WOMAN SCORES
UNION ATTITUDE

LONDON, Feb. 18.—(By Mail.)—Mrs. Henry Fawcett, a widely known suffragist, complains that the trade unions constantly are opposing and thwarting the employment of women, notwithstanding the fact that women stand for equal pay for equal work. She told the Women's Institute that the women workers have been urged not to undercut the men who were their comrades in industry. She urged women to constantly appeal to the most enlightened members of all political parties cray of that evil institution. If ever the saloon served a legitimate purpose, that justification long since passed. But the necessity for destroying the saloon did not and does not justify the infringement of individual rights—the invasion of personal liberty—involved in absolute and wholesale prohibition, with its attendant demoralizations. If the leaders of the "great moral movement" had been honest, if they had been faithful to their professions of respect for rule of the majority, they would have pursued a course vastly different from their campaign of fraud and political intimidation. Under a movement void of passion and inspired by sincere moral purpose there would have been submitted optional propositions: (1) Extinction of the saloon; (2) Restriction upon the sale of "hard" liquors; (3) Absolute prohibition. Is there anybody to doubt the result of a plebiscite upon these alternative proposals? There is no doubt. By overwhelming voice the saloon and the unrestricted sale of "hard" liquors would have been penalized. And by a vote equally overwhelming there would have remained unchallenged and in full effect the fundamental right of normal men and women to regulate their private conduct in accordance with private judgment. We have ventured the prophecy that absolute prohibition as now written into our basic law will fail in practice. We venture the further prophecy that out of the turmoil in which the country is now involved there will come a rule confirming extinction of the saloon while permitting in other respects the free exercise of private conscience and of individual discretion.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TURNS GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this thru your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

RED CROSS YET BUSY OVERSEAS

WASHINGTON, Mar. 13.—Although American Red Cross relief work overseas is diminishing as rapidly as consistent with the obligations of humanity, more than 1,000 trained workers remain in the field, fighting disease and starvation in areas as yet unable to help themselves.

Officially summarizing the situation, Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Olds, Red Cross commissioner for Europe, reported today to national headquarters here that aggressive and continuing relief measures still were demanded by widespread suffering in Poland, the Baltic states and south Russia. He expressed conviction that from now on the Russian problem would be a most vital one. All energy is being used to get relief supplies to satisfactory bases in the Baltic and Black seas regions, while the unit assigned to the Baltic states is being increased in personnel from 54 to 70. Steps also are being taken at Constantinople to organize further relief measures in behalf of the refugee south Russia.

Of the total American personnel a large number are stationed in France, conducting headquarters operations, principally in connection with relief supplies and their transportation. The personnel attached to the various commissions operating under direction from Paris total as follows: France, 28; Albania, 65; Czechoslovakia, 3; Greece, 5; Italy, 29; Montenegro, 44; Poland, 131; Rumania, 29; Serbia, 96; west Russia, 54; south Russia, 25; England, 5; Vienna, 12.

An outline of how the American Red Cross is fulfilling its mission was given by Colonel Olds as follows:

"The character of the work in the Balkans is changing from emergency relief to medical service and assisting those peoples in erecting their own relief machinery. To meet the terrible crisis that has developed in Vienna $1,200,000 worth of relief supplies has already been given. In Italy the work is confined to Red Cross home service in behalf of the families of men who served with the American army and Americans who served in the Italian army who are trying to return to this country.

"The most extensive present work is that in Poland, where, in cooperation with the League of Red Cross societies, the American Red Cross is striving to check the spread of typhus and care for the penniless refugees that are pouring back into their homeland. To Czechoslovakia nurses are assigned to help establish a national nurse-training system and the Czechoslovak Red Cross is being assisted in distributing 130 carloads of relief supplies sent in by the American society last summer. Work for the French is still extensive, but diminishing."

In addition to the major projects there are nearly a score of activities conducted in behalf of the war-worn children of European countries by the Junior Red Cross, supported by the 14,000,000 American school that are members.

GERMANS GRAB
DANISH LAND

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 17.—(By Mail.)—The Prussian authorities, when compelled to evacuate Schleswig in preparation for the plebiscites there, "tried to grab whatever could be grabbed up to the last minute," H. P. Hanssen, minister from Schleswig to Denmark, told The Associated Press correspondent.

"As late as January 17 they sold the victory memorials on the Dybbol hills and on the island of Als to a new German company in Kiel. (Dybbol was a famous battlefield of Denmark's war with Austria and Germany in 1864.) Not only the Dybbol memorial erected above the two Danish trenches there, but the ground itself was sold to a private company," declared the minister.

"This is a case of the sale of Prussian state property which is absolutely forbidden by the conditions of the armistice of November 11, 1918. I have protested against the sale to the representatives of the Allied and associated powers, and we sincerely hope that they will aid us in our endeavors to take away from the Prussians their last foothold on the hills of Dybbol."
