YES, YOU LOVE THEM

We know that, and we know that you will love our flowers too. They are so exquisitely beautiful in form and color, they have such wonderful fragrance and daintiness, that they would win over the hardest heart. Our flower shop is a thing of beauty just now—come and see it.

LIFT OFF CORNS!

Apply few drops then lift sore, touchy corns off with fingers—No pain!

A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

AT THE THEATERS

The master mind of the world of crookdom was unquestionably The Shadow, leader of a New York band of super-felons. The one bright spot in The Shadow's evil life was Morn Light, a little musical comedy queen. To all intent she returned the love that the crook bestowed upon her—but her sham was all for a purpose.

She owed The Shadow nothing but vengeance for the death of her father. But he was repaid a hundred fold before he found death in the black waters of lower New York bay. The Shadow is one of the complicating factors in "Loot," the new Universal photodrama, which comes to the Liberty Theatre tonight. The picture was adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story by Arthur Somers Roche and features Ora Carraw and Darrell Foss.

He was a misfit Earl, but a perfect lover—and scrapper. Anyhow, you can expect a man fresh from the open plains of the great West to act like a Chesterfield when he finds a title thrust upon him. But you DO expect a red-blooded Westerner to be a perfect lover and a bear-cat of a scrapper. And Louis Bannison in "A Misfit Earl" certainly runs true to form. Don't miss this new Bannison gloom-chaser. Five reels of rough-riding romance and whirlwind fun. At the Liberty Saturday.

PUTTING 'PORT' IN PORTLAND ONCE AGAIN

PORTLAND, Ore., May 25.—Foreign and coastwise shipping out of Portland, demoralized during the war, is rapidly being restored and the port is reported to be well on its way toward realization of the gain that appeared inevitable as a result of the opening of the Panama canal route.

Before the war Portland had a tramp steamship service running about 120 steamers a year, besides a varying number of sailing craft, two Suez canal steamer services via the Orient, the Royal Mail Steam Packet company and the Hamburg-American, and occasional calls by three other lines operating through the Panama canal to European ports.

In the inter-coast service, Portland had the American-Hawaiian and occasional ships from other companies. In the coastwise service there were two strong passenger and freight lines operating between Portland and San Francisco, and three steam schooner lines handling freight.

The offshore lines, being controlled by belligerents, all disappeared during the war. The inter-coast service also was absolutely stopped.

Immediately after the close of hostilities, this community started upon an insistent campaign to restore its shipping. Today the port has the following connections:

Pacific Steamship company—Six vessels operating between Portland, Japan, Shanghai, Hongkong and Manila, giving a fortnightly service.

Columbia Pacific Shipping company—Five vessels just being put on the run to operate between Portland, Shanghai, Tsingtau, Tien-tsin and Dairen, to maintain a semi-monthly service.

Toyo Kisen Kaisha—A freight service to be inaugurated July 1, slightly better than monthly service at the commencement and to serve first, Japan only in the Orient, with promise of extension to north China ports if business warrants.

Java Pacific line—To inaugurate service about July with outbound loadings of approximately monthly intervals at commencement with promise of loadings both ways as soon as cargo develops.

On the European and Atlantic seaboard routes, six companies are now operating as follows:

Williams Dimond and company, a triangle service, Atlantic seaboard to the Pacific, including Portland, thence loading via Panama canal to Europe and returning to the Atlantic seaboard.

Isthmian line has just inaugurated service from Atlantic seaboard to Vancouver, B. C., then loading from the North Pacific to Europe and return to Atlantic seaboard. This provides better than monthly service.

Columbia Pacific Shipping company handling cargo from the Atlantic to the Pacific in connection with delivery of vessels on this side.

Pacific Mail Steamship company offering definite space for continuous cargo movement from Atlantic to Pacific with prospect of return service, and a survey is in progress as to the advantage of serving this port.

Luckenbach Steamship company handling cargo from Atlantic to Pacific and also conducting an inquiry as to the possibility of a fixed service based upon reciprocal cargo movement.

The Societe Generale d'Transports Maritimes a Vapeur has recently inaugurated a service between North Pacific ports, including Portland, and Mediterranean ports. The initial effort seems to insure a permanent steamship connection.

Four other services have been practically agreed to and the community, through regularly organized channels, is expected to be able to cover them if private agencies do not.

Applications have been made for two other services which have not been arranged and they may not be realized. Five of the services that are established are by shipping board allocated boats and a portion of the others that are planned will be through the use of such vessels.

The Japanese were not serving this port by any regular line business but only through occasional tramps. Their first entry with a fixed line in here will be with the advent of the T. K. K. about July 1.

Comparison of Japanese tonnage and American ships doing tramp business now shows the percentage is much higher with the Japanese vessels.

MOVIE OPERATORS

GET WAGE RISE

DENVER, Colo., May 25.—Cinema operators here under a new wage scale effected by I. A. T. S. E., now receive $1 an hour, work six hours a day. However they are on duty seven days a week, which totals 42 hours, and the new scale is $42.50. The old scale was $30 and $35; the higher rate was for the down town houses. Managers say the dispute was settled "amicably," though union men say a strike threatened to darken the film houses.
