THE EVENING HERALD, KLAMATH FALLS, OREGON

PAGE TWO

Stocks at the lumber mills of Western Oregon and Western Washington are slightly below normal, according to the monthly report of the West Coast Lumberman's Association, and on account of the continued demand for lumber it is considered unlikely that a normal volume of stocks will be attained for more than a year.

Even though the present stocks are below normal, they would be materially lower if the mills had enough cars to fill the orders now on their books.

The report shows that the stock of the higher grades of lumber is relatively lower than the common grades.

Manufacturers now seem fully aware that they can expect no substantial relief from the chronic car shortage until the railroads have had a chance to supply themselves with some new equipment. .

They are very cautious, therefore. about accepting new business, Last week, according to the 127 mills reporting to the association barometer, new orders were held down to 52,277,904 feet, which, it is estimated, was less than 50 per cent of the volume of business actually offered. An aggregate of 42,639,000 feet or 1421 cars of this, new business was booked by rail. The rail shipments from the same mills for the same period were 2036 cars. This excess of shipments over orders gave these mills a chance to move some of the business that the car shortage has forced them to accummulate on their books in the last few months. Mills report the log supply somewhat light and prices are advancing.

Labor costs also have advanced since the first of the year. The car shortage has increased the financial burden of the mills as it frequently has prevented them from loading stocks that were ready to move.

All reports from the consuming territory indicate that building ac tivities throughout the country will be brisk this year and that the demands for lumber will exceed the probable cut at the mills even if this cut can be moved, which it cannot.

Lumbermen hope for an improve ment in car conditions when the roads go back to the private owners and are joining with other industries of the Northwest in an appeal to the railroad authorities to provide for a representative of this region on whatever car distributing board or bureau is formed after the roads are restored.
