Speed's the middle name of Jimmy Clunder, the leading character in "The Lincoln Highwayman," the new William Fox feature by Paul Dickey, in which William Russell will be starred on Saturday at the Liberty Theatre.

During the whole action of the picture Russell is moving at top speed. He is usually in a fast automobile which he always drives at the limit, up hill and down dale. Obstacles which would stop an ordinary driver mean nothing in his young life.

Even when he is making love Russell is in action. The girl is finally won by him because she cannot resist his speed.

The heroine is played by pretty Lois Lee, a newcomer to Fox features, although an experienced film actress. Other well-known players in the cast are Frank Brownlee, Jack Connolly Harry Spangler, Edward Piel and Edward Booth Tilton. The production was directed by Emmett J. Flynn, who also directed Russell in the adaptation of William McLeod Raine's "Eastward Ho!"

The astonishing statement made recently to the effect that in some districts of Wales miners have been known to sell their wives, is a reminder that the practice is the survival of an old custom. Less than a century ago wives were offered by auction to the highest bidder in public places in different parts of England although the practice was never sanctioned by law. Prices ranged upwards from one shilling. From twenty to twenty-five shillings appears to have been considered a good price.

RICH GIFT OF ANCIENT RELICS

PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—Gold ornaments, idols, crowns, armor and other relics of great historic value which date from the civilizations of the Incas, Aztecs and other Mexican and Central and South American peoples are contained in a collection of 300 specimens recently placed on view for the first time in the museum of the University of Pennsylvania.

The exhibit was only recently brought to its present completeness by the purchase of objects which had been in possession of a noble French family for generations, but which were sold at Paris because the family was impoverished.

Gold was used by the Aztecs and Incas only for ornaments, religious emblems and attire. These objects, shipped to Spain by Pizarro, Cortez and others in the 16th and 17th centuries were melted and coined. This explains the rarity of the original golden objects.

A grave recently opened in Colombia proved a rich trove of them. It was apparently the burying place of a princess. Enough golden ornaments were discovered completely to clothe a modern woman for her appearance in a ballroom. There were, besides a crown, a breast plate, girdle, armlets and various other appendages, aside from a great quantity of jewels. Rings and necklaces of amazing beauty are among the objects.

'IT DOES THE WORK,' HE SAYS

Washington Ranchman Has Gained Twenty-Five Pounds And Feels Fine Since Taking Tanlac.

"I know what I am talking about when I say there is one medicine that will do everything they say it will, and that's Tanlac," was the enthusiastic statement made recently by Frank Waring, a well-known Washington, a town twelve miles from Seattle.

"I gave Tanlac a fair trial," continued Mr. Waring, "and I want to tell the world that it did the work. Several years ago my health broke down and since that time I suffered so much that I hardly knew what it was to be free from pain. I had indigestion so bad that I did not care to eat, for I knew if I did it would cause me misery afterwards. The little I forced down soured on my stomach and bloated me up with gas so bad that I felt nauseated and miserable. I had rheumatism in my shoulders and right arm so that I had no use of my right arm and it was impossible for me to pick up anything to work with. My kidneys were all out of order, and my back was weak and pained me so bad that if I stooped over it was agony for me to try to straighten back up again. I was badly constipated and subject to severe headache spells. My nerves were all on edge, and when I went to bed I would roll and toss nearly all night long and could hardly get any sleep at all. I was terribly run-down, too weak to do a day's work and never thought I would see a well day again.

"Several of my neighbors were taking Tanlac with such fine results that I started taking it myself, and in no time I began to feel better. My appetite came back, and as everything I ate agreed with me I started gaining in weight and strength. My digestion was never better and the gas has stopped forming on my stomach. I am no longer constipated and don't know what it is to ever have a headache. The rheumatism in my arms and shoulders has left me completely and I can use my arms as good as I ever could. My kidneys are in fine condition and the pains in my back have all disappeared, and I can now do as big a day's work as any man. My nerves are as steady as a clock and at night I sleep like a log, and when morning comes I get up feeling just fine. I have gained twenty-five pounds in weight, am in better health than I have been in years and I can never say too much for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Klamath Falls by the Star Drug Co., in Lorella by the James Merc. Co., and in Merrill by the Southern Oregon Drug Co. Adv.

K. OF C. WORKERS LAST TO LEAVE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—Obeying to the letter their orders, "Stay with the boys till the last American soldier leaves Siberia," two Knights of Columbus secretaries and a K. C. chaplain arrived in this city last week with the final contingent of A. E. F. men from Vladivostok, aboard the transport Great Northern. They came with the last American troops to quit Russian soil. They served till the last possibility of service was gone—and then found new possibilities by entertaining the troops and supplying them with K. C. comforts on their long trip across the Pacific. The Knights of Columbus stayed till the job was ended.

The lips of the K. C. men are sealed as to conditions in the mystery land Siberia; but they recounted briefly their stories of service to the American troops under the most disagreeable conditions. Because the troops were scattered far and wide along the line of the trans-Siberian railroad, long "jumps" were necessary to bring cheer and creature comforts to the isolated units. All their traveling was done in box cars—usually unheated—and Secretary Murray returned with frost bitten hands and feet. Murray operated a box car K. C. "but" as far as Lake Baikal. Foy worked out from Spasokje his headquarters.

But the most appealing story of devotion in a land where the passions of men have driven them mad was that of Father Spannbauer, as told by his companions. This devoted priest was a Bohemian chaplain who accompanied the Austrian army—of which his compatriots were forced to become a part—immediately upon the declaration of war in 1914. In the first battle, he and his charges were captured by the Russians. And five years of his life were spent in Siberia.

Upon his arrival at the prison camp, Father Spannbauer found himself the only chaplain in a camp of 75,000 men, their sole source of spiritual comfort. There came a time when he was offered his release but he declined to quit his post.

"I could not leave these Catholics, as a priest," he explained simply. "They needed me, and I stayed."

B. C. SHUTS DOWN ON BOOZE "PATIENTS"

VICTORIA, B. C., May 14.—"Patients" in the habit of securing "sufficient" quantities of liquor upon the British Columbia "prescription" system, will find their source of supply largely curtailed under the amended prohibition act, passed by the legislature March 19, and to which royal assent, making it effective, was given in the assembly a few days ago.

Under the amended act, physicians may only prescribe eight ounces of government dispensed liquor instead of two quarts as heretofore. If more is deemed necessary, the physician must execute an affidavit that the liquor is for medicinal purposes only and that a thorough examination of the patient has been made. Liquor may be imported from without the province in accordance with federal statutes, but must be delivered to the home of the purchaser and may not be removed therefrom unless the owner is making a bona fide change of residence. Prices of government dispensed liquor have increased about 20 per cent since the first of the year.

The "man in the woods" has an advantage over his city brother. Being far removed from the source of supply, he may secure—through the prescription route—as much as two quarts. Anyone living more than five miles from a government dispensary or drug store may secure up to 16 ounces.

Extracts may in the future be secured in four ounce quantities only, and one must be a householder to secure essences, extracts or similar "kick" producers.

BALLOT TITLE IS AS FOLLOWS:
302 X Yes
303 No
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT—Referred to the people by the Legislative Assembly
LIMITATION OF FOUR PER CENT STATE INDEBTEDNESS FOR PERMANENT ROADS.—Purpose: To amend section 7 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of Oregon so as to permit the creation of indebtedness including previous debts and to limit for the purpose of liquidating and maintaining permanent roads to the amount of four per cent of the assessed valuation of all the property in the State of Oregon, issued of two per cent as now provided by law.

NO PROPERTY TAX—NO DIRECT TAX
NO INCREASE IN AUTO LICENSE FEES
NO INCREASE OF GASOLINE TAX

Keep these three facts in mind. The present auto license fees and gasoline tax will pay both the principal and interest on all the bonds under this amendment, and will yield an annual surplus besides for other state highway work. No additional taxation of any kind.

FEDERAL FUNDS MUST BE MATCHED

Oregon must have sufficient Highway Funds to match Federal apportionments or Oregon cannot get the benefit of Federal money for Oregon Roads. Increasing this constitutional limit is a necessity. Unless limit is increased, either state roads cannot be completed for many, many years, or must be financed by direct property taxation. This measure averts direct property tax for state highways and makes early completion possible. Let's get the roads built now.

Income from Present Sources Sufficient to Pay Principal and Interest.

The fact that revenues from auto license fees and gasoline tax, without increase of present rates, will be sufficient to pay both principal and interest on these bonds, is a very real fact. Figure in the State Pamphlet, mailed to every registered voter. Refer to State Pamphlet for verification. Examine the table carefully. It proves that no property tax is required and that present rates for auto license fees and gas tax will reduce principal and interest and yield surplus bonds.
