

UPPER MARSH IS ALIVE WITH GRASSHOPPERS

Grasshoppers have made an appearance on the Upper Marsh at the mouth of the Williamson river in great numbers, said County Agent Thomas today, and unless they are controlled within the next week or 10 days the agricultural agent estimates they will do damage of between $20,000 and $30,000 to the hay and grass crops.

Mr. Thomas and George Offield of Merrill, who has pasturage in the vicinity, visited the marsh yesterday and found the "hoppers" hatching rapidly.

A meeting has been called for next Monday at the office of Superintendent West at the Klamath Agency to devise ways and means of control. Cattlemen of the vicinity, as far as seen, have promised their aid. Mr. Thomas urges every one interested to attend the meeting. Mr. West has been appealed to secure the co-operation of the Indian bureau. A thousand dollars spent now in spreading poison for the pests will save 20 or 30 times that sum in crops, says Mr. Thomas. The plague is more serious than it was last year in this vicinity, he says.

Today Mr. Thomas went to Malin to see how the warfare against the grasshoppers around Tule Lake is progressing. Work of extermination was started early this week in this section and is making fair progress, although not all ranchers realize the need of rapid action to kill the pests while they are still confined to their hatching grounds.

More arsenic and other materials for the poison mixture were ordered by telegraph and should arrive today or tomorrow.

SACRED HEART FINAL PROGRAM HELD TONIGHT

The closing exercises of the Academy of the Sacred Heart will be held this evening in the banquet room of the White Pelican hotel, and bids fair to be a notable one. While this is the second function of the kind held by this institution, it is really the first, as that of last year was intended to be but a purely perfunctory affair, though the program offered at that time was one that is still spoken of by those who were fortunate enough to be present. The program for this year is a splendid one and will be worthy of the large attendance that is sure to be there this evening.

One of the outstanding features of the affair will be the address by Rev. T. J. Brady, of Lakeview, recognized as one of the most eloquent and brilliant orators of the state. Following is the program:

FIRE ALARM TEST BETWEEN 2 AND 3 P. M. TOMORROW

The electrical apparatus that operates the fire alarm bell is out of order again and the system will be tested out tomorrow afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock.

Fire Chief Ambrose issues this announcement in order that the public may not be misled when the bell rings and think that a fire is in progress.

A test of the system was made several weeks ago but does not seem to have located the trouble.

Mrs. Carrie Porthius Smit, of Amsterdam, has been elected to the Dutch senate, the first woman to be so honored.

PROGRAM FOR MEMORIAL DAY IS PREPARED

Capt. O. C. Applegate, grand marshal, announced today that the program for the observance of Decoration day will be divided so as not to interfere with church services on that day and so as to eliminate for the children, ladies of the Women's Relief corps and elderly people the long march from the point of starting at the courthouse to the cemetery.

Then at 2:30 p. m. a division consisting of the Women's Relief corps, school children's brigade, Boy Scouts, veterans of all wars and all others wishing to participate, will form in front of the courthouse, march to the bridge on Link river where the relief corps will perform the prescribed honors to naval heroes who have lost their lives in defense of the country, and the return to the courthouse square where the patriotic exercises in the grove will take place.

Following is the program of exercises which may be subjected to slight changes, but is in the main complete:

ROBBER TAKEN; CASH RESTORED

Harold Hazen, who came here from California with the Foley & Burk carnival and was discharged here, was arrested last night charged with the theft of about $400 of Chautauqua cash and receipts from the ticket-taker's booth at the Chautauqua grounds. The money was found on Hazen, who admitted taking it. He said he was conscience stricken when he realized the gravity of his offense and that he was on his way to restore the money voluntarily when arrested.

Hazen's home, he says, is in Ferguson Falls, Minnesota. He claims to be 17 years old. He was discharged from the United States navy at San Diego, Cal., this spring and joined the carnival company as a means of getting back to his home in the east.

He helped the Chautauqua people pitch their tent when they opened here and has been staying around the grounds since. About 5 o'clock yesterday Miss Edith Koener, who has charge of the ticket office, concealed the money beneath a suitcase while she went to the playground to help direct the children's exercises. When she returned after a short absence the money was gone. The police and other peace officers were notified and on information of Miss Koener, Hazen was arrested by Constable Mowey on Main street near the Western Union office. He was taken into the office and gave up the money.

An attempt will be made, on account of his age and apparent lack of premeditation, to secure a parole.

The quality of fax grows in Oregon equals that of Belgium.

SHRINERS WILL GATHER JUNE 5 AT ASHLAND

All roads lead to Ashland on Saturday, June 5, that being the date for the "homecoming ceremonial" to be staged in that city by Hillah temple of the Knights of the Mystic Shrine.

Formal announcements have been mailed to all members and more than 50 Shriners from Klamath Falls are planning to participate.

A visit to Ashland at this season of the year, especially by automobile, is a delightful outing. Delightful scenery is to be found right on the threshold of the city and unsurpassed camping privileges are provided for the motorist.

From Ashland the parting of the ways will lead to the Imperial council's sessions at Portland later on, June 22-24. Hillah temple has contributed $500 to the entertainment fund of Al Kader temple, Portland, and the representation from its organization will be large from various sections of the state.

Deputy potentates for Hillah have been appointed for several counties, including George S. Calhoun, of Grants Pass, for Josephine; R. D. Williams, of Roseburg, for Douglas; Worth Harvey, of Cottage Grove, for Lane; Jackson F. Kimball, of Klamath Falls, for Klamath and Lake counties, who can supply petitions and afford general information relative to this approaching ceremonial.

TAYLOR'S BAND PLEASURES CROWD

Large enthusiastic audiences greeted Taylor's singing band at both the afternoon and evening concerts yesterday at Chautauqua. The crowd last night was well over the thousand mark again with the interest and enthusiasm for Chautauqua constantly growing and certainly the large crowds were more than satisfied with concerts given by High C. Taylor's all American band.

The personnel of the company composed of High C. Taylor, director and manager; Erroll W. Gwin, Herbert M. Foote, Ralph Madison, F. G. McMains, Willis Clover, D. S. Witham, Willington Yates and Rollo Slater. All of the young men possess good voices and are masters of their various band instruments—a rather unusual and difficult combination to find. Their program was characterized by plenty of life and snap. Their concerts called forth the best in the musical library as well as light popular airs and old-time favorites.

Mr. Taylor possesses a splendid operatic baritone voice. Especially must he be commended for his enunciated powers away beyond the average. The work of the drummer, Erroll W. Gwin, who also appeared to advantage in a group of tenor solos is worthy of special mention as is also the young cornet soloist, Willington Yates.

Taken all in all Taylor's singing band of all Americans is about the finest musical organization ever presented in Klamath Falls on Chautauqua—certainly it is a great improvement over the foreign bands that have formerly been on the programs. Tom Corwine, the polyphonist, thoroughly delighted his audience in his very clever and unique reproduction of sounds and imitations.

Tonight the outstanding feature of Chautauqua is the lecture by Capt. T. Dinsmore Upton of Grand Rapids, Mich., who lectures on the "Four Square Builder." Capt. Upton is a very forceful speaker and judging from press comments Chautauquians tonight have an unusual big program in store for them. Captain Upton is preceded by the J. Walter Wilson company, character impersonator and musical entertainer.

WEATHER REPORT

Oregon—Tonight and Saturday, probably showers in the west, fair to sunny.

DEVELOPMENT OF KLAMATH IS AIM OF CORPORATION

"Anything that looks good" from a business standpoint and for the development of the Klamath Basin, will be the business of the Oregon-California Development company, a corporation composed of a dozen local business men. Officers were elected and capital subscribed last night and by-laws are in process of preparation.

The articles of incorporation are of the "blanket" variety and cover every conceivable form of enterprise that the company have occasion to attempt.

The stock-holders are: A. M. Collier, E. W. Vannice, E. D. Johnson, J. F. Maguire, O. M. Hector, Chas. F. Maguire, John M. Moore, Leslie Rogers, M. S. West, A. J. Vove, Burge W. Mason and Charles J. Ferguson.

The directors are A. M. Collier, E. W. Vannice, J. F. Maguire, E. D. Johnson and M. S. West. The officers are J. F. Maguire, president; E. D. Johnson, vice-president; Charles J. Ferguson, secretary and A. M. Collier, treasurer.

The capital stock of the company is $10,000, fully subscribed. If more capital is needed the stock-holders are agreed that the original incorporators will have the opportunity to increase their pro rata subscription, but the capitalization is expected to be sufficient to make a start and as it is the purpose of the company to give everything a trial that will advance the development of Klamath county and not engage in any one business long it is believed that with fortune favoring their experiments that the fund on hand will cover many enterprises that will be taken up consecutively.

Among things discussed at last night's meeting was celery growing. If the company should go into this venture, for example, it would not be with the idea of making it a life-long investment. After it had proved to the satisfaction of everyone that Klamath celery is the best in the world and that celery growing here can be highly profitable, it would perhaps sell out to some concern—if lucky it might be at a profit—and turn the money into some other enterprise.

It may attack the housing problem, which presents a crying need for solution. It might back the establishment of a milk condensary and the development of the county's dairying industry and there are a dozen other avenues for development of the county's resources into which it may turn its capital in due time.

The organizers of the corporation are all young and active business men with their interests and fortunes bound up in Klamath county and upon the rapidity of the county's development depends largely their own personal success. Therefore their motives in starting the present project are not entirely philanthropic and still they are practicing practical philanthropy of an excellent kind.

It is not the aim or desire of the corporation to encroach upon the field of the chamber of commerce or any other organization. Their desire, as they express it, is to experiment with enterprises that, while they contain enough element of risk to deter an individual investor from placing all his available capital in them, are fundamentally feasible and if put through will blaze an immediate trail for scores of investors whose natural business caution deters them from straying from the beaten paths of business until the path has been broken by some more courageous promoter.

MT. LAKE TO KEEP MEMORIAL DAY

Memorial Day will be observed at Mt. Lake church Sunday, May 30, at 2:00 p. m. A short program will be given. R. C. Grosbeck will deliver the address, after which the graves at Mt. Lake cemetery will be decorated.
