"If she'd go on through school—and finish high—why you'd buy her a piano." Yes, those are the very words.

Now make good, Mr. Father. Graduation time is here. A complete new line of pianos—better priced than at any time since pre-war days.

All the leading makes in uprights. Drop in and look them over some day this week.

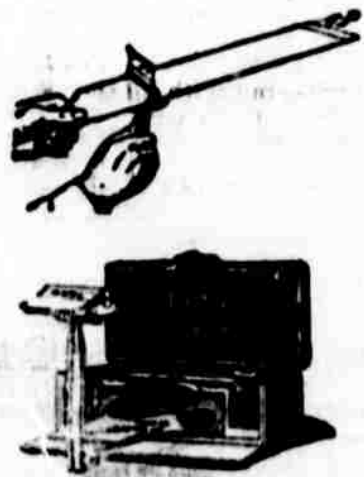

Then, when daughter comes home from the commencement exercises, we'll have it placed in the home for HER surprise.

We have a large shipment of late sheet music which she will enjoy and we also carry the Edison Diamond Disc which any girl would adore with some of our late dance records just received. We also have a complete line of Victor and Columbia phonographs and a big shipment of late records just in.

have made more liberal allowance for higher education.

Q. Who oversees the expenditures at the state institutions?

A. The university and the college each have a professional controller, who spends no money except by voucher. All vouchers are audited at the office of the secretary of state. The books are regularly inspected and are open to the public.

Q. What will the exact cost be to the taxpayer if this bill is passed?

A. The cost will be $1.24 to each thousand dollars of assessed valuation. Assessed values are commonly about one-third of the asked price, so that the taxes would amount to 42 cents on the actual value.

Q. To what extent is the state supporting this measure?

A. Hundreds of organizations, including a number in Klamath county, have endorsed it. Volunteer workers have gone out everywhere. Support for the measure appears to be very widespread.

Q. Is there any formal opposition?

A. One organization in Marion county adopted resolutions against it, and another organization refused to adopt resolutions for it. About 300 organizations have taken the other side.

Q. What will happen if the bill does not pass?

A. The two bigger schools will have to turn away probably about 2,000 students, and cease buying the equipment and apparatus that keeps higher educational institutions up to date.

POT POURRI

By LONE STAR

And so the curtain descends on Mr. Gillam or whatever his real name may be. The Los Angeles Bluebeard has been sentenced to life imprisonment, and by this time is in San Quentin. And so ends the career of a person who saw fit to violate the laws of God and man. Those who decide to take chances with these laws inevitably land up in a jack-pot similar to this one, if not worse.

But there is one touching thing in connection with the case of this man, Mrs. Elizabeth Williamson, one of his 29 or 30 wives went to the county hospital to see him and gave him a farewell kiss, a tube of tooth paste, a tooth brush and a dollar twenty. What use he will have for the dollar twenty we do not know. But that's aside from the question anyway. The beautiful and touching thing about this woman is that she thought enough of him, thing that he is, to go and bid him farewell and to kiss him.

We have for some time recognized that a woman's love is one of the greatest things in the world, but here is an example which exceeds by far any we have heard of for some time. Whether he be worthy or not does not enter into the question. The fact remains that this woman, whose life had been linked with this fellow still thought enough of him to kiss him good bye.

And now we read that Bluebeard is considering an offer of $1,000 to write what he calls his "Memoirs." Better leave them unwritten Bluebeard. The less we hear of that sort of stuff the better.

Incidentally there cannot be a great deal of remorse when this fellow is bargaining with a newspaper syndicate to rewrite all his escapades over again. Personally we would rather hush a thing of that sort up, if we happened to be the fellow.

We see by the papers that Bolshevism is spreading among the Jap soldiers. That's some combination.

Not long ago The Lone Star was aboard the U. S. Army Transport Sheridan returning from the Philippine Islands via Nagasaki. At Nagasaki the transport took on coal, as transports have a habit of doing, and Lone Star took upon himself to meander down to the ship's brig to see how the land lay in that direction. The prisoners were about 100, while working and shovelling coal while Lone Star was investigating the brig.

Among the prisoners were 6 or 7 gentlemen whom the tropical heat had affected, and who were down on the ship's roster as "nuts." To Lone Star's consternation a sentry came round, banged the brig door shut and went his way in peace leaving him locked up in the brig with that bunch of "nuts."

Immediately Lone Star made a bee line for the door and tried by repeated hammerings to attract the sentry's attention. But 'twas all to no avail. The harder he pounded the deader the sentry seemed to become. Suddenly the door opened, and Lone Star received a beautiful push in the face which sent him staggering against a stanchion, and the door closed once more, just in time however for Lone Star to hear a few of the sentry's remarks float thru the atmosphere. One of the remarks was to the effect that He had sure got it bad.

Of course we knew it was only a case of time till we were liberated and it did not worry us very much. But when the rest of the prisoners were turned in at noon and our efforts to talk sense to the sentry were of no avail, things began to take on a more serious nature.

The more we argued with those sentries that we were in there by mistake, the crazier they thought we were. Well to make a long story short we stayed there till the Jap customs officers came aboard to check up on the prisoners, and then they were one long. Finally the eye of the first officer lit upon Lone Star and everything was satisfactorily explained.

But we believe the next time your humble servant investigates an army transport brig he's going to take someone with him who can get him out just as easy as he got in.

Here is a little conversation that

For District Attorney WILLIAM MARX

GOTHAM SPENDS BILLION YEARLY FOR LUXURIES

NEW YORK, May 11.—Luxury buying in New York is now going on at the rate of $1,200,000,000 a year judged by the amount of luxury taxes—aggregating $10,500,000 a month—which are being collected by William H. Edwards, United States collector of internal revenue for Manhattan. In February, according to the collector, the government received from his office $2,000,000 more in luxury taxes than was paid in any previous month in the history of the department. The month of April probably will exceed them all. The receipts, he says, have been mounting higher and higher for six months.

"What some people call the 'orgy of spending' has not exhausted itself," said Mr. Edwards today, "but my men, in their talks with merchants and others who pay the great bulk of the taxes, have been told that the 'peak' of extravagance seems to have been reached and that a period of retrenchment is close at hand.

"We hear a lot about the income and excess profits tax which falls due in the spring of every year and about the hardships of meeting it but the fact is that the steepest tax, and one which is least felt by the public and of which we hear very little, is the luxury impost. The poorer chap who buys his girl an ice cream soda doesn't grumble at the penny or two tax any more than does the rich youth who presents his fiancée with a diamond tiara or a touring car. Neither misses it as the item is so small as compared with the expenditure.

"A king's ransom was spent for candy last December but the biggest revenue came from dealers in jewelry, furs and automobiles. The theaters showed that in January they did an unusually prosperous business. When persons start to economize they usually cut out amusements but in January, in the borough of Manhattan alone, $783,891.43 was paid in taxes. Multiply that by 10 and you will get some idea of how much Father Knickerbocker and his guests are paying to be entertained at just the theaters. There are no indications of any panic in these figures. The man who said: 'Always be a bull on the great U. S. A.' seems to be vindicated.

"An interesting thing about the luxury tax is that more revenue is being derived from ice cream sodas and other small sales which carry a penny or two of tax than there is from the sale of motor cars, diamonds and other luxuries. Druggists paid a large sum on expensive perfumes and cosmetics. Every manufacturer, producer or importer is required to make such returns as will clearly show each taxable transaction in the sale of certain goods and these are verified by revenue officers. Section 904 of the revenue act of 1915 provides that 'on and after May 1, 1919' the tax of 10 per cent shall be levied and collected on luxuries, including many kinds of expensive articles in daily use. In the sale of these articles the dealer acts as a collection agent for the government. Other taxes are paid in the form of stamps.

ELKS' CARNIVAL IS FULL OF "PEP" who knows the dread that horses have of fire.

There is a war museum on the lot that is well filled with exhibits from foreign battlefields, helmets, shells, guns, swords and uniforms and the exhibit is comprehensive enough to appeal to the scientist as well as the layman. One of the features of this tent is the gallery of battlefield pictures, affirmed to be entirely authentic, showing some of the German atrocities in cold-blooded actuality.

And there are other attractions for the visitor, besides the crowd and carnival spirit, the band, etc.—and the circus. The biggest feature of all in Trinkle's tent, with a crack band of eight or ten pieces and the blare and the glare, the sawdust and the acrobats. A real two-ring circus and a good one too, or the writer never saw a circus.

The concessions appear to be well regulated and there are plenty of them for the folks who like to take a chance with the tiger and lead themselves down with kewpies, teddy bears, pencils, pocket knives and all that.

Everybody was doing it last night and this afternoon and tonight, tomorrow night and every night and afternoon until the grand finale Saturday night the liveliest place in town will be "the lot" at the corner of Klamath and Seventh streets.

NEW DAIRY STORE IS OPENED HERE

A. M. Sutton and Allen Holcomb have opened a dairy store at 522 Main street, at Second. The place will be called the Holcomb Dairy Store.

The proprietors will handle all sorts of dairy products. They make their own ice cream and have a serving parlor on the premises persons who do not wish to enjoy the delicacy at their own family table.

Modern machinery has been installed for churning and cream whipping. Fresh butter is churned daily and whipped cream may be had at a few minutes' notice. For those who like buttermilk the fluid is tap at all times. Sweet milk and cottage cheese are also served.
