—You have seen the piles of good lumber wasted in building the old way—cutting your wood as you need it. That was the expensive, unnecessary thing in building that we have eliminated—in this better home that comes to you.

CUT TO FIT AT OUR MILL

The other big thing is labor. It isn't the putting in place that makes building expensive. It's the fitting, the measuring, and the following the plan—the hand-sawing that results, that costs money. All that we have eliminated. You can build it yourself with unskilled labor.

WOULD BAR RED FLAG, PORTO RICO

SAN JUAN, P. R., Feb. 16.—(By Mail.)—The federal grand jury has presented to Judge Hamilton a resolution asking that the use of the red flag as an emblem in public should be absolutely prohibited on this island. The jury requested that the authorities take steps to prevent the carrying of the flag in processions or its display in public places. It declared that the red flag was "universally recognized as the emblem of anarchy, always employed to incite disorders," and that it was being freely used here.

WIRELESS SENDS AUTOMATIC S. O. S.

LONDON, Feb. 9. (By Mail.)—A novel wireless emergency calling device by which ships in distress can ring alarm bells on other ships within wireless range, is reported by the American Chamber of Commerce in London.

The present wireless system of communication requires that an operator to hear a call must be on duty, wearing the usual telephone headset. The new device is said to enable any station or ship equipped with a special automatic transmitter key to call up any stationer ship within range, fitted with a corresponding selective receiver relay, even if the operator is absent. The calling up, according to the American Chamber, is effected by a bell which starts ringing on the ships called.

It is claimed that one of the most important uses of the devices will be to ensure immediate and general attention to S. O. S. calls.

RE-EMPLOYMENT OF SOLDIERS IS GREAT PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Mar. 5.—Some idea of the magnitude and difficulty of the task which confronted the government in re-absorbing its fighting men into peace-time industry may be gained from the year's figures made public today by the office of the assistant to the secretary of war in charge of re-employment for soldiers and sailors.

Reports to Washington, which cover all 48 states and the District of Columbia, show that 1,299,365 men have applied for employment in twelve months at the bureaus maintained by the various governmental and welfare agencies. Of these 919,754 have been placed at work, or 71 per cent of all seeking employment. Detailed figures are given for 501 cities.

In the far western and Pacific coast states, 160,956 men have registered for employment, and 127,663 have been put at work, or 79 per cent of all applying. Figures by states are:

Arizona, registered 4,939, placed 4,113; California, registered 63,974, placed 50,743; Idaho, registered 2,289, placed 1,738; Montana, registered 12,499, placed 9,538; Nevada, registered 892, placed 718; New Mexico, registered 2,349, placed 1,499; Oregon, registered, 31,795, placed 28,402; Utah, registered 3,935, placed 1,757; Washington, registered 30,476, placed 23,517; Wyoming, registered 7,808, placed 5,638.

A year's figures from some of the larger cities in this section show men placed in jobs as follows:

Phoenix, 1,805; Bisbee, 1,188; San Francisco, 16,937; Los Angeles, 15,011; Oakland, 9,139; San Diego, 2,894; Fresno, 1,417; Stockton, 1,216; Long Beach, 1,130; Sacramento, 1,069; Boise, 971; Pocatello, 660; Butte, 4,052; Reno, 565; Albuquerque, 1,439; Portland, 20,826; Eugene, 5,760; Salt Lake City, 1,557; Seattle, 11,765; Spokane, 4,518; Cheyenne, 5,351.

"It is estimated that about 75 per cent of the more than 4,000,000 of our demobilized men went back to their former positions, or found employment without asking assistance," says Lieutenant Colonel Matthew C. Smith, general staff, of the service and information branch, which now handles all the problems of discharged soldiers and sailors.

"We have on file to date the names of 68,104 firms and individuals pledging themselves to take back everybody who left them to serve in the war, and the war department has issued government citations to them in recognition of this patriotic attitude. However, this office has been chiefly concerned since March of last year with those other men who were not so fortunate as to find their old jobs waiting for them. The public can judge of results by the figures themselves.

"No single agency, government or otherwise, could have hoped to solve this stupendous problem. The work needed the assistance of all agencies and the co-operation of the general public. Both were forthcoming, promptly and in full measure. Investigation showed, however, that there was neither uniformity of method nor co-ordination of effort in the work being done to secure employment for former service men. This resulted in many cases in inefficiency. The employment bureaus lacked the confidence of both employers and men. There was an urgent need that each town have at its disposal all the resources available for this important work, with a central committee whose governing body should be made up of a representative from each of the agencies furnishing the means for its operation. Employers and men could then deal with one agency.

"To furnish this much-needed co-ordination and stimulation, the service and information branch was established by the government. This branch also served the important purpose of giving governmental sanction to those engaged in the work. Established primarily for employment work, it was called on to furnish advice and assistance covering all the questions arising out of the service of the former soldiers and sailors. Many of these requests were of a most urgent nature. Our work has thus broadened until it now in-

BIG EDUCATION BOARD FUND DISTRIBUTED

NEW YORK, Mar. 5.—Appropriations to colleges and universities totaling $1,675,000 were announced in the annual report of the General Education Board, issued today. The board was founded by John D. Rockefeller to promote education in the United States "without distinction of race, sex or creed."

A half million dollars was appropriated to the Harvard graduate school, Drury College of Springfield, Mo., and Tulane University, New Orleans, received $200,000 each. Others included were Agnes Scott College, Decatur, Ga., $175,000; West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, W. Va., $125,000; College of St. Catherine, St. Paul, Minn., $100,000; Emory and Henry College, Emory, Va., $75,000; Salem College, Winston-Salem, N. C., $75,000; Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., $75,000; Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Ia., $50,000; Dakota Wesleyan University, Mitchell, S. D., $50,000 and Jamestown College, Jamestown, N. D., $50,000.

Appropriations for medical schools amounted to $700,000, distributed as follows: John Hopkins University, $400,000; Washington University, St. Louis, $150,000; Meharry Medical School, Nashville, Tenn., $150,000.

The board contributed $767,555 to negro schools, mainly for annual maintenance, and $115,000 for experimental education contributed to Teachers' College for the support of the Lincoln School.

In addition, the Board appropriated $199,795 as its regular support given Southern State Universities and Southern State Departments of education for work in the secondary education field and for the promotion of rural education.

Referring to Mr. Rockefeller's recent gift of $70,000,000 of which $20,000,000 was for medical education, the board's report says that it will now be possible to aid medical schools whose clinical departments are not on a full time basis. The system of university clinical teaching organized at Johns Hopkins, Washington University and Yale will be introduced at the University of Chicago and at Vanderbilt University.

As a result of the Board's survey of public education in Delaware last year, the report says that a comprehensive school code modern type has been adopted. A similar survey is in progress in North Carolina and appropriations have been made to supplement funds provided locally for surveys in Virginia and in Alabama.

SAYS PLANE WILL NOT REACH POLE

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 27. (By Mail.)—An airplane will be of little service in attempting to reach the South Pole, in the opinion of Dr. Griffith Taylor, of the Australian Meteorological Bureau, who was formerly an Antarctic explorer. Dr. Taylor said he believed that the expedition to the South Pole to be conducted next summer by Dr. J. L. Cope would find it difficult to reach the South Pole by the air route. He said: "Hurricanes blow for weeks in the Antarctic and can spring up in half an hour from nothing to 60 miles an hour. I do not think it possible that an airplane can rise above a blizzard. It can not stay up indefinitely and it can not descend."

Dr. Taylor is skeptical as to the mineral wealth of the Antarctic, for which Dr. Cope's expedition is specially to explore. Speaking from his own experiences, he does not think there is anything of economic value on the coast of the Antarctic continent; and, although coal is to be found inland, the extent of the deposits, he says, is uncertain and it is improbable on account of its remoteness that it can be mined within the next 50 years.

cludes any matter affecting a soldier's welfare which has resulted from his service during the war."

As an example of these activities, in one day this week more than $7,000 in six checks was secured from various government departments by the service and information branch for ex-service men. Two of them were for more than $1,200 each.

AUSTRALIAN EMPHASIZES RIGHT TO VOTE

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 26.—(By Mail.)—Australia's claim to the right to have one vote in the council of the league of nations was defended by Sir Joseph Cook, minister of the navy, who was a delegate to the peace conference, in a recent speech here. Commenting on the attitude of a section of the United States senate toward the league, he said: "America is making objection to clause X in the league's charter. The objection is political from first to last. I believe that when the presidential election is over all objection will end." On the question of Australian representation in the council of the league, Sir Joseph said:

"The Americans led by Senator Lodge say that the British Empire should have only one vote. Senator Lodge's party objects to the empire having five or six times the voting power of the United States. It is not a fair statement. All the other states in America have one vote."

Sir Joseph enumerated under this head Bolivia, Brazil, Cuba, Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras, Liberia, Haiti, Nicaragua, Panama, Peru, and Uruguay, and pointed out that the population of these countries were largely Indian or negro. "The South American states," he continued, "have 12 votes. How do the British dominions stand? New Zealand, Canada, Australia, South Africa, India, each has only one vote. "Australia's sacrifices in the war—60,000 dead—were greater than America's, and all died in an effort to make America safe. America was for three or four years out of the war, while Australia was helping to keep her free.

"It has been said that there is no force by which to carry out the treaty. There is the force in the background, and other things—the penalty of ostracism and the boycott. No nation, unless it can conquer the world, can ignore these penalties."
