OREGON ANTI-RED LAW IS KANSAS' MODEL

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 17.—The special session of the Kansas legislature just closed put 68 new laws on the statute books. The program of emergency legislation included in Governor H. J. Allen's call practically was carried out to the letter.

In a class by itself as an emergency measure and to enact which in particular the session was called, was the industrial relations court bill. By this statute strikes in essential industries in Kansas are prohibited and a court of three is established to adjudicate the controversies of labor and capital, workmen and employer.

The other laws of general importance enacted were: Anti-syndicalism law, modeled on Oregon statute.

Increasing possible school tax levies fifty per cent to enable districts to pay larger salaries to teachers. Creating state free employment bureau, particularly needed to supervise distribution of workers in wheat harvest season.

Appropriation of $70,000 for Kansas National Guard.

Increasing salaries of supreme court and district judges to $6,000 and $4,500 respectively.

Providing bonus scale for convict miners for all coal dug over nine tons a week.

Authorizing increase in school district bond issue to permit building and equipping school houses.

Fixing sentence of five to fifteen years imprisonment for automobile thieves.

Establishing state commission to regulate rates to service and to stabilize market prices at stock yards and packing houses.

FIRE GODDESS WAS ON BIG RAMPAGE

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H. Feb. 6. (By Mail).—Pele, truculent and whimsical goddess of Halemauau, the "House of Fire" of Kilauea volcano, a few weeks ago was dwelling close to the top of the fire pit. Today her abode is in the cellar, or whatever the depths of a crater are called, for the lava in Kilauea has dropped 337 feet, according to Professor T. A. Jaggar, Jr., observer at the volcano.

When lava of Kilauea forged its way to the air in the middle of the Kau desert six miles from the crater, the level of the firepit dropped with startling rapidity. The speed of the fall has slackened, but the lava still is sinking and the Kau flow still continuing, according to Professor Jaggar.

The original Kau flow reached a point four miles from the sea, then

In the southeastern corner of British Columbia there are more than 1,000,000 acres of proven coal lands, carrying thousands of millions of tons, in which the percentage of high-grade coal is remarkably high.

A court lady in the time of Queen Elizabeth wore a low dress with a long stomacher, an immense ruffe around her neck, a small hat, crinoline, a large fan of ostrich feathers with a mirror attached, highly scented gloves, and frequently a velvet mask. Her feet were shod with pumps of scented Spanish leather, her hair was dyed red, in imitation of the royal locks, and her face was painted and rouged.
