AGUINALDO IS STILL IDOL OF FILIPINO RACE

MANILA, April 26. (By Mail.)—General Emilio Aguinaldo, who fought for the independence of the Philippines and was captured by General Funston, still holds a strong place in the affections of the Filipino people. This was demonstrated when he left the hospital the other day to pay a visit to his farm at Kawit 50 miles from Manila.

Aguinaldo has been in the hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis but was permitted to go to his home to celebrate his 51st birthday.

Accompanied by his physician and a nurse, he made the 50-mile trip by automobile. Although his visit was not announced in advance, the news of his coming spread and the people of the villages along the way gathered at the roadside and the children threw flowers into his automobile. At one village the children waved American and Filipino flags and sang "Aguinaldo's March." At his home he was met by nearly all the villagers headed by a band and speakers gave him welcome. After spending the night at the farm he returned to the hospital.

Aguinaldo seems assured against want. Besides the pension of $6000 granted to him by the legislature he owns about 2,500 acres of Friar lands in Cavite province which he bought from the government, of which 300 acres are planted in rice and sugarcane, owns nearly 1,000 acres in the foot hills of Cavite, where he grows hemp; is vice-president of two large vegetable oil concerns and has a handsome residence in Manila.

When he was captured by General Funston in 1901 after leading his campaign for independence, he gave his promise to the Americans that he would not again take up arms and he has kept the promise. He declares, however, that, in his opinion, the time for granting independence to the Philippines has arrived and that the people of the islands are ready to maintain a stable government.

AT THE THEATERS

A mystery drama of daring originality with a gripping emotional theme is "The Open Door," an Art-class production released by Robertson-Cole.

The story is that of a man who assumed the responsibility for a crime of embezzlement and went to prison in order that his daughter might have the benefits of cultured environment and education.

When Henry Temple, alias Joe Moore, after serving fifteen years in Sing Sing, went back to claim his daughter who had been reared as the daughter of the man whose honor he had saved, he was confronted with the alternative of either staining his daughter's good name by revealing himself as her father, or sacrificing his paternal love and leaving her happy in her ignorance. Temple chose the latter, making the supreme sacrifice.

The mystery surrounding the murder of James Horton, whom Temple's daughter believes to be her father, provides dramatic suspense that continues through to the final denouement in which the girl's lover furnishes a chain of evidence that fixes the crime on the real murderer.

"The Open Door" is a picturization of the story by Garfield Thompson, directed by Dallas M. Fitzgerald under the supervision of George M. Merriek, and will be shown at the Liberty tonight.

Never in her brilliant screen career has lovely Leah Baird been called upon to perform half the death-defying feats that were required of her in "The Capitol," her vivid picturization of Augustus Thomas' celebrated stage success. In several of the scenes Miss Baird is shown literally going through fire and water. The peerless and fearless star has a miraculous escape from flames with a baby in her arms and later swims against the mad current in the Potomac falls to safety. This thriller of thrillers comes to the Liberty tomorrow.

THAT DULL ACHING

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of it! For weak kidneys, lame and aching backs, your neighbors recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Ask your neighbor. Read this statement:

Mrs. M. E. Sevits, 1001 Prospect St., Klamath Falls, says: "I was more or less subject to kidney disorder for some time. About six years ago I had quite a spell with my kidneys. I had a dull ache across the small of my back and could not stand on my feet very long at a time. My kidneys were in a very weak condition and the secretions passed too frequently. I was so nervous and restless at night that I would have to sit up for hours at a time. My feet and ankles swelled and I could hardly get my shoes on. I decided to use Doan's Kidney Pills and the first box gave me relief. About six boxes cured me entirely, and I have enjoyed splendid health ever since." (Statement given March 3, 1916).

On March 16, 1920, Mrs. Sevits said: "I never miss a chance to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever my kidneys trouble me and my back gets sore and lame a short use of Doan's are sure to give me prompt relief."
