TEXT OF NOTE SENT PREMIERS BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Mar. 11.—President Wilson's note to the premiers on the Adriatic situation follows:

"The president desires to express his sincere and cordial interest in the response of the French and British prime ministers received on February 27. He notes with satisfaction their unqualified desire to reach an equitable solution in conformity with the principles of the peace conference and of the legitimate though conflicting aspirations of the Italian and Jugo-Slav people. He further welcomes their expressed intention regarding certain essential points to bring upon the governments interested that they should bring their desires into line with the American point of view."

"The president is surprised, however, that they should find in the statement of his willingness to leave to the joint agreement of Italy and Jugo-Slavia the settlement of their common frontiers in the Fiume region any ground for suggesting the withdrawal of the joint memorandum of December 9. In this he could not possibly join. The memorandum represents deliberate and disinterested judgment after months of earnest discussion. It constituted more than a mere exchange of views; it was a statement of principle and a recapitulation of the chief points upon which agreement had been reached. There was thus afforded a summary review of these points of agreement of the French, British and American governments and the memorandum should remain as it was intended to be, the basis of reference representing the combined opinion of these governments."

"In referring to the common frontier in the Fiume region the president had in mind the expressed desire of the two interested governments to abandon the project of the free state of Fiume as defined in the memorandum of December 9."

"If, as he understands, the government of the Serb-Croat-Slovene state prefer to abandon the so-called buffer state containing an overwhelming majority of Jugo-Slavs and desire to limit the proposed free state to the corpus separatum of Fiume, placing the sovereignty in the League of Nations without either Italian or Jugo-Slav control then the government of the United States is prepared to accept this proposal, and is willing under such circumstances to leave the determination of the common frontier to Italy and Jugo-Slavia. In this connection, the president desires to reiterate that he would gladly approve a mutual agreement between the Italian and Jugo-Slav governments reached without prejudice to the territorial or other interests of any third nation, but Albanian questions should not be included in the proposed joint discussion of Italy and Jugo-Slavia and the president must re-affirm that he cannot possibly approve any plan which assigns to Jugo-Slavia in the northern districts of Albania territorial compensation for which she is deprived of elsewhere. Concerning the economic outlet for Jugo-Slavia in the region of Scutari suggested in the note under reply, the president desires to refer to the memorandum of December 9 as making provisions to meet the needs of Jugo-Slavia."

"Regarding the character and applicability of the treaty of London the president is lead to speak with less reserve on account of the frank observations of the French and British prime ministers. He is unable to find in the exigencies of military strategy sufficient warrant for exercising secrecy with a government which was intimately associated with the signatories of the treaty of London in the gigantic task of defending human freedom and which was being called upon for unlimited assistance and for untold treasure. The definite and well accepted policy of the American government throughout its participation in the deliberations of the peace conference was that it did not consider itself bound by secret treaties of which it previously had not known the existence. Where the provisions of such treaties were just and reasonable the United States was willing to respect them. But the French and British prime ministers will of course not expect the government of the United States to approve the execution of the treaty of London except insofar as that government may be convinced that those terms are intrinsically just and are consistent with the maintenance of peace and settled order in southeastern Europe."

"The absence of an American representative with plenary power, is to be regretted and may have been a source of inconvenience but the president can recall several instances where decisions in the supreme council were delayed while the British and French representatives sought the views of their governments, and he is convinced that time would have been saved and many misunderstandings avoided if before actual decisions had been reached and communicated to the Italian and Jugo-Slav delegation this government had been given sufficient indication of the fact that the British and French governments intended radically to depart from the memorandum of December 9."

"In conclusion the president desires to express his concurrence in the view of the British and French prime ministers that a speedy settlement of the Adriatic question is of urgent importance. But he cannot accept as just the implied suggestion of his responsibility for the failure to reach a solution. He has merely adhered to the provisions of a settlement which the French and British governments recognized as equitable in the joint memorandum of December 9 and has declined to approve a new settlement negotiated without the knowledge or approval of the American government, which was unacceptable to one of the interested governments and which, in his opinion, was in direct contradiction of the principles for the defense of which America entered the war. These views he has fully explained in his note of February tenth and he ventures to express the earnest hope that the allied governments will not find it necessary to decide on a course which the American government in accordance with its reiterated statement will be unable to follow."

HARDLY KNEW HER AT SIGHT

Friends of Los Angeles Woman are Astonished by Her Wonderful Improvement on taking a course of Tanlac

"I have gained some eight or ten pounds since I commenced taking Tanlac and feel perfectly splendid in every way," said Miss Annie Peck, living at 1421 Charlotte St., Kansas City, Mo. "I just can't think of enough good things to say about Tanlac," she continued.

"My troubles began about a year ago with nervous indigestion and my stomach finally got in such bad condition that everything I ate disagreed with me. After every meal I would be perfectly miserable from gas forming, and this gas would press up against my lungs and heart until I could hardly get my breath. I also suffered from severe headaches and became so nervous I rarely ever got a good night's sleep. Finally I became so weak and run down that I had to give up trying to do any work at all."

"My brother had gotten fine results from taking Tanlac so I began taking it, too, and right from the first I could just feel my strength coming back. I continued to improve and now am as well and hearty as any one could wish to be and never have a sign of stomach trouble or nervousness any more. I am looking so much better that my friends who haven't seen me since I began taking Tanlac hardly know me at first sight, and I am feeling so perfectly fine I just want to tell everybody about Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Klamath Falls by the Star Drug Co., in Lorella by the James Marx Co., and in Merrill by the Southern Oregon Drug Co.—adv.

VANDERBILT BRIDAL HOME IS LEASED

LONDON, Feb. 22. (By Mail).—The palatial London house which W. K. Vanderbilt gave to his daughter, Consuela, as a wedding gift when she became the Duchess of Marlborough, has become the home of the British branch of the League of Nations. The government has leased the mansion and official business already is being transacted there.
This house, which is situated in the heart of the fashionable section in Curzon Street, is one of the most costly in the city. It is built of marble and other stone in the French style, and from the outside looks more like a bank than a residence. It is understood that the League of Nations officials and employees are having troubles, despite the magnificence of their surroundings. The great and ornate ball-room, for example, while much admired from an artistic point of view, develops eccentric draughts which cause much discomfort to the unlucky officials and clerks who are stationed in it.
In addition to this house, the League of Nations has also taken two other buildings in Piccadilly, since they needed more accommodations than the home of the Duchesses provided.

LONDON, Feb. 22. (By Mail).—The remodeling of saloons to make them attractive forms part of the scheme evolved as a counter-move to the prohibitionists who have sworn to make this country dry. Brewers and licensed victuallers have hired architects to plan large, airy, public houses where food as well as drink can be obtained.
