PALM BEACH ELITE CLAD IN OVERALLS

TAMPA, Fla., April 27.—Whether the wearing of overalls and calicoes instead of blue serges, native Palm beaches, homespuns, voiles and other expensive clothing will bring down the high cost of dressing is an experiment first started here and now spreading through all Florida and into Alabama. The whole country now knows of it and has characterized it as the "Tampa idea."

The new style movement, its originators say, is dictated in the spirit of public duty and necessity and does not indicate any lessening of desire on the part of either men or women for good and stylish apparel. They think, however, that it is worth while to try to popularize overalls for men and calicoes and ginghams for women and it is no secret that the female experimenters are still looking for the return of silks, satins, organdies and the like to the limitations of their purses.

So it came about that Hafford Jones, secretary of an insurance company, started the Overalls' Club of Tampa. Each member pledged to wear overalls as a regular thing until clothing prices tumbled. Hundreds have joined and many are making good. Others say they are keeping the pledge just as faithfully by taking advantage of the clause which allows them to wear old clothes in lieu of overalls—just so they don't buy any new stuff.

When the men organized the women took up the battle, the New Thought and Unity Club, headed by Mrs. Clara Lawton Metcalf, pledging its membership to calico dresses. All of this had its first public demonstration on Easter Sunday.

Men and women, correctly garbed to harmonize with the new idea, gathered in the court house square. Addresses were made, new pledges received, and petitions signed asking city, state and national officials to take notice and give aid. Merchants looked on and frowned, and later announced that their sales had not fallen off a bit. They are not the only ones who smile knowingly at the movement and predict that just as the foregoing of the luscious porterhouse steak and choice rib roasts increased the cost of brisket, chicken and rump, the abandonment of beautiful silks and all wool garments will raise the cost of denims and calicoes.

"This overalls business is only a joke," says one of the leading clothiers. "Just as long as folks who work for wages demand fifteen dollar silk shirts, three dollar silk neckties and two and a half dollar silk socks, they will get them. And while they're buying that sort of stuff you may lay your heaviest bet on their also buying the best suits of clothing the market affords."

The overalls club, however, insists that the war has only begun and that they'll stick it out and are gaining recruits in bunches.

The movement is being taken up all over the state. Clubs have been organized at Jacksonville, Lakeland, Center Hill and other places. If someone would come along with a cartload of sabots then folks might buy and take revenge on the boot-sellers.

A part of the Easter Sunday program was for the denims and calicoes to pay off and go to church. Only a few couples had the nerve to stick it out and they presented odd Darby and Joan contrast to besilken and befeathered women and tailor-moulded men.

A number of experiments are being carried out to discover what type of human being lives the longest. It appears that, on the average, short-legged men and women live considerably longer than long-legged individuals. The length of the leg is regarded in comparison with the length of the body. A short man may have long legs, and vice versa. The long legged man, in many cases, has a poorly developed chest. Long men are very inclined to be weedy and are far more liable to common ailments, such as colds, than short men. The latter almost always have a better blood circulation, and are more capable therefore of warding off disease. It is pointed out that Sandow belongs to the short-legged type, and he was one of the strongest men in the world, while most successful runners and dancers are long-legged, and seldom live to a ripe old age.

Alice Cary, whose centenary is to be celebrated April 20, had her first literary efforts published when she was eighteen.

RUSSIAN TRAFFIC BADLY SHATTERED

MOSCOW, March 2. (By Mail.)—Russian railroad shops, working at a maximum of peace time capacity, will require more than 10 years to restore normal traffic with the present facilities of production, according to a survey recently published in the Economic Life. The chief needs are shown to be the importation of rolling stock and the home development of the transportation industry.

The survey shows that in 1914 the number of locomotives was approximately 20,000 with 16 percent unfit for use. The present number of locomotives is about 10,000 with fifty-nine percent out of commission or in need of repairs, and the number of cars 250,000. Lines in operation have also diminished about 20 percent.

The maximum pre-war production in the Russian shops was 1,800 locomotives and 40,000 cars annually, and the number that retired each year was 1,300 locomotives and 30,000 trucks. The present need is for 15,000 locomotives and 450,000 cars.
