BOY FARMERS PRODUCT OF SALVATION ARMY

With thorough appreciation of the value to the state of trained agriculturists, versed in modern methods and with a knowledge of applied mechanics necessary to modern farming, the Salvation Army in its Home Service Program for Oregon, plans to make useful farm hands, if not farm experts of many neglected and dependent youngsters. Throughout the state there are always lads whose ages range from seven and eight to fifteen years, who will have no future apart from poverty and comparative ignorance and probable criminality. Opportunities such as those to be offered by the Industrial and Agricultural school the Salvation Army plans to establish at North Yamhill, on the 100-acre farm on which now stand the buildings of the Bishop Scott school, will open before these lads a useful life.

Brought up to manhood in clear surroundings, with daily instruction in ordinary schooling and practical instruction and practice in farming, the youngsters will not only be saved from bad citizenship but given an honorable profession or trade with which to earn their own way as men.

At the Yamhill school, to be patterned after the famous Lytton school conducted by the Salvation Army in California, both boys and girls will find all the essentials of preparation for life's battle. The girls will be taught sewing, household duties, cooking etc. The boys will be trained in several trades and in farming, horticultural and animal husbandry pursuits and modern farm mechanics. And while their bodies and minds are being trained their responsibilities as citizens and members of society will not be neglected in fact, one of the strongest teachings of the Salvation Army is Americanism. The school is non-sectarian.

Through the efforts of the Salvation Army in Portland, several boys have been taken from up state Oregon towns and placed at the California farm school temporarily until the funds made available by the financial campaign, May 1 to May 10, provide for the opening of the Yamhill school County advisory boards in every county in Oregon are helping the Salvation Army in this great work with children.

AT THE THEATERS

They called him "Locoed Larry,"—and he earned the monicker by being the prize spendthrift and boozehound of the cattle country. Dutton took him for a "nut."—Just as Larry wanted him to—for Dutton was a had actor and Larry had a score to settle with him. When Larry fell heir to a beautiful and innocent young lady—wished on him by a misguided relative—he had reason to be "locoed." See William Desmond in a rollicking comedy-drama that breezes through five reels of snappy action, at the Liberty tonight.

One of the screen events of this week is the showing at the Liberty Theatre of the new picture, "The Merry-Go-Round," starring Peggy Hyland in a setting of circus life. The picture has an intense love interest which might alone carry it easily to success. Through its medium of a bankrupt circus the romance is charmingly worked out. The plot is an excellent one, involving a kidnapping, a gypsy maiden as the heroine, wealth and poverty in the paths that cross, and a most felicitous intermingling of love scenes and heroic action. Miss Hyland is seen at her best—and her best it is difficult to match. In this picture at the Liberty Tuesday.

S. F. PLANS COSTLY TRIBUTE TO HEROES

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—San Francisco has launched a movement for the construction in the civic center here of a group of buildings, costing $2,500,000, as a war memorial. The buildings will form the Americanization and art center of the city. They will house the musical and art societies and in a large court statuary and memorial tablets will commemorate the deeds of San Francisco's heroes in the war.

The California School of Fine Arts, formerly the Mark Hopkins Institute and now a department of the University of California, will occupy one unit.

An auditorium where the San Francisco symphony orchestra will give its concerts and operatic and dramatic productions will be offered to be included in the group. Another building will be devoted exclusively to the American Legion.

MILION DOLLAR HOTEL FOR PARK

VASALIA, Cal., May 3.—Anticipating the enlargement of the Sequoia National Park, through a bill before congress, a company has incorporated for $1,000,000 to develop a hotel, camping grounds and other facilities. It has been announced here. The company proposes to create one of the finest summer resort camps known to the mountains of the Pacific coast. The present tentative plans, include changing the camp grounds from Giant forest, where there is not sufficient room, to Crescent Meadows, a mile and a half distant from the Forest. Better camping facilities are available and the hotel can be located on the crest of a ridge overlooking the famous Moro rock to the south and the high Sierras to the east. The new company, it is said, expects to build some cabins this season on the present Giant Forest site to care for this year's business. It is reported that the State Highway Commission and the government interests are now at work upon plans for the new road into the park.
