PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES

The entrance of the Johnson-for-President cohorts into the campaign has had the effect that their leader always has when he takes a hand in any game—they have stirred things up. The indications are that they are only getting ready to start. The consequence is that the followers of the other candidates are waking up and rubbing their eyes. The most perturbed of the lot are the supporters of General Leonard Wood, who felt secure in their confidence that he was going to have a walk-away.

If reports from the rest of the state are true, Klamath county is going to decide what candidate is going to get the Oregon delegation, for its four thousand votes are going to be the deciding factor—if they all get out, and the chances are nearly every one will.

The Herald is glad that the Johnson people jumped into the fight, not that it cares particularly whether Mr. Johnson wins or loses. We can with a very easy conscience back him to the limit if he wins, just as we can back any of the other republican candidates. But we do hope that the people of Klamath county, and Oregon, and the delegates to the republican convention will turn down General Wood, and turn him down hard. Our opposition to Mr. Wood is based entirely on the re-entrance into the official life of the nation of Gifford Pinchot.

If General Wood should by any misfortune be the next president of the United States, then Gifford Pinchot will be the next secretary of agriculture. Once put Pinchot in power, and we will see the resources of the west tied up so tight that never in this generation will the people break the stranglehold. We are still suffering from the blighting influence of Pinchot when he was chief forrester. Every person who buys a gallon of oil, or gasoline or distillate is paying a penalty for the acts of Pinchot. Oregon most of all is suffering from his fanatical conservation policy. Everywhere in the west will you find traces of his death touch. Restore him to power, and like all fanatics, there will be no limit to his work.

When you go to the polls on the 21st of May to cast your ballot in your choice for president of the United States, think seriously before you cast it for General Wood. A vote for him is a vote for Pinchot, and you ought to know, if you don't, what this will mean for Klamath county.

WOMEN MUST QUALIFY

STERLING, Colo., May 13.—The wife of any man who wants to be naturalized in the district court here must qualify for citizenship with her husband, according to a recent ruling of Judge Stephenson.

Under the suffrage amendment, the judge ruled, the woman because she becomes a citizen with the husband and has the right to vote, should qualify under the same terms as does the male alien.

Dr. Samuel Johnson, so it is recorded, would never enter a room left foot foremost, and brave Marshal Saxe was in terror at the sight of a cat. Peter the Great was in a tremor of fear if he had to cross a bridge, and Byron turned pale if he spilled salt at the table.

He's Real

He registers joy, sorrow, pleasure and anger and all the other human emotions just as they are registered by the fellow who washes the dishes at home or by the chap who brings the bon bons every Saturday night.

Who? Will Rogers. He isn't fancy; he hasn't got big blue eyes and a baby stare. He hasn't got curly hair or Cupid Bow lips. He's a regular feller! He's human and he's real. He's an honest-to-goodness, down-to-earth human being.

That's why you just can't help lovin' him. That's why you'll want to see "Jubilo," the story of a hobo who stumbles into the strange land of Work and Romance via a big train hold-up. Will Rogers is the soldier of misfortune. You'll sympathize with him, laugh with him and find more entertainment in his misadventures than you've ever found in one picture before.

TRIESTE TORN BY WALKOUTS

TRIESTE, April 25. (By Mail).—There is a volcanic turmoil amongst the working population in this city, now under Italian control. The employees of the shipbuilding yards are constantly striking for hitherto unheard-of demands. Recently the operatives of the Lloyd Arsenal struck for a representative voice in the management and a share of the profits. The scale demanded would give some of the operatives wages and bonuses aggregating 40,000 lire monthly which would amount to $8,000 in normal times.

The operatives of the Cosulich shipyards introduced the newest ruse of labor disputes. They issued an ultimatum to the management stating that if their demands were not complied with in 10 days they would go into the plant by force and take possession of it. The demands were three: First, a share in the profits; second, a voice in the management; third, the dismissal of Captain Cosulich, the manager and chief owner of the yards. Officials made preparations to resist by the posting of some battalions of soldiers armed with armored motorcars and machine guns but the operatives' terms were complied with before any disorder occurred.

Strong Bolshevik elements prevail in the city. Demonstrations are held every Sunday when cries of "Hurrah for Lenin, Trotsky, Soviets, etc.!" are heard. The military guard of the city has recently been increased and a close surveillance is maintained over the gatherings.

There is in the northern part of Finland a curious stone which serves the people instead of a barometer. This stone, which the Finns call Il-maklar, turns black, or a blackish gray, when bad weather is approaching. Fine weather has the effect of turning it almost white. The Finns regard the stone with superstitious reverence, but the scientists say that its changes in color are due to salts contained in its composition.
