CENSUS WILL CHANGE RANKS OF MANY CITIES

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The population rank of the cities will show a large number of changes when the statistics of the 1920 census have been completed.

Several cities have moved up into the 100,000-class in which there were 50 municipalities in 1910. Some of the cities of that class, whose 1920 populations have been announced, have outgrown others in the same class while some having less than 100,000 10 years ago have taken rank well up among the country's 50 largest cities.

Akron, O., has shown the most growth among the larger cities. It has passed eight cities having 100,000 or more in 1910, whose 1920 populations have been announced.

The rank of the various cities cannot be determined until statistics for all have been announced. New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, first, second and third cities of the country, will continue to rank in that order but the rank of other cities is uncertain.

Washington, D. C., passed Newark, N. J., Cincinnati and New Orleans. Newark, N. J., passed Cincinnati, Toledo, O., passed Louisville and St. Paul.

Dayton, O., passed Paterson, N. J. Bridgeport, Conn., passed Paterson, Nashville and Spokane.

Hartford, Conn., passed Paterson, Nashville, Albany, N. Y., and Spokane.

Youngstown, O., passed Nashville, Albany and Spokane and a number of cities of 80,000 or more in 1910.

Springfield, Mass., passed Nashville, Albany and Spokane and a number of 90,000 or more in 1910.

Camden, N. J., passed Albany and Spokane.

Nashville, Tenn., and Albany, N. Y., passed Spokane, Wash.

Cities of 100,000 or more population in 1920 which have been announced with their 1910 rank and 1920 population include:

AT THE THEATERS

The latest Paramount-face photograph "Stepping Out," which comes to the Star Theatre tonight, with Enid Bennett as the star is a story by C. Gardner Sullivan based on the universal inclination of men and women to sometimes step out of their sphere into one they believe more to be desired.

The outcome of the comedy drama might indicate that the writer had in mind when he gave the title to the story the old proverb "watch your step."

It concerns a little woman who finds her greatest happiness in consecrating her life to her husband, a husband who accepts her sacrifices as his rightful due and practically regards her as a servant in his house.

How these reverse dispositions are balanced and a happy companionship effected, is the mission of the picture. The picture was directed by Fred Niblo under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince. Niles Welch is Miss Bennett's leading man.

RATTLER SUICIDE

EUGENE, Ore., May 26.—A large rattlesnake recently captured near Coburg, a small town near this city, committed suicide after five days of captivity. The reptile was kept in a store window on exhibition and persons passing the window declare the snake coiled and then plunged its fangs into its own body.

CRAFT ON WHEELS ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Heralding the coming of the Macy & Baird tent show, which will pitch its tent on Klamath avenue June 1, on the lot now occupied by the Chautauqua, J. C. Macy, one of the troupers, attracted considerable attention on city thoroughfares this morning with an unique vehicle, an apparent cross between a Ford car and a whaling boat.

Persons whose curiosity was roused at sight of a water craft navigating the highways and byways now have the explanation. It's just Mr. Macy's clever idea of publicity and he says it attracts attention.

The show is now playing in Dunsmuir. The owners expect to stay in Klamath Falls for a month.

On Christmas day of next year will be celebrated the centenary of the birth of Clara Barton, famous Civil war nurse and first president of the American Red Cross.

The bridal veil is said to have originated in the ancient custom of performing the marriage ceremony under a square piece of cloth, held over the bridal couple to conceal the blushes of the bride. At the marriage of a widow, it was not used.
