Gambling is almost a universal passion among the men in the Welsh mining districts. It is no uncommon sight to see a group of men and youths standing at a street corner watching for the number of the first tramcar on which there was a sweep-stake. "I AIN'T MAD AT NOBODY"

AT THE THEATERS

A famous physician has said that a good laugh is better than a dose of medicine, because in laughter the mind is necessarily freed from worry, fear, business strain, etc., which are known to have a depressing effect on the physical organism and in many cases to be the cause of disease, acute and chronic, such as diabetes and dyspepsia. So laughter is of causal physical benefit to the body. Therefore Albert Ray and Elinor Fair, the two comedians, are really missionaries of health, for they will make you laugh in spite of your frown, in "Be a Little Sport," at the Liberty tonight, which shows some of the funniest entanglements a young man ever got into in trying to get married.

"Flames of the Flesh," a new Fox photoplay starring Gladys Brockwell, will be shown at the Liberty Theatre on Thursday. In this play one receives a vivid impression of a wide variation of human emotions.

Gladys Brockwell, the "girl of a thousand expressions" gives a forceful impersonation of a waif of the world who experiences amazing transformations of character. It is said that in this production the players hold the audience in spellbound silence as they enact a drama teeming with intense situations.
