Swift & Company Does Not Control Its Raw Material

Other industries can buy their raw materials according to need or judgment, and set a selling price. They need manufacture only what they can sell at their price.

Cotton, wool, wheat, lumber, iron, steel, and other non-perishables, can be held either by their producers or their users until needed.

But live stock comes to market every day in fluctuating quantities from scattered sources, wholly uncontrolled and at times without regard to market needs.

An immediate outlet must be found for the perishable products, at whatever price, as only a very small proportion can be stored.

No one can foresee or stipulate what they shall bring; prices must fluctuate from day to day to insure keeping the market clear.

Only the most exacting care of every detail of distribution enables Swift & Company to make the small profit from all sources of a fraction of a cent per pound, necessary for it to continue to obtain capital and maintain operations.

ISLAND JAPANESE FLOCKING TO THE U. S.

HONOLULU, T. H. April 26, (By Mail).—Hawaiian-born Orientals, entitled to enter the United States, are leaving for the coast at a constantly increasing rate, according to Richard L. Halsey, United States immigration officer here.

"The number is increasing every month," Halsey declared, "so that, if the acceleration is maintained, perhaps the problem of the Japanese vote here, in some degree, may be transferred to the mainland."

U. OF O. JUNIOR WEEK PROGRAM

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, May 6.—The biggest Junior Week end since pre-war days is being planned by the students for this year at the University of Oregon on May 13, 14 and 15.

A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to visit the campus at this time, especially urgent is the invitation to all preppers throughout the state.

The events this year are to be practically the same as usual except better and more elaborate. The canoe fete, always one of the most spectacular affairs, will be the best in the history of canoe fetes. The race way will be strung with brilliantly colored lights. Plans are being made to construct benches for spectators across the race as well as on the south side as larger numbers of visitors than ever before is anticipated. The canoes will be decorated on both sides this year contrary to the usual custom of decorating but the one side. A continuous musical program will be given throughout the fete by both the University Men's Glee club and the university band.

The costume parade, likewise an old custom of junior week, will endeavor to feature clever costumes an impersonations to a greater degree than usual. Prizes will be given to the best ones.

The Junior Prom, big event of the week, will be formal. In days gone by the Junior Prom was always formal but during the war the college adopted the policy of favoring informal dances.

The schedule of events for the entire week end is as follows:

WITH FINGERS! CORNS LIFT OUT

Freezone is magic! Corns and calluses lift right off—Doesn't hurt a bit

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone at any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and all, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humbug!

MEXICAN MILK DELIVERY WILL BE MODERNIZED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Delivery of milk in regular American glass bottles will soon be a competitor in Vera Cruz with the universal Mexican custom of bringing the milk around in large cans to be measured out in miscellaneous receptacles furnished from the customer's household, according to Gonzalo A. Velasco, a Vera Cruz dairyman, who visited California a few days ago. He was so impressed with the milking machines used at the University of California farm that he started home by way of Chicago to lay in a supply for use in his own dairy. He bought two car loads of bottles in San Francisco before his departure.

In the churchyard of the village of Santa Maria del Tule, in southern Mexico, stands a cypress tree which is estimated to be between 5,000 and 6,000 years old, and probably the oldest living thing in the world. It was first discovered by Humboldt, one hundred years ago, who nailed a wooden tablet to the trunk.
