Letters From The People

TIBUTE TO EDUCATOR FROM OLD TIME FRIEND

One day in the summer of 1905 the writer was busy balancing the day's accounts at the bank while the school board of district No. 1 was holding a session in the same room. The board consisted of G. W. White, Will Worden and P. L. Fountain. They were considering that day the applications for principalship of our schools and the choice fell on a young man then in Ohio. He was notified to come on and in a few weeks the old dust covered Poge-gema stage brought among its passengers Prof. R. H. Dunbar and family to live among us. Each year for fifteen years since then he has been re-elected to his position as superintendent of our city schools.

Boys and girls who attended school that first year in the old wooden building on the Central site have since grown to manhood and womanhood and some of them have kiddies of their own in school here today. Our schools have grown from a village school with a half dozen teachers to a city system second to none in Oregon for efficiency and modern organization.

Hundreds and hundreds of boys and girls have received their common school education under Professor Dunbar's supervision and passed on to higher institutions of learning and out into life's activities. Who can estimate the tremendous influence on their lives by the work of this man who has all these years directed our daily school life? What of the lessons of patriotism, good citizenship and character formation? Our boys who honored Home and Native Land by service in the great war—who among them cannot look back to his school days where love of the old flag was instilled with each day's lessons?

How many Memorial Days have we all seen the school children in parade, each tot with a flag in hand, marching up the hill to the cemetery to honor our patriotic dead? True there were some thoughtless citizens who lightly ridiculed the straggling parade of those first years, but later lived to see its true value when the great testing time came. Little boys who carried a flag in those exercises grew to be the big boys who carried Old Glory to victory across the seas, and the lessons were not in vain.

This year will close Professor Dunbar's long service in our schools. It is his own wish to retire and enter business life in our city. Were he leaving us to reside elsewhere it would doubtless be a common impulse to honor him in some way. But as we are the more fortunate to have him still with us as an active factor in our city's life it is but human that we are prone to keep silent and withhold our commendation.

Too often we fail to express to our public servants our appreciation of what they have done for us. Professor Dunbar has given to our city fifteen of the best years of his life. We have paid him the salary stipulated but dollars alone can never repay, or measure, the value of such service. It is to express in a small way a measure of this appreciation felt so deeply by his many friends that this is written.

FAVORS CHINA ON SHANTUNG

SHANGHAI, April 19. (By Mail.) The British Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai, representing the bulk of British interests in the Far East, has put itself on record as in favor of China's claims in the Shantung controversy. This is in line with action taken by American commercial organizations in China and is regarded as significant in view of the fact that a part of the English commer-

MANY STUDENTS WORKING WAY

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, May 15.—Nearly one-half of the students in the University of Oregon earn from one-half to all of the expenses of their college education. Figures indicating this situation have just been compiled by the registrar's office. The exact percentage of those who earn every cent of their living expenses is 26, according to the registrar's office, and 16 per cent more make between 50 and 100 per cent of their way. These statistics, based on data given by every student in the University, bear out the preliminary figures indicated by the checking over of the first thousand.

Of the men, 38 per cent of the membership of all classes earn their own way entirely; 23 per cent more earn 25 per cent of their expenses, making 61 per cent the total of those who earn more than half of their expenses. Only 14 per cent reported earning from one-fourth to one-half and 25 per cent contribute less than one-quarter of the sum required.

One woman out of every nine enrolled in this university is entirely self-supporting. The percentage of these is 11. Nine per cent more earn from half to all of their expenses, making a total of one in every five women in the institution who earn more than one-half of the money required to put them through college. Twelve per cent more earn from one-fourth to one-half of their way. Sixty-eight per cent of the women earn less than 25 per cent of their expenses. Comparisons with former years are unavailable, since this is the first year that data have been kept by the registrar's office. However, it is the impression of faculty members that the percentage of self-support has been showing rapid growth.

The best showing of all, naturally, is made by the mature graduate students. Among the men, 56 per cent of these are entirely self-supporting, and none earns less than one-fourth of his expenses. Among the women graduate students, 47 per cent earn all their way. Next come the special students, of whom 60 per cent among the men and 36 per cent among the women earn their own way.

Of senior men, 53 per cent are self-supporting; 38 per cent of the junior men, 37 per cent of the sophomore men and 27 per cent of the first-year men require no help from home. Nineteen per cent, or almost one-fifth, of the entire number of women in the senior class are earning their own way. This is the best showing of any of the college years in this respect. In the first year 9 per cent, or one in eleven, earn every bit of their expenses; in the sophomore year there is a falling off, owing it is supposed to the fact that some of those who have the ambition to work their way find that they lack the physical strength to do so and either leave college or accept some help from home. The junior year sees an advance to 11 per cent. Of the freshman women 19 per cent, or approximately one in five, earn more than half of their expenses, and 31 per cent of the seniors, or almost one-third of the entire number.

cial enterprises in the Orient are linked with the Japanese.

"This chamber," declared A. W. Burkill, chairman of the British Chamber's directorate in his address at the annual meeting, "is in full sympathy with China in her very natural desire to have control of this province returned to her."

"When one takes into consideration that Japan in taking Tsingtao with the help of British troops, was only doing her part as an ally, her present attitude is hard to understand."

"She is taking deliberate steps to control the whole of the land surrounding the harbor, docks, wharves and railroad terminals, and every obstacle is put in the way of other nationals of acquiring any property in what undoubtedly is the business center. This policy can only be construed in one way, viz, that Japan is not going to allow any other nation to have an opportunity of trading on fair and equal terms with her own nationals. We, none of us want any special consideration; all we ask for is to be allowed to do business on an equal footing."

It is said that Mike O'Dowd, the middleweight champion, has cleaned up a barrel of money since he has been under the management of Paddy Mullins.

DO YOU WANT A MAN FOR PRESIDENT--

Who has always stood four square against graft and greed in every form?

Who stood alone against the most influential machine ever organized and saved America from a disastrous entanglement in "the" League of Nations?

Who is publicly on record for ANY NATIONAL LEAGUE, BASED ON EQUITY AND RIGHT, THAT WILL DECREASE WORLD ARMAMENT AND PROMOTE WORLD PEACE—but unequivocally against a league that would waste American lives and money in vain attempt to staunch incessant European brawls in which America can take no just part?

Who would be a bulwark—you know his California record—between the people of the Pacific Coast and Japanese invasion by "peaceful penetration" of the fruitful lands of the western coast?

Who advocates and has practiced throughout his political career a SQUARE DEAL for ALL CLASSES and conditions—MEN and WOMEN, RICH and POOR, CITIZEN and CORPORATION alike?

Whose platform filed with the secretary of state at Salem contains this sentence—WEIGH THIS WELL AND REMEMBER THAT HIRAM JOHNSON NEVER MADE A PLEDGE HE DIDN'T KEEP—

"I believe that this government belongs to ALL the people, not a favored few; that the farmer and the toiler have the same rights and the same privileges as the banker and the capitalist; that ALL classes are SUBJECT, and NONE are SUPERIOR to the law."

If you do want such a man for President you will

AD. EXPERT REVEALS SOME TRADE TRICKS

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15.—How he gets advertising results in export trade was graphically pictured here last night by J. G. Culbertson, president of the Wichita Motors Co., before a group session of the National Foreign Trade Convention in session here. He said:

"We have found that educational advertising to be effective, cannot be general. For example, the denizens of the deserts of Asia or Africa are not interested in motor equipment adapted for transporting logs or lumber. The wool growers on the Patagonian plains care nothing about the advantages of steel dump bodies for transporting sand and gravel, and the South African zulus are not at all concerned about motor street sprinklers and flushers."

"We have used three general methods of getting results, and these three are closely related: first, advertising in export trade publications; second, advertising through local trade publications and daily and weekly newspapers, published in the foreign country where the product is to be sold; third, advertising by direct appeal through personal letters, catalogues and our own house organs."

"Advertising through foreign trade publications and newspapers has been effective. This class of copy must be specific and accurate in its relation to local conditions and an intimate knowledge of the country is necessary. In all periodical advertising, we pay close attention to the proportion of copy. We pay particular attention to the compilation of export catalogues, circulars and folders."

"Back of this publicity, is a thoroughly organized export department, and at the head of this department is an officer of our company thoroughly trained in export merchandising. Advertising is a tool, and the results depend, in a large measure, on the skill of the user."

AT THE THEATERS

The famous cowboy star, Tom Mix, will make his debut in this city as an author and producer at the Liberty Theatre, where he will present his latest and greatest Western thriller, "The Daredevil," on Sunday. This photoplay promises to be something new, for Mix is giving the public his idea of what a fast moving, rapid-fire, sure-hit story of the West is, and how he believes real Westerners would interpret it.

As in all Tom Mix productions, many thrilling and hazardous deeds of daring are performed by the author-director and his supporting company.

Mix rides through water falls into the cave of the bandits, jumps from his horse to a train moving at the rate of thirty miles an hour, rescues his sweetheart by swinging her from the train to the back of his faithful horse, and introduces some novel rope-throwing features.

As usual, the star is superbly supported by a capable cast, which includes Eva Novak, Charles K. French, L. C. Shumway, Sid Jordan, Lucille Young and George Hernandez.

The Robins Dry Dock soccer players of Brooklyn offered 5 to 2 odds that the Ben Millers of St. Louis would defeat Fore River for the championship.

Battling Levinsky, the light heavyweight champion, seems to have caught the step in his recent bout and is going at his old-time clip.
