

WILL STUDY S. A. INDIANS

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 11. (By Mail) —Dr. Gustaf Bolinder, Swedish explorer, who some years ago made a notable journey of exploration to Colombia and Venezuela, will start again shortly for these countries to study the Indian tribes in their northern territories. As before, Dr. Bolinder will be accompanied by his intrepid wife.

During their last trip they lived for a year with the Indians on the Sierra Nevada de Santa Marta. Later he produced facts said to prove that these Indians were closely related to the Incas.

Dr. Bolinder told a correspondent of the Associated Press that the new tour of exploration would be directed mainly toward a study of the tribes between the Magdalena River and Lake Maracaibo. These parts of the world, he said, were wealthy and had a big population when the Spaniards first crossed over. The conquerors, however, soon laid waste to the country, and the Indians now are found only in the isolated mountains and the jungles. There are as yet large unknown territories, especially on the frontier between Colombia and Venezuela.

"The Indian tribes living here are of great interest and among them I expect to find traces of the old mountain culture," said Dr. Bolinder. "From the mountains here where the folk of culture lived, the enlightenment of the so-called gold-age was widely spread. The tribes were in possession of so much gold when discovered by the Spaniards they willingly exchanged the precious metal for objects of copper and iron."

EMIGRATION OF ENGLISH WOMEN

New York, Mar. 6.—The Salvation Army in the British Isles, working in co-operation with the government, is promoting emigration of approximately 1,250,000 women in excess of the male population there. Commissioner David C. Lamb, London foreign secretary of the Army on a mission to the United States has announced here.

Spinsterhood or emigration is the fate of these women, the commissioner asserted, adding:

"We offer no apology for active propaganda designed to procure a better distribution of the sexes. There are a million and a quarter more women than men in the British Isles today, and one of the biggest after the war tasks assigned the Salvation Army in Britain is to stimulate female emigration and direct it to those colonies in the British Empire such as western Canada and portions of Africa and Australia where there are more male than female inhabitants. The prospect of placing female domestics in the United States has not been overlooked.

"The Salvation Army has despatched several shiploads of emigrants to Canada already. We help them make arrangements to leave the old country, provide transportation when necessary and through our world-wide organization see to it that the emigrants are safely settled in the new land.

"Our records show that of the girls who emigrated some years ago to certain sections where women were in the minority 69 per cent were married within three years of their arrival. This fact and the opportunities for work at good wages in other lands are not without significance to the tens of thousands of thoughtful and enterprising women in the British Isles."

Other after-the-war conditions in the British Isles included the virtual disappearance of the vagrant, and the shortage of agricultural labor due in part to the wartime cultivation of more than 2,000,000 acres of grass land, Commissioner Lamb said.

The success or failure of "social option" in Scotland will furnish a "good indication" on the prospects for prohibition in the Isles, he said, adding that the "probabilities are that the public houses will go in many parts of Scotland.

"In Great Britain as a whole, however, the tendency is toward a restriction on the sale of liquor in public houses—corresponding to the American saloons—and continuation of limitation as to hours. This makes for temperance rather than prohibition. However much they may scoff English brewers are taking the prohibition threat much more seriously than they are willing to admit, and are spending large sums in counter-propaganda. They are obviously worried.

"Everybody is waiting to analyze the results of nation-wide prohibition in the United States."

KNIGHTS OF BATH ARE TO INSTALL

LONDON, Mar. 6.—A solemn installation of Knights Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath will take place with all the historic ceremonies in the Henry VII chapel of Westminster Abbey during May says the Express.

The Chapel holds 36 stalls and the scene when the King revived the ceremony seven years ago was one of magnificent splendors surpassed only by a coronation ceremony.

An outdoor procession from the Princess Chamber in the House of Lords, where the Knights and Companions put on their crimson robes and white plumes, to the Abbey, will be followed by a complete procession and a rendering of the Te Deum. The solemn Bath Ceremonies in the chapel include the redemption of their swords by the Knights about to be installed, the actual installation by the Sovereign as Grand Master, and the taking of the Solemn Oath of the Order.

"DRYS" HARD AT IT IN LAND OF RYE.

EDINBURGH, Feb. 14. (By Mail) —Scotland's new local option law will come into effect on June 1, and the prohibitionists are projecting a lively campaign throughout the country to persuade the people to vote their districts "dry" at the next election. The prohibitionists express the hope that if Scotland can be made dry under this law, England and Wales may demand similar legislation.

OLYMPIC GAMES GREATEST OF ALL

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—Copies of the official program of the Olympic Games to be staged in Belgium during a period from April to October, recently received in this country, disclose arrangements for one of the most ambitious international meets in the history of the athletic classic. Close to thirty different branches of sport competitions are provided including individual and team contests aggregating several hundred events. All the famous competitions which have made the Olympic Games noted in past revivals, including the Marathon race, Pentathlon and Decathlon are continued and early advices indicate a larger and more varied entry by nations than ever before.

Elaborate distribution of prizes and trophies is provided, heavy gold, silver and bronze Olympic medals being the award to the first three competitors in all of the track and certain other contests. In addition there will be special diplomas, cups, statues, bowls and other prizes for the winners of the more important events. Many of these were donated by the rulers and titled personages of European countries for past Olympiads and are in the possession of individuals or nations having won temporary title to the prizes at Stockholm in 1912.

VACUUM PACKED

HOT WATER FOR SICK HEADACHES

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headaches are caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head, producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilid, aspirin or the bromides, which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache, but will cleanse, purify and freshen the alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

GOES ON ERRAND.

BERLIN, Feb. 13. (By Mail).—As instancing the laxity with which the Prussian state railways are now administered the Tageblatt cites the case of a Bremen engineer who took an idle engine and rode to a point nearby to buy yeast for his wife and to visit his aunt. Then he returned the engine to the Bremen round-house.

NEW GLASS METHOD

FIND SUBSCRIPTION RATE INEFFECTIVE

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 27. (By Mail).—The fourteen daily newspapers of this city which on January 1 doubled the price of their papers because of the increased cost of all material, especially newsprint paper, entering into their production, have restored their old price of 100 reis (about 2 1-2 cents) a copy. One paper which had concluded an advantageous contract with a Scandinavian firm for paper annulled its agreement with the other papers to maintain the price at 200 reis.

In announcing their return to the old price, the newspapers stated that 100 reis did not cover even the cost of the white paper.
