S APPROACH

With the coming of winter and many impassable roads, the community that is connected with roads that offer neither obstacle nor inconvenience is indeed fortunate. Picture a dustless, mudless, first-class highway, and you have a road paved with

WARRENITE-BITULITHIC

WARREN BROS. CO.

All main Klamath Falls, Grants Pass and Ashland streets are paved with Warrenite-Bitulithic, all over 10 years in service.

Personal Mention

L. Jacobs has returned from a business trip to Berkeley.
Aldred M. Beaver is in the city for a few days from Portland.
Messrs. Lester and West of the Mt. Laki district are in Klamath Falls today on business.
Mrs. Mary Kane is in town today from the Miller Hill district.
Jesse E. Flanders, former assistant chief special officer of the U. S. Indian service and well known in this territory, has been transferred and is now chief of the federal prohibition enforcement agents of the state, according to word received here. The change is in the nature of a promotion, the new position carrying a better salary and wider executive power.

AT THE THEATERS

"Putting One Over," George Walsh's latest vehicle, is to be shown for the last times today at the Liberty Theatre.
Walsh's bright and breezy impersonation of the motor car salesman who becomes a victim of mistaken identity through the machinations of crooks, is a delight and a joy. His ludicrous attempts to explain his identity and escape from the fate of inheriting millions have taken his audiences by storm.
Thrills aplenty, too, there are in this picture, and the mystery element is worked out with true William Fox skill. Walsh performs stunts worth seeing and battles with his accustomed fearlessness and abandon until, as usual, he wins the girl.
