PARKING LAW STARTS ROW

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Mar. 18.—An anti-parking ordinance, barring automobiles from a large section of the downtown business district here during seven and a half hours each week-day, has created a teapot tempest here in municipal circles, and has arrayed patrons of the street car companies against those who use automobiles and trucks.

The new ordinance, effective April 10, has been attacked with a referendum petition, and it is stated that nearly all of the 15,000 signatures necessary to force a special election on the question have been obtained. The referendum was started by certain towel supply companies, which said that the limits placed on deliveries would put them out of business.

The ordinance was passed at the recommendation of the state railroad commission, which advised the council that if such a step was not taken to relieve congestion down town, where 30,000 autos are parked on the streets daily, it would have to authorize the local street car companies to increase their fares from five to probably seven cents.

The ordinance provides a time limit of two minutes for passenger automobiles stopping at stores, theaters, or elsewhere down town. It makes exceptions for ambulances and some other classes of vehicles, and contains less stringent provisions for commercial traffic. The Automobile Club of Southern California has strongly urged the new ordinance.

One effect already has been the razing of scores of old frame houses and small buildings, because the owners believe that better returns can be had from utilizing the space for auto parks.

FRENCH-U. S. FRIENDSHIP IS UNBREAKABLE

PARIS, Feb. 10.—(By Mail).—Abbe Felix Klein, one of the well-known Catholic writers of France, in his new book, entitled "In America at the Close of the War," describes his visit to Washington and talk with President Wilson. The visit was made in company with a delegation of French and English clergy, including the bishop of Arras. Describing the meeting, the author says:

"We entered the White House without any formality. Two negro domestics opened the door and a secretary conducted us to the small reception room. The furnishings were very plain; the walls were hung only with the portraits of presidents; prominent in the ornamentation was a bust which occupied the center of the marble mantel-piece—the bust of Lafayette.

"We waited only a few minutes. As the clock struck 4:30, the President entered, bowing and looking somewhat stern, despite his smile. As he welcomed us in a few words the severity of his expression gradually relaxed. He shook hands with each of us as we were presented.

"The presentation ended, the President addressed us informally for two or three minutes. He spoke in a calm tone, without emphasis, without gesture, and yet there was a note of feeling which stirred each one of us. He said nothing remarkable, but he spoke with that precision of language which is one of his gifts.

"After expressing his thanks for the visit of those representing the religious sentiment in France and England, the President said:

"Moral force is the greatest of forces. And what a support it gives when one seeks, following the ideal of the Allies, only the triumph of right. We are not making war for conquest, but for justice."

The President also spoke of the great services rendered by Cardinal Gibbons during the war, after which Mr. Wilson saluted and retired.

Summing up the relations between France and America, Abbe Klein says: "There is a natural affinity between the two peoples which attracts them to each other by certain traits in common, and by certain contrasts which compliment and complete their own characteristics. Both have vivacity of conception, frankness of character, and enthusiasm for the ideal. On one hand there is the keen sense of the practical, quick initiative, and a habit of prompt decision. On the other hand there is the refinement of taste, the art of making fine shades of distinction, the logical order of ideas. The French and Americans will always sympathize in the qualities they have in common; they will always admire the qualities in which they differ.

"France should continue the close relation with those countries which have been associated with her in victory, and principally with the people of the United States, with their greater numbers, greater wealth and greater strength than all the others. If our country, to its great honor and its great peril, constitutes the advance guard of civilization, so America constitutes the reserve power of civilization. At the hour of danger, always possible, we must be able to count upon this succor."

MEDICAL VESSEL STARTS ON VOYAGE

JUNEAU, Alaska, Feb. 18. (By Mail).—Laden with medical supplies, the United States Coast Guard cutter Algonquin will leave Juneau within a few days for Yakutat on the Southeastern Alaska Coast, her summer headquarters. From Yakutat, the Algonquin will patrol Alaskan waters to render medical assistance to fishermen and the fishing fleet.

The vessel will hail all ships sighted and receive a report whether there is sickness aboard. Medical attention will be given on the spot, if necessary, and in more serious cases, the patient will be rushed by the cutter to the nearest hospital.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grams of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

SALMON DEPLETED BY MUCH FISHING

OLYMPIA, Wash., Mar. 18.—Washington's salmon industry, once among the leaders in the state's activities, has been almost depleted by the intensive fishing of the past six years, L. H. Darwin, state fish commissioner, declared in his annual report filed with Governor Louis F. Hart.

Creation by the legislature of a fisheries commission to take full charge of fishing operations in Washington waters was recommended by Mr. Darwin.

He urged that foreigners be barred from fishing in the state waters, because, he said, the destruction, in a large part, has been accomplished by persons not citizens of the United States. During the war, he said, foreign fishermen banded themselves together, took the lead in the industry and increased the prices.

Sockeye salmon runs of the Puget Sound have almost been wiped out by the heavy fishing, the report stated. The Silverside and Chum or Dog salmon have also been reduced in number. The Humpback salmon runs probably will be attacked by the fishermen next and, in a few years, the commissioner predicted they, too, probably will be depleted.

Columbia River, Grays Harbor and Willapa Harbor waters of Washington, he said, were not suffered to the extent of Puget Sound. Mr. Darwin said, largely because of the greatly increased hatchery work. But as the fishermen are beginning to take immature salmon and are preventing the fish from reaching their spawning grounds, it is probable these waters will suffer more soon.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

DRUGGIST SAYS LADIES ARE USING RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmothers made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture, improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.
