War Department Waste.

Congressman W. J. Graham.

This Illinois Statesman, Chairman of the House Committee on Expenditures in the War Department, is sinking the probe deep into the various disbursements made by the War Department in recent years. He has five sub-committees at work investigating all sorts of expenditures for ordnance, aviation, foreign expenditures, food supplies, manufacturing of nitrates, etc.

Judge Graham and his co-workers are disclosing many things of extreme interest to the taxpayers of the country, showing the utter recklessness of War Department officials in putting through their extravagant program in the last two or three years. The facts prove that waste has continued since the armistice, involving millions.

Miss Mildred Johnson, a student at Oregon Agricultural college, is, so far as the records show, the first woman to make application for civil service examination for the position of grazing assistant in the United States forest service. The position is one requiring practical experience in handling stock on the range.

In many parts of Scotland it is still the custom to break an oatmeal cake over the bride's head for good luck, the cake being enclosed in a muslin bag.

Asleep at His Post.
I was stationed, while in the army, at a camp in Texas, and had been working as a stenographer in the office of the executive officer.

I had been out quite late in the night on the day previous and had been feeling quite sleepy while at work, so I folded my arms on my machine, and before long was fast asleep. I had been asleep about ten minutes when the executive officer tapped me on the shoulder and said: "Don't you want one of these pillows, too?"

It seems a woman who lived close to the camp had become acquainted with the officer and had sent him a few pillows to be given out by him, and I was indeed glad to receive one of them, but was much embarrassed in the way I received it.—Exchange.

Mild and Ancient.
"Shall we refer to that opponent in uncompromising terms as a grafter?" asked the invaluable secretary.
"No," replied Senator Sorghum. "Let's keep up-to-date and make it strong. The profiteers these days have made the old-fashioned grafter look like a piker."

His Glimpses of Warfare.
"What are your impressions of 'No Man's Land'?"
"I didn't get into the war," answered the morose citizen. "My only vivid idea of 'No Man's Land' is home while spring housecleaning is going on."—Minneapolis Tribune.

American women made their advent in practical politics in 1840, when "Tippecanoe and Tyler too" were borne into power partly by the songs of the women. The Whig meetings in that year were, for the first time, attended by women, while the Democratic meetings were composed of men alone.

AFTER TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF SUFFERING

When we received the following letter from Mrs. C. J. Hurd of Witter Springs, California, we were rather skeptical as to some of the statements it contains, so we had one of our men make a personal call on Mrs. Hurd and she verified every statement. The letter follows:
"For twenty-five years I suffered with rheumatism. I was never out of pain and my limbs were so swollen I seemed deformed. Could stand on my feet for a few minutes at a time and was almost a hopeless cripple. I had given up all hope and life held no pleasure for me. During all these years I tried many remedies, spent months at the hot springs and was treated by physicians, but temporary relief was all I received. I had little faith in Anti-Uric at first, your claims were so wild, and I seemed to grow worse after using the first outfit. But I continued and the results were wonderful. The swelling in my limbs disappeared, the pains ceased. I can walk without a cane and stormy weather and even exposure does not affect me in the least. It has been over a year since I stopped taking Anti-Uric treatments and I have had no trouble whatever. My weight has increased from 84 to 170 pounds, I eat whatever I please, and owe all my health and happiness to Anti-Uric and do hope that those suffering from rheumatism will not neglect this wonderful remedy for I know it cures."

This letter should prove to the most skeptical that Anti-Uric is the master of rheumatism in all its forms. No matter how long you have suffered try Anti-Uric and if it does not give you relief your money will be refunded. This is certainly a fair offer and shows we have faith in our remedy. Get an outfit from the SATR DRUG COMPANY today and give it a trial.

Sister Frey who, if still living in the Cistercian Abbey at Viterbo, is a great age, has, since 1861, when she received an injury to her back, been confined to such a position as to be unable to move her head, yet she was the recipient of daily visits from mishaps, and cardinals, and noble ladies, whilst the Pontiff himself regretted his inability to visit her cell. And why? Because of her wonderful powers of clairvoyance. Two of her most amazing feats were the narration to the assembled sisters of the assassination of President Carnot and of King Humbert, whilst those dreadful tragedies were actually taking place.
