AT THE THEATERS
 The management of The Liberty announces that it has secured for a limited engagement the dramatic novelty of the year, "The Long Arm of Mannister." Henry B. Walthall, who is now recognized as the master of the screen has the stellar honors in this production, and is supported by a large cast which includes such players as Helene Chadwick and Olive Ann Alcorn.
 The picture is a film adaptation of the famous novel by E. Phillips Oppenheim, which ran in serial form in the Saturday Evening Post and the majority of the larger newspapers in the country. The story is surcharged with romance, swift action, and powerful situations.
 The scenic settings are pretentious and elaborate. The gowns worn by the women are the latest Parisian designs and were especially made for the ladies appearing in this production.
 This picture gives Mr. Walthall one of the most effective parts that he has ever played, and his army of followers in all parts of the country are justly proud of the remarkable work of their favorite.
 Record crowds are expected at the Liberty, and the management respectfully suggests that its patrons come early. The other features of the bill are up to the high standard set by the Liberty.
 "The Long Arm of Mannister" is at the Liberty tonight.
 Romance and the glamor of beautiful girls contribute an exotic setting to "Lombardi, Ltd.," in which, as Tito Lombardi, an eccentric Italian gown designer, Bert Lytell has one of the most picturesque roles of his career. In his Fifth Avenue dress-making establishment, where society women come for their silken creations, Lombardi dreams his dreams and makes his tender love to a girl who proves false to him.
 Aesthetic and generous, his business slowly goes to ruin, almost, because of his faith in men and women. How his sweet and pretty little assistant, Norah, eventually comes to his rescue and awakens him to a realization of her loyalty and love is told in a fascinating comedy drama unfolded by those master craftsmen, Frederic and Fanny Hatton. On the stage, "Lombardi, Ltd." was presented by Oliver Morosco for a season in New York and more than a year on tour.

BLANKET STIFF FAST PASSING

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 27.—That working men will no longer carry blankets and the odious term "blanket tramp" will disappear from California after this year, is the belief of officials of the Public Employment Bureau. The elimination of liquor is responsible, they say.
 "Workingmen are becoming more independent," said Fred W. Chapman, manager of the bureau, yesterday. "It is hard to dictate terms on which a man will work when he has money in his pocket, and now that booze is gone most of the men have it."
 "Formerly, when one of these men came to town, he usually spent his hard-earned money in a few days and then was forced to pawn his clothes to get enough to get a job and buy blankets. But now that he has money he is more self-respecting and more independent."

"It has always been the custom of the employer in this country to demand that their prospective employees have their own bedding, for with so much whiskey running freely, few of them cared to take the men into their houses. But now we have for the most part a sober class of labor. The men who employ them in large numbers are willing to spend a little money to give them comfortable quarters.
 "The 'blanket tramp' will undoubtedly disappear very soon here. Most of the men feel sensitive about carrying a roll and this feeling is causing a reaction that will eliminate them."

NEW AIR ROUTE

LONDON, Jan. 30.—(By Mail.)—British government agents have proposed an air route between Europe and South America via Paris, Madrid, Rabat, in Morocco, Bathurst, on the west coast of Africa, and thence by a 1450-mile ocean route to Pernambuco. The ocean passage is comparatively short and lies in a region of equatorial calm.

HORSE MEDICINE IS USED EFFECTIVELY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—It was serum prepared by veterinary scientists of the bureau of animal industry for experimental purposes in treating forage poisoning of horses that saved the life of Lena Delbane, after the other six members of her family had died from eating poisonous olives in New York recently, according to the department of agriculture. The serum was made from the blood of a sheep that had been immunized against bacillus botulinus poisoning.
 In investigating forage poisoning of horses the bureau of animal industry made extensive experiments with serums and discovered there were two strains of bacillus botulinus. They look alike and the poisons they create produce the same effect, but immunization against one does not afford immunization against the other. The two strains are commonly known by the government investigators as "the olive strain" and "the cheese strain."
 Three instances of olive poisoning, one in Michigan, one in Ohio and the third in Montana, were all caused by "the olive strain." The veterinarians, therefore, were reasonably certain that the serum affording protection against the poison generated by "the olive strain" would be effective in the New York cases, and it proved to be in the one case where it could be given a fair trial.

A SHORT TRIP BUT HIGHLY EXPENSIVE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—Rolling a keg of beer or a barrel of wine across a sidewalk is in violation of the transportation provisions of the Federal prohibition enforcement act, United States District Judge, Frank H. Rudkin so decided in fining F. H. Young of Weed, Siskiyou county, $100 for a violation of the act.
 Young testified he merely had aided a neighbor in rolling the casks into his cellar. He pleaded not guilty in the federal court in Sacramento and later pleaded guilty here.

PENNSYLVANIA COAL OUTPUT SMALL, 1919

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—Production of anthracite coal in Pennsylvania in 1919 was the lowest in seven years. There were mined 86,200,000 tons, compared with 98,826,000 tons in 1918.
 Bituminous coal production reached the lowest level since 1915, with 458,063,000 tons, nearly 21,000,000 tons less than last year.
 The soft coal mines in the first week of January reached normal for the first time since the miners returned to work after the strike agreement. Production was 107 per cent of normal. This is a larger rate of production than for any similar period of the history of the Geological Survey, which gave out the figures.
 A member of the British parliament is unable to resign unless his application is agreed to by a majority of the members.

SALE OF TIMBER KLAMATH INDIAN RESERVATION AGENCY UNIT.

Sealed bids in duplicate, marked outside, "Bid Agency Timber Unit" and addressed to Superintendent, Klamath Indian School, Klamath Agency, Oregon, will be received until twelve o'clock noon, Pacific time, Wednesday, March 24, 1920, for the purchase of timber on a tract, in township 34 south, range 7 east of the Willamette Meridian in Klamath Indian Reservation, lying between the J. J. Steiger Sale area and the so-called Spring Creek Sales areas. The said unit includes 1360 acres of unallotted land with an estimated stand of five million feet as to which contract will be made with the Superintendent and about 800 acres of allotted lands with an estimated stand of three million feet as to which separate approved contracts with the Indian owners may probably be made. More than ninety per cent of the timber is western yellow pine and the remainder is white fir, Douglas fir and sugar pine. Each bid must state the price per thousand feet Scribner Decimal C. Log Scale that will be paid for timber cut and sealed. No bid of less than three dollars and fifty cents ($3.50) per M. foot for yellow pine and one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) for other species will be considered. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check on a solvent national bank, payable to the Superintendent of the Klamath Indian School, in the amount of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). The deposit will be returned if the bid is rejected but retained as liquidated damages if the required contract and bond are not executed and presented for approval within sixty days from the acceptance of a bid. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Copies of the bid and contract forms and other information may be obtained from Superintendent Indian School, Klamath Agency, Oregon.

The only difference between school-boy shinney and varsity hockey is the varsity's ability to swing harder and land oftener on their opponents.

It is a brilliant fashion show, an absorbing love story and a revelation in beautiful womanhood, whimsicalities and an occasional heart tug. "Lombardi, Ltd.," comes to the Liberty Sunday afternoon.
