BE PRETTY, TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

TRY GRANDMOTHER'S OLD FAVORITE RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, gray or streaked. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Susan B. Anthony, whose centenary is about to be celebrated, was the first American woman suffragist to be arrested for her principles. In order to test the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments, she cast ballots at the state and congressional elections at Rochester in 1872. She was indicted for illegal voting and a fine imposed. She defiantly refused to pay the fine, but was never jailed.

One of the best-known examples of a much-married man is afforded by Sir Gervaise Clifton, the historian of Jamaica, who married seven wives, five of them being domestic servants from his own household. His matrimonial ventures all turned out happily.

ORGANIZED TO LOOT CARGOES OF STEAMERS

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 1.—(By Mail.)—Belief that a widespread international organization is at work stealing merchandise from steamships is expressed in a report of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Argentina. The chamber investigated the loss of valuable merchandise by pilfering from ships plying to this port and found "that the same characteristics are visible in thefts of merchandise from Italy, Spain, and England as from the United States."

The investigation was made at the request of the Allied Chambers of Commerce, which asked all the members to make similar investigations. "The increase in pilferage during the past few months has been alarming," says the report. "An effort was made to deduce from the evidence received the value of the goods stolen, but this was impossible, although in general terms it would seem to run into hundreds of thousands of dollars gold."

"One curious feature developed which was that pilferage occurs with frequency in articles sent by parcels post, for which there is no recourse if no value has been declared. The thefts have all the characteristics of systematized robbery by people who know the merchandise and also know the peculiarities of the shippers. It would seem, moreover, that a widespread international organization was at work, for the same characteristics are visible in thefts of merchandise from Italy, France, Spain, and England as from the United States."

"One house imported a lot of 20 automobiles. It is the custom of this factory to pack the set of tools in one special corner of the case. A hole was cut into this particular corner of 29 cases and the tool sets were removed. Apparently the thieves knew exactly where to look for the articles they desired."

"Another house which imports dry goods found that zinc lined cases had been opened, the silk contents removed and an equal weight of coal put into the cases, which were nailed up. Another house, which also imports dry goods, had several cases of silk velvet completely rifled and in the cases were found cotton goods of an inferior quality. Each of these cases involved losses amounting to nearly $10,000 gold. One exporter of silk, from Europe, with the idea of deceiving the thieves, changed his form of packing and also his shipping marks, but the thieves went direct to the packages and rifled them as though they knew beforehand what they contained. Two separate shipments, each containing 150,000 sewing machine needles, were stolen, the empty boxes arriving in Buenos Aires, although in this case the shippers have complete security that the merchandise was loaded on the steamer in proper condition in New York. A merchant makes his custom house declaration in harmony with the shipping documents received from abroad and must pay duty on goods that were stolen."

"The British steamship companies at first, and more recently the American steamship companies, have included in their bills of lading a clause to the effect that the steamer will not be responsible for pilferage in all cases in which loss, can be covered by insurance."

"Insurance companies are increasing their rates and threaten to make still more increases. The attitude of the steamship companies and the captains is a direct invitation to unrestricted theft on board ship. As theft increases, insurance rates will increase, and the eventual prejudice to legitimate commerce threatens to be very grave."

"The opinion of responsible maritime insurance agents and adjusters who are in close touch with the situation is that the only remedy is for the steamship companies to reassume responsibility for pilferage, and in case they are unwilling to do so, governmental pressure should be brought to bear to compel them to eliminate this clause."

SYMBOLS MAY SHOW ORIGIN OF MEXICANS

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 4. (By Mail.)—Hieroglyphics recently discovered on the foundation stones of the pyramids of San Juan Teotihuacan, 27 miles northeast of Mexico City may solve the problem which has perplexed historians and archeologists for centuries as to the true origin of the Mexican nation. These strange carvings are said by some authorities to be Chinese, thus tending to bear out the old tradition that in the dim past warring tribes from China crossed to a new continent, settled within the present boundaries of Mexico and became the progenitors of the race which now dominates this republic.

So interesting are the recent discoveries that the Bureau of Anthropology has been instructed to conduct a vigorous research and in this connection Fong Tsang Kuang, charge d'affaires of the Chinese legation in Mexico, visited the pyramids and stated that the hieroglyphics were similar in many respects to certain symbols now in use by the Chinese. He declared the words "Sun," "City," and "Eye" were clearly depicted. Mexican anthropologists who have interested themselves in the discovery have declined to pass final judgment until further excavations are made and more evidence obtained.

The pyramids of San Juan Teotihuacan as well as those in Cholula in the state of Puebla are among the oldest marks of primitive habitation to be found in the republic. They stand as colossal monuments to peoples whose history was as obscure to the conquering Spaniards in the 16th century as to present day historians. Because of their general construction, some authorities believe they are the handiwork of the Egyptians who in some mysterious manner crossed the seas and denoted their places of permanent habitation with these stone and cement structures which are even larger than the more famous pyramids of Egypt.

The little village of San Juan Teotihuacan which in the Aztec language meant "City of the Gods", was in the early days of Aztec history the scene of extraordinary religious ceremonies. The two pyramids, one dedicated to the Sun, the other to the Moon, are known to have been the tombs in which hundreds of tribal dignitaries were buried and excavators have exhumed wrought stone containing human bones, obsidian knives, terra cotta heads with broad faces and flat noses, fragments of rare pottery and great numbers of arrowheads. One of the most recent and most valuable discoveries was a jadeite mask of some past monarch with the brow covered with the diadem known to early Mexican history. The pyramid to the Sun measures 761 x 721 feet at the base and is 216 feet high; the one to the Moon is 511 x 426 feet at the base and is 151 feet high. They both contain numerous chambers and their several stories are complete temples in themselves but connected by winding stairs.

The inscriptions having Chinese characteristics were discovered thru excavating in the ruins of what has generally been known as La Ciudadela (The Citadel) but which, according to recent reports of investigators, are what is left of a pyramid larger, and perhaps, older than the two pyramids to the Sun and the Moon.

FUNERAL COST IS RAISED IN CHINA

HANGTUNG, China, Jan. 26. (By Mail.)—The influenza epidemic in this district has caused so many deaths that there is a shortage of caskets and their price has risen 400 per cent in recent weeks.

Because of this many bodies have been buried in shrouds only, a practice uncommon even among the poorest Chinese. Another departure that has been forced upon the people by the existing situation is that Feng Shui, or the practice of geomancy in connection with funerals by which grave sites and times of burial and other details are determined, is being ignored for the first time, for no longer can notice be taken of unlucky days for holding funerals. Whole households are being wiped out by the epidemic.

There is a noticeable change in the style of play of the rookie wonders signed by the "higher ups" nowadays. Previous to this year the youngsters were second Ty Cobbs, but now they all hit like "Babe" Ruth.

Upon March 1st, the day of our Spring Opening, we will have ready for your inspection not only the largest and most beautiful selection of Dress and Tailored Hats, including New York reproductions of French patterns, but Paris Hats also, imported direct by ourselves. Also nearly five hundred Blouses, in Georgette, French and American Voiles, etc. These will include new models in Blouses, Smocks, Russian Blouses, with long, three-quarter and plenty of new short sleeves; and in all the new shades, such as Bermuda, Blue Dawn, Chrysis, Peach-bloom, etc. Silk Petticoats of best quality and high-class workmanship. Every Hat and every Blouse has been personally selected in New York by our Miss Gertrude Eckman, and only from makers having a national reputation for high-class models. The styles are exclusive. In this new department our aim will be not so much to see how cheaply we can sell an article, as to supply you with our hats, something that is satisfactory and that you can wear with full assurance that no one can obtain a duplicate of it in this city.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble. The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood and poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoon in a glass of water before breakfast every morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

During the winter months the blood of all hibernating animals gets lower in temperature, and the heart beats slower, and those are the two chief reasons why they are able to get along without eating, for their store of vitality laid up during the summer is only slowly drawn upon.
