

WILL CONFER ON GRAZING BILL NEXT TUESDAY

The executive committees of the Klamath Wool Growers' association and the Klamath Cattle & Horse association will hold a meeting in the city hall here, Tuesday afternoon, February 10, at 2 o'clock, to consider the proposed bill for settling differences between cattle and sheep men by adding all public lands in the eastern part of the county to the Fremont National Forest, thus placing disposal of the grazing privileges, which have been a bone of contention, under the regulations of the United States forest service.

A bill for introduction in Congress, authorizing the inclusion of the disputed grazing area in the forest reserve, has been prepared by W. C. Van Emon and J. H. Carnahan, representing the cattle and sheep interest, respectively, and the measure will be submitted for the approval of the executive committees of the organization at Tuesday's meeting, and if they set the stamp of approval upon it the legislation will probably be started in congress within the next thirty days.

While small bodies of public land are scattered throughout the entire area to be effected by the bill, which is enclosed by a straight line, following the township line, drawn from the California boundary about three miles east of Merrill directly north to the Klamath reservation, thence following the reservation line to the Lake county line, thence south to the California line and west to the point of beginning—the largest area of the public domain is in the southeastern portion of the county, east of Langell's valley.

Cattle and sheep men have agreed that the grazing privileges on the public domain are to be shared equally, and the administration of grazing rights, if the proposed bill is passed, will be in the hands of the forest service, which strictly enforces regulations segregating cattle and sheep to the portion of the forest allotted them.

Disposition of the grazing on timber lands controlled by private interests within the zone of negotiations will not be changed by the agreement, that is, the pasture on privately owned timber lands will go, as heretofore, to the highest bidder.

HOUSTON RETURNS

Fred Houston, of the K. K. K. Store, returned last evening from Los Angeles and other California points, where he has been enjoying a well earned vacation of several weeks. He says that southern California has nothing on Klamath Falls for climate, judging from the weather he found on his return. "From what they tell me, the joke is on us chaps who went south on a hunt for a winter vacation in a mild climate."

LOCAL GIRL ARTIST ON O. A. C. ANNUAL

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Feb. 6.—Mildred L. Thrasher of Klamath Falls, freshman in commerce, is taking an active part in assisting the staff of the Beaver annual, the college year-book. Miss Thrasher is working on cartoons to be used in the "slam" section of the book.

The Beaver annual presents the features of campus life and the activities of the college community covering the period of a school year. It is planned and managed by the students of the junior class. Underclass men with special merit assist on the art staff and incidentally step into line for staff positions during their junior year.

The 1921 Beaver is to contain 530 pages and will be primarily a book of pictures. More than 120 pages are to be devoted to classes. The vocational class having a larger ratio this year than any preceding year is to have a special section. Students of all classes are showing great interest in the book.

POOLE BUYS THEATER SITE

The second big Main street deal for this week was closed yesterday afternoon, when Harry W. Poole, owner of the Liberty Theatre, purchased the forty feet just west of the D. O. Williams property. The lot is in the middle of the block between Seventh and Eighth streets, and is at present occupied by the sign of the First National Bank and a small restaurant. It extends through to Klamath avenue.

It is the intention of Mr. Poole to erect on this property what is to be the New Liberty Theatre and it will be one of the finest between San Francisco and Portland. Originally he planned to build on the property he purchased just west of the present Liberty Theatre, and with that end in view he had secured sufficient property on Klamath Avenue to serve his purpose, but he has changed his plans and will put this property to other uses.

ICY GALE GRIPS NORTH ATLANTIC

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Gales and high tides that have been lashing the north Atlantic coast for the past two days are gradually subsiding, leaving a wake of destruction and suffering behind. The Damage done by the storm is estimated at more than $2,000,000. A number of vessels are in distress off several points on the coast. Long Island Sound steamers are held prisoners in ice jams and traffic conditions are chaotic.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Another twenty-four hours of snow and high winds for the Atlantic Coast is the forecast of the weather bureau today.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The steamship, Princess Anne, carrying 32 passengers and 72 of the crew from the steamer Norfolk, bound for New York, is aground in the storm a mile off the coast at Rockaway Point. Other vessels have gone to her aid. Due to the high gale that is blowing, her condition is serious. The coast guard boat is unable to get to the steamer on account of the high sea that is running.

PAPKE LIKES KLAMATH FALLS

Young Papke, the Sacramento lightweight, who boxed a draw with Bud Stevens of Portland here last month and who is on the card for an eight round bout with Mickey Brown of San Francisco at the opera house here next Wednesday night, thinks Klamath Falls is a sure enough town and Winter Knight, the prince of promoters.

Papke also, according to the Sacramento Union, has sized up Billy Huff, who meets Sailor Bosco here next Wednesday as a fighter who should have a larger field. The Union quoted Papke as follows on his return to Sacramento after his last bout here:

Young Papke, popular Sacramento lightweight, has returned from Klamath Falls where he fought a six round draw with Bud Stevens before Matchmaker Winter Knight's club Friday night.

Papke is loud in his praise for Knight and the manner in which the matchmaker got his card over.

"Knight is a matchmaker who has made a friend of every boxer who has worked for him," said the Sacramento pugilist. "He will go a long way in making the boxing game popular in Klamath Falls. The city is he is not in a more suitable location where he could handle cards more frequently."

Papke believes Sacramento promoters should sign Huff for one of their cards. He believes Huff and Leo would make a good fight.

FIND LANGELL'S VALLEY FLOURISHING

Capt. J. W. Siemens, G. W. Mattern, A. B. Epperson and Archie Wishard made a trip to Langell Valley yesterday to inspect Capt. Siemens' ranch property in that section and investigate conditions generally. They found every one in the valley hard at work, in anticipation of the completion of the Langell Valley irrigation project. Plowing is under way on all sides and the ground is in fine condition for working. Cattle have had an exceptionally good winter but cattle men are getting anxious over the continued lack of rainfall.

With few exceptions the party found the roads in good condition, and in addition to seeing some wonderfully wealthy agricultural territory got a good dinner at the William Campbell ranch, where the Ladies Aid society happened to be meeting for the day and extended the visitors an invitation to dine with them.

GERMANS WANT NEUTRAL TRIAL

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—Germany will probably be willing to surrender its nationals charged with war crimes on condition that they be tried by the neutral court if the entente agrees. The national Zeitung says that the Swiss government declared its readiness to arrange such a tribunal.

Field Marshal Von Buelow said he would never surrender to the entente and he said that others felt the same. "Those on the Allies' list," he said, "only did their duty to the Fatherland. Extradition is an ignominy to which no German would voluntarily submit."

GENEVA, Feb. 6.—Switzerland has reported that it will follow the precedent set by Holland regarding the allied demands for the extradition of Germans who are now in this country. Among others who are here is the crown prince Rupprecht of Bavaria.

ANOTHER BIG MAIN ST. DEAL

Joel T. Ward has again stepped into the realty limelight and put over one of the largest Main street real estate deals consummated in this city. Through his agency the northeast corner of Main and Seventh streets has been sold to John Prett, one of the owners of the K. K. K. Store. This is the second venture into Main street investments made by Mr. Prett, the other being when he became interested in the Ford garage property. Both these deals were handled by Mr. Ward and both are of a size that places them close to the top, if not at the very top, of the big transactions in business property in Klamath Falls.

The property just purchased by Mr. Prett was sold last fall to Leslie Rogers and Andrew Collier, and they in turn re-sold it to C. H. Underwood. It was the intention of the latter to erect on the property a building in which to house his drug business, the negotiations for the purchase of the building where he is now located having apparently fallen through. About two weeks ago, however, Mr. Underwood succeeded in making arrangements for the purchase of that property and immediately decided to dispose of the other corner. As soon as it became known that it was again on the market considerable interest was aroused and there was a decided demand for it, as it is recognized as one of the best corners in the city.

Today Mr. Prett stated that he had no plans for the immediate improvement of the property. Already he has been approached by parties who are desirous of securing storerooms at this point, but he says it is a little too early in the game to make a decision.

C. E. SOCIETY TO CONDUCT SERVICE

The choir has several special numbers for the occasion and a departure from the ordinary church service will be five or ten minute talks by several ladies—Miss Helen Guest, Mrs. Pearl Robinson, and Miss Gertrude Parker having signified their willingness to speak. The interest that is being shown by the public indicates that a large crowd will attend the services.

DIVORCE SUIT.

A divorce suit was begun in the circuit court yesterday by Rose E. Cookman against Eddie Cookman.

COUNTY AGENTS REALIZE WORTH OF HOME PAPER

At their recent convention at the state agricultural college at Corvallis the county agents of the state went on record against competition in any part of their publicity work with the community newspaper. Recognizing the burden under which the home paper labors in these days of high cost of material and low advertising rates, they refuse to do anything to make that burden heavier. The resolutions follow:

"Recognizing the large part played by the community newspaper in developing community life and assisting in the promotion of programs of community betterment about which the farm bureaus are organized, and being cognizant of the difficult position in which these papers are placed by the scarcity of news print paper and other high production cost factors;

"Be it resolved, that the county agricultural agents of Oregon in conference assembled this 9th day of January, 1920, declare it our policy to lend fullest support to the community newspapers in farm bureau and county agent counties."

This resolution was passed unanimously on motion of George W. Kable, county agent for Benton. A discussion of the best and most practical means of carrying it out brought out the following as desirable where applicable:

Co-operate with the publisher of the community newspaper in getting desirable commercial advertisements of supplies and equipment likely to be purchased as a result of a successful project, and in getting the news items, whether related to the community projects or not; endorsement of Uncle Sam's campaign for reduction of distribution cost by wide advertising, and the aim of the college department of industrial journalism to foster sales of certain classes of farm produce through ads in the community newspaper; advising readers of the Farm Bureau News that the News is not designed as a substitute for the local newspaper; encourage the naming of the farmsteads and use of letterheads showing name and principal business; avoiding all competition in commercial advertising.

"Aid in securing commercial advertising of project requirements has tremendous possibilities," explained C. J. McIntosh, in charge of the campaign for selling farm produce through the local press, to the resolutions committee. "Say the project is for a silo on every farm. Many new silos will be bought as the campaign succeeds, and why should not the silo factories and dealers be notified of the campaign by the county agent, who could easily supply them with the names of the local papers."

"Doubtless many home-made silos would go up also, giving the cement, lumber and hardware dealers an opportunity to put their wares before the people. Increased milk production from the use of the silage will call for dairy supplies, ensilage cutters, and much modern dairy equipment. The best medium for selling these supplies is the local newspaper, because a very much larger ratio of its readers are real prospects."

A special resolution was passed in favor of accepting no commercial advertising whatever except as the only means of keeping the news alive in any county, and even then none would be accepted in competition with the community press.

RUNAWAY DELIVERY CAR SMASHES PRIVATE GARAGE.

Burge W. Mason is making repairs on his private garage as the result of the response of a delivery car to the laws of gravity a day or so ago. The car was standing in the alley on the upper side of Canby street, when the brakes apparently slipped. The car started down hill and gained considerable momentum before the Mason garage interfered with its flight. The collision wrecked about half of the garage.
