GIVE LIBRARY TO BELGIAN CHILDREN

NEW YORK, Mar. 11. — The gift of the children of America to the children of Belgium, the first juvenile reading room in Europe, will be opened in Brussels about the first of May, it has been announced here by the book committee of the Art War Relief. The committee conducted the campaign for funds, which to establish the reading room, which is the first of a series to be opened in France and Belgium. These reading rooms will be called "L'Heure Joyeuse"—Joyous Hour—and will be replicas of the pleasant children's reading rooms in American libraries. The book committee is supplying books and library furniture. The first shipment of books has already arrived in Brussels. E. Jacquin, Belgian, Minister of Education wrote:

"Belgian children have no opportunity to read at all, except such books as might exist in their homes. There is neither free nor paying libraries for them. Not only children but teachers, parents and public officials will catch that New World spirit, that free, broad democratic sense, that respect for the child as a future citizen, which everyone coming to America cannot fail to admire."

RAIN SHORTAGE AFFECTS ENTIRE PAC. NORTHWEST

CORVALLIS, Ore., Mar. 11.—A shortage of 14.83 inches of rainfall from October 1 to March 1, last, over the normal for the last third of a century, is reported by the agricultural college irrigation department. This is an index of conditions all over the Pacific northwest, says T. A. H. Teeter, irrigation engineer, who warns users to make the best possible use of storage waters against a possible shortage next summer.

Most of the shortage came in January and February of this year. It totals 19.63 inches below normal. Precipitation for February was only .12 inch against the normal of 5.55 inches.

"Rainfall in these months affect the summer flow of streams much more than that of the earlier months, which largely goes into the ground to make up the dry season deficit," explains Professor Teeter.

"Snowfall in the mountains is far short of normal. Mountain passes like the McKenzie ordinarily snowbound till July 1, are now open to automobile traffic. Mary's peak, which generally carries a cloak of snow well into June, is entirely bare."

Irrigation managers are urged to stop all leaks in canals and see that measuring devices are in perfect working order. As water becomes scarcer it will be more valuable.

Irrigation farmers are advised to plan field irrigation to avoid all waste and to supplement irrigation with cultivation. They should be patient if the supply should run low.

Power plant managers may expect to have to resort to steam auxiliaries more than normal, and they may look to their fuel supply.

Cities using water-treatment plants for purity may prepare for an increase in impurities, due to heavy concentration of supply.

Elements of Value in Prescription Work

Quality Knowledge Care

Quality in relation to drugs and medicines is a very uncertain quantity. A drug may be a second or third grade drug and yet be first quality in its grade. Quality is important in drugs because it is only through quality that you get the best remedial value. Our care, our knowledge, our experience is devoted to the selection of quality drugs as demanded by the best of physicians.

Knowledge is the science of knowing how to do a thing right. In prescription work knowledge is of vast importance because prescription compounding is scientific. Knowledge is employed in the filling of prescriptions here, every bit of this work being done by pharmacists who have passed examinations to prove their knowledge.

Care must be exercised in the filling of every prescription to determine that quantities are correct as well as qualities, and that each scientific step in the compounding has been properly followed. Results and even safety depend upon this method. Proof must be given and this is done by a double and triple checking process where one pharmacist checks up on another's work.

Quality, knowledge and care you get combined in every prescription that bears our label, and in addition you get a guarantee against imitation or substitution and an assurance of the exact following of the doctor's orders. Indeed, ours are medicines as they should be and handled as they should be and can only give the best results to the patient.
