FORMER ACTOR MAY RETURN AS PARSON

LONDON, Jan. 23. (By Mail).—The Rev. Everard Digby, known in England as "the sporting parson," who has been offered the pastorate of the Church of the Ascension in Brooklyn, N. Y. toured the eastern United States as a member of a theatrical company several years ago.

Rev. Mr. Digby told an interviewer that the Brooklyn offer appealed to him. "I visited America in my acting days as a member of Miss Langtry's company," he said. "We had a very successful six month's season opening at the Garrick Theatre, New York with 'The Cross Ways' and touring the whole of the eastern states. If I now decide to go to America I shall be renewing many happy memories and associations."

Rev. Mr. Digby served as a chaplain with the British forces during the war.

AT THE THEATERS

Mae Murray displays a wardrobe in her newest picture, "The A. B. C. of Love," guaranteed to cause feminine hearts to flutter and to make no slight impression on the masculine heart. From lacy gossamer lingerie to frilly, girlish dancing frocks and daring sophisticated evening gowns, to say nothing of chic little street gowns and suits, Miss Murray runs the gamut of milady's wardrobe.

"The A. B. C. of Love" is a romantic drama written, directed and produced by Leonce Perret for Pathe. It tells the always interesting story of the ignorant but beautiful country girl who marries a man of position and wealth and brains. When the glamour of her innocence and naïveté wears off he realizes that her intellect is no mate for his, and their matrimonial ship flounders on the rocks—but only for a while. "The A. B. C. of Love" is at the Liberty tonight.

The vigorous, virile tales of the open west will never grow old. Instead, their popularity is increasing day by day. The west, however, has been woefully misrepresented many times, and the tales of that country have been garbled beyond all semblance of facts.

At least one western motion picture star has the sanction of the old plainsmen who knew the west of Buffalo Bill, Bret Harte and others who made and wrote its history. That star is Harry Carey, who comes to the Liberty Theatre Friday in his latest Universal picture, "The Ace of the Saddle."

The picture itself is replete with thrills. To a wholesome, entrancing story of the old cattle rustling days has been added all the enchantment of the motion picture devices. The story concerns a cattle baron who lived on the line between Yucca and Pinkerton Counties. The sheriff of Yucca was crooked. He was implicated in all the devilry that went on in the county. The sheriff of the adjoining county of Pinkerton was square dealing and straight shooting, and the inhabitants of Pinkerton were so orderly that the county finally became the easy-mark of the white-capped raiders of Yucca until—and on that until hangs the threads of a Harry Carey western.

It is the story of a man who needed a six-shooter more than any other one thing in the world, yet ebe beautiful daughter of Pinkerton's sheriff required Cheyenne Harry Henderson, played by Carey, to go unarmed—until—

A DRAMATIC ROMANCE

Mae Murray in The A.B.C. of Love

"I am afraid you will forget me in the big city." Her primitive heart told her the truth. Can a girl, ignorant of the ways of life, ignorant of writing and reading, be transferred from the pots and pans of a kitchen to the home of a man high in society? Does love respect social position? See how this maid taught this man the A B C of love.
