NEW YORK DID NOT CLOSE ON ACCOUNT OF "FLU"

Last year New York city was one of the few places not closed during the "flu" scare. The schools, churches and theaters, ran as usual and the death rate was actually lower than in most other cities. Close all places of amusement and you crowd people together in small, poorly ventilated places. When you remove the opportunity for pleasure you depress people and the action strikes terror into the hearts of the timid and makes them susceptible to disease they would otherwise resist. To sum up, Dr. Royal S. Copeland, health commissioner of New York, says: "Well persons will be benefited by the diversions of the theater. Sick persons should be home for their own good and the public good. Go about your affairs calmly and unafraid. Keep your theaters open and your people happy."

Washington wrote these words to Lafayette

"Nothing but harmony, honesty, industry and frugality are necessary to make us a great and happy people"

FEBRUARY 22 is Washington's birthday; it's a good time for all of us to pause and take his words to heart. We don't need to worry much about the "honesty." The United States has that quality in goodly measure. We do need more "harmony" and all of us need to work harder and save more.
