JOHNSON CLUB IS ORGANIZED

A Johnson-for President organization was perfected at a meeting last night at the city hall of the supporters of the California senator's campaign for the Republican nomination. The following officers were selected: Gordon Mifflin, chairman; A. L. Wishard, secretary, and Floyd De Lap, treasurer. An executive committee was chosen consisting of F. R. Soule, chairman; B. S. Grigsby, O. M. Hector, E. N. O'Neill, Sam Smith, W. F. Kay and C. F. Parker. Paul Turner, organizer from Portland headquarters, spoke briefly, pointing to the record of Johnson as governor of California and his record during his four years in the national senate as having indelibly stamped him as an able and trustworthy statesman, and emphasizing the announced policy of the candidate to carry out in the White House, if elected, the principles of equal rights and fair dealing that have so far marked his political career.

Mrs. H. R. Reynolds was appointed a committee of one to organize a women's auxiliary of the club and announced that a meeting would be held in the council chamber of the city hall Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to perfect that organization. Arrangements were made for a Johnson rally tomorrow evening. Raymond Robins, a political authority of international fame, will speak in behalf of Johnson's candidacy. If the evening is as balmy as has been preceding nights of the week, the committee agreed that the open air rally would afford the best opportunity for all to hear the speaker, although if the weather should prove suddenly inclement provisions are made for an indoor meeting.

By unanimous vote every Johnson supporter present was made a member of a county campaign committee to forward the Johnson cause, with the understanding that the size of this committee should be unlimited and that each member should work actively to secure other members in every section of the county and that all should unite in an energetic educational campaign to strengthen the Johnson movement in Klamath county.

ROUSING MEETING OF C. E. AT MERRILL

Four carloads of local Christian Endeavorers motored to Merrill last night to join the Merrill society in a big reunion meeting. Lloyd Carrick, state field secretary, who has been here for several days, accompanied the party and made the principal address.

Mr. Carrick left this morning for Bend. He conducted several successful meetings here, largely attended and provocative of a great deal of new energy and enthusiasm in the work of the society. Wednesday evening there was a meeting at the Christian church with more than 100 young people in attendance. Wednesday afternoon Mr. Carrick spoke to the high school assembly and was well received by the students.

SUES TO FORECLOSE MORTGAGE ON IOB SUPPLY

Woodley, to foreclose a chattel mortgage on 24 tons of ice on defendant's premises at Chiloquin, security for a promissory note for $265, dated January 26, 1920. ## NOTED ORATOR WILL BE HERE

Raymond Robins, noted orator and author, will arrive in Klamath Falls this evening and tomorrow evening will address the voters of Klamath county in behalf of Senator Hiram Johnson's candidacy for the Republican nomination for President. Mr. Robins left San Francisco last evening, according to a telegram received today at Johnson headquarters here.

Should the weather be fine tomorrow evening the executive committee plans for an open air meeting in the courthouse block, between Third and Fourth streets, a regular old-fashioned rally with plenty of space so that no one will be disappointed by not hearing the famous speaker.

Should the weather be capricious, however, arrangements have been made to secure a building that will house a large audience. The opera house is unavailable tomorrow night being given over to the grammar school entertainment, but other places are under consideration, the most likely being the old Ford garage at the corner of Ninth and Main where there is half a block of space to accommodate the crowd, or the old Temple theater.

In view of the reputation of the speaker, the local committee is certain, there will be a large audience, for regardless of political affiliations or prejudices few will miss the chance to hear Mr. Robins' intellectual caliber.

As a sociological worker he gained international repute during and since the war. He was one of President Wilson's counselors on the first visit to Paris, and later head of the American Red Cross in Russia.

An intimate friend of both Roosevelt and Hughes, he campaigned three states for Hughes in the last presidential campaign and is reckoned one of the strongest figures in the ranks of national leaders of progressive thought.

Since then the matter has been in abeyance although many have been working quietly and Mr. Duncan hopes to obtain some definite results from this visit.

Dr. Goddard collared the thief and held him while Judge Brower summoned the patrolman. It is said that he had removed a robe and several overcoats, including Dr. Goddard's coat, from cars.

PARK PLANS FORWARDED

The city park board at a recent meeting authorized the mayor to dispose of 25 lots held as a park site on the Ewanza lake front below Second street. The money from the sale will be used to purchase another site and practical places are under consideration.

The mayor was also authorized to start improvement at once on two lots north of Mills addition, ceded to the city by the Klamath Development company, for park purposes. It is hoped said board members that by next meeting there will be a definite report in regard to the choice of a central park site.

LIME, SULPHUR DIP ORDERED

Cooperation between sheep men and the state livestock sanitary board in the campaign to stamp out scabies in Klamath county is asked by W. H. Lytle, state veterinarian, in enforcing general dipping of infected and exposed sheep under orders and instructions just issued.

The ruling provides for the dipping of all Oregon sheep that are infected twice in lime and sulphur solution; for the dipping of all Oregon sheep that have been exposed to scabies once in lime and sulphur, and for the dipping of all California sheep that cross the line twice in the same solution, whether infected or not.

The first dipping will be given as soon as the bands are issued. There is a little shearing under way at present but the season's run will actively commence next week. Within eight or ten days the first dipping flocks will be ready for dipping; preparatory to moving to the dipping ranges.

Four points, conveniently located in various parts of the county, have voted and conveniences for dipping, and the work will be carried on under the official supervision of Dr. Armstrong, resident federal sanitary inspector and his deputies. ## REGISTRATION SHOWS CITY NEARS 10,000

If registration figures are a reliable index the population of Klamath Falls today is more than 9,000. Registration figures compiled by the county clerk's office show 3,800 voters registered as residents within the city limits. Since equal suffrage became the fashion statisticians have used 2.5 as a multiplier to allow for the non-voting minors of the average family and the result, when checked up by census, works out with reliable accuracy.

The formula applied to the local registration list would give a population of two and one-half times 3,800 or 9,500. Even after making a liberal allowance of 500 for a proportionately greater unmarried population the city would still be left with a population of 9,000.

To check still further at the last registration the city had 2,200 voters, or, under the same formula a population of 5,500, which most people will admit was a fair total of the city's population two years ago, when the last check was taken.

The registration totals show 7,000 voters in Klamath county, or a population of 17,000.

In 1918 the county had a voting list of 5,500, or less, a gain of 1,500 in two years.

Comparison shows that the greatest gain in population has been within this city, the voting list two years ago having shown about 2,700 voters, or that the gain to the city has been 1,300 voters, and the gain in outside precincts about 400.

Republicans lead in county registration, roughly speaking, 7 to 3, the clerk's figures show.

Democrats registered are 2,300. The remaining 4,800 voters are Republicans.

TOMORROW

Tomorrow your carrier will call upon you for your subscription. Lately some subscribers have forgotten the fact that their little carrier is just the average boy, anxious to get through and get back to play. They have "stood him off" from day to day, with the result that the boy has spent more time trying to get the money than it is worth, if he were paid for the actual time consumed in going after it. The Herald is as much concerned about justice to that little chap as it is in getting the money—more so, and this little story is written to again impress subscribers with the fact that the boy will make but one call. Put yourself in his place and imagine how you would feel if you presented a bill for 50 cents and were told to come back next week or next day. Well, that boy feels just that way—only 10 times more so.

On the 15th of the month those who have not paid will be dropped from the list. It will save us a great deal of work, you annoyance and your carrier keen disappointment if you will put 50 cents on the shelf and hand it to him tomorrow when he calls.

Subscribers who have been paying by the year will have to come to the office to do so or mail us a check for five dollars. We have to ask you to do this to keep the cost within what we can spend. Only by exercising the strictest economy have we been able to make a rate of five dollars. After the first of June it will be $7.50 a year, or 65 cents a month. Like every other business establishment, we are short of help and we would ask your thoughtful co-operation in sending in your subscription at once. We have done our part in keeping down the cost to you, and ask that you join with us in keeping down the expense to us. It is a case where every cent counts.
