PUBLICITY BRINGS BETTER RELATIONS

*BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 17.—(By Mail.)—Interchange of news between North and South America through connection of the South American newspapers with the news agencies and newspapers of the United States has brought about "a better and more thorough feeling of commercial and social brotherhood in every nation than would have been possible in anything less than decades under other conditions," Don Jorge Mitre, director of La Nacion, told members of the American club of Buenos Aires at a luncheon recently. Speaking as a publisher, Mr. Mitre said, "I consider this to be one of the great missions of journalism."

"After all," he asserted, "the greatest service a newspaper or a news agency can render to the country in which it is located, in particular, and to the world in general, is to spread informative items that will assist prospective investors, merchants, bankers or any other persons interested in obtaining a definite and true knowledge of conditions in a country where their future may lie."

Mr. Mitre said the ideals and duties of the newspapers in the upper and lower halves of the western hemisphere were the same. "The methods of newspaper making are different," he added, "and even these differences are becoming smaller and smaller."

MAKE BIRD HOUSES

PARSONS, Kans., Mar. 15.—In preparation for the "house hunting" season of birds here, the City Federation of Women's Clubs has offered cash prizes for the best bird houses made by Parsons boys and girls. The houses, as defined in the rules of the contest, may be just plain little Jenny Wren bungalows or even "apartment houses" for colonies of martins.

ORINDALE NOTES

The country in general is being blessed with a nice storm of rain and snow. It certainly is being appreciated by all farmers.

A. Switzer has his new house almost enclosed. It makes a good showing in the valley to have another dwelling built and there is room for several more families to live here.

P. S. Winnifred has commenced seeding his wheat.

J. A. Cregan and C. G. Hunt were business callers in Klamath Falls Saturday.

F. H. McCunack purchased one of the thoroughbred bulls sold in Klamath Falls Saturday.

Robert Giffin is helping A. Switzer do his farming at present.

School has begun here again after several weeks vacation on account of influenza in the district.

Jim Straw has turned a bunch of cattle out on the range he has leased of Rufus Moore.

It is almost time for the farmers in this locality to prepare for a squirrel poisoning drive.

Robert Giffin was trading with Klamath Falls merchants this week.

Geo. Shell has sold his ranch to H. J. Vanvalkenberg, and Geo. expects to travel this summer in his Ford back to Kansas.

Heavilin Bros. have their farming well under way.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times a night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidney; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

SOCIALISTS FOR "DRY" SWEDEN

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 23. (By Mail)

Adoption of a prohibition platform by a vote of 118 to 105, and passage of a resolution in favor of the separation of church and state, were two of the decisions taken by the Swedish Socialist Party Congress whose labors here have just come to a close.

These decisions, however, were overshadowed by internal party upheavals which lasted throughout the Congress, much to the joy of the bolshevist and other extremist factions, as well as of rival political parties.

During the economic crisis, profiteering reared its head in Sweden, and several leading Socialists were alleged to have been connected with companies accused of making excessive profits. Whereupon, a cry was raised to read all of them out of the party.

Hjalmar Branting, ex-Minister of Finance and a leading Socialist, defended G. Kallman, formerly chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, Varner Ryden, formerly Minister of Education, Herman Lindquist, president of the Second Chamber and Senator C. G. Magnusson, burgomaster of Stockholm, in respect to certain charges brought them.

Last November Kallman, Ryden, and also the Liberal minister, Axel Schotte, resigned their offices. Now, in consequence of the action taken by the Congress, Ryden gives up his seat in the Senate, and burgomaster Magnusson, although popular with all classes in Stockholm, retires and will no longer sit on the numerous municipal committees of which he was a prominent and active member. He will also lay down his senatorship.

Herman Lindquist alone weathered the storm. He was chairman of a company called the Arbeterbransle, which imported coal and coke from Germany during the war through Parvus, the German socialist financier. Branting succeeded in having Lindquist retain his seat as president of the Second Chamber.

The Socialists are sure of retaining their numerical superiority in parliament at least until after the general election next October.

WILL FIGHT FOR BIRD PRESERVE

SALEM, Ore., Mar. 16.—That it is of vital interest to the property owners about Malheur lake to organize, employ the best legal talent available, and make a fight before the state land board to keep the Malheur wild fowl breeding resort intact, was the opinion expressed in a letter written by E. W. Nelson, chief of the United States bureau of biological survey, to Fred Otley of Lawen, Harney county, and referred to Percy A. Cupper, state engineer, here.

"As you are aware," reads Mr. Nelson's letter, "the biological survey has charge of the federal bird reservation and is deeply interested in maintaining Malheur as one of the great wild fowl breeding resorts of the United States. There is no question that if the water of the Silves and Blitzen rivers is diverted for the benefit of the lands now being exploited by two companies that the marsh lands around Malheur lake will become worthless alkali flats."

"I estimate that the value of the lands which will be destroyed around the lake by the diversion of water necessary to keep it at the ordinary level would be more than a million dollars. The interests of land owners around the lake and the government in maintaining this bird reserve are identical, and I shall be glad to be of any assistance that I can in helping maintain a water supply in order to perpetuate the lake."

"W. L. Finlay has been conducting a campaign to have the state cede its jurisdiction over the Malheur bird reservation to the United States. If this were done and the land accepted by the government, the latter could then take part in defending its interests. At present the active defense appears to lie in the hands of the land owners."

The Malheur bird reserve was the subject of a better fight in the 1919 legislature, the sportsmen of the state contending that it should be kept intact for bird breeding purposes, while several corporations urged draining of the lake in order that the lands might be devoted to agricultural interests.
